PRESQUE ISLE SENSATION.

Suicide Said to Result from Other Crimes.

A terrible tragedy occurred at Presque Isle last week. It is the suicide of a prominent citizen. His death exposes what is supposed to have been a terrible tragedy, which has been a mystery. The suicide was Frank C. Thomas, who had a large farm and was in prosperous circumstances. The facts which led up to this tragic death had their origin several years ago and are substantially as follows:

Ten years ago Thomas married a Miss Class, a fine, intelligent, respectable young lady, then 19 years of age. Soon after their married life began, domestic troubles com-menced to multiply. Thomas became ugly and abusive, and his treatment was so inhuman that her mind gave way under the terrible strain, and she became insane. This was five years ago. She was taken to the Augusta Hospital, where she remained until last April.

When she was brought home last Friday there was a party for the young girl, 9 years Miss C. Bridges has returned home from the old, and Mrs. Thomas was teeling as well as U. S. Hub, and intends spending the summer with usual. That night, however, she was taken with convulsions and soon expired. She was buried Sunday. Certain circumstances connected with her death led her father and her brothers to enter a complaint of their suspicions, claiming she had been poisoned. County Attorney Lumbert was notified, and directed Drs. Boone, Upham and Sawyer to make an investigation. The remains were taken up Tuesday, the contents of the stomach removed and forwarded, under charge of Deputy Sheriff King, to Augusta, to State Chemist Robinson, for analysis. These proceedings has gone on so quietly that Thomas did not hear of them until the next night. He retired as usual, arose early, as was his custom, in the morning and started for the barn, carrying his gun with him. Two young men saw him and followed him, bat he sent them to the field on some pretext. He then deliberately sat down on a "jigger,' placed the muzzle to his head and pulled the trigger. The top of his head was blown off and he died instantly. Word was at once sent to the coroner at Fort Fairfield. It is supposed he poisoned his wife and from fear of detection took his own life. Six years ago Thomas was accused of incendiarism, but the charge could not be sustained. It was dropped. His father died last March under very similar conditions to those surrounding the death of his wife, and it, is now claimed that he killed him. The family here is now wiped out, except a little girl, 9 years old. Thomas was 45 years old and has several brothers in Pennsyvania. A Presque Isle doctor was in town on Monday. He stated that he did not think Thomas was guiity. Desperation had driven him to suicide. He did not think Thomas' wife died from poison, as she did not act like one under its influence. The unfortunate woman's stomach has been sent to Portland, Me., for analysis.

Judge King Appointed.

A further step was taken by Great Britain and the United States several days ago in the matter of the consideration of British claims against this country for seizures in previous years in Behring Sea. The treaty providing for a joint commission of two to adjust these claims provides, in addition to one representative on the part of each government, for a third commissioner in the event that the two original commissioners fail to agree. The British government selected Hon. George E. King, one of the justices of the Supreme Court of Canada. The United States commissioner is Judge William L. Putnam. The commissioners will meet at Victoria, B. C., probably not until next autumn.

Food for the Brain.

Fish is a great thing to build up the brain, and most of us can stand a little increase in brain power.

Jackson's Fish Market, near the bridge, is the place to go for fresh fish. Today they receive importations from the islands of fresh mackerel, cod and haddock. Salmon they have always on hand. The fish are kept in ice compartments, and cleaned by expert hands, and made ready for the cooking in a moment's time. Telephone your Comfort Range. Internally the Home Comfort is perfect and unique. It is lined with articles being cooked and preventing the radiation of heat from the Range. All the linings are in adjustable sections which can be easily and rapidly fitted. The other adjuncts of the Home Comfort are in complete accord with perfection. Such as hot-air closets, simplicity in cleaning and dumping the ashes and many other noticable improvements over other ranges. An important feature in the business of the Wrought Iron Range Company is that they do not sell to the trade at all, but deliver the home Comfort from their own wagons and by their own authorized salesmen direct to the householder, thus having no dealings with outsiders. The superiority of the Home Comfort Range over all others must not be forgotten in the fact that in the World's Columbian exposition they received six highest rewords; at New Orleans, four gold medals, and at the Midwinter Fair, San Francisco, six gold medals. These facts are standing irrefutable proof of the unsurpassed qualities of the Wrought Iron Range Company's Home Comfort Ranges and we ask for them a careful inspection when and wherever shown.-Review.

SUDDEN DEATH.

An Ex-Governor of Massachusetts Dies While Sleeping.

A sad occurrence in the course of the past week was the death of Mr. Russell ex-governor of the State of Massachusetts. A dispatch from Quebec dated the 16th inst reads:

William Eustis Russell, former Governor of Massachusetts, was found dead in his bed this morning at the fishing camp of B. F. Dutton, a Boston merchant, near St. Adelaide, Pabos, Province of Quebec.

Worn out with the fatigues and excitement of the Chicago Convention, he, with Col. H. E. Russell, his brother, and Gen. Francis Peabody, jr., went to the far northern wilder-ness to recuperate. But the strain had been too severe, even for a rugged physique like that of Mr. Russell.

Although unsuspected before, there was an organic weakness of the heart, and that overtaxed organ refused to perform its functions.

Mr. Dutton's camp was five miles up the Grand Pabos River, on a tributary stream. There the tents were pitched in as remote and primitive a region as is to be found on the American continent.

The party broke camp and before sundown, with the body, they started for Boston. They came via the Intercolonial to St. John, where they were met by the mayor and other in-fluential citizens. The body laid that evening in the Unitarian church, and was taken the following morning to Boston.

The dead man was under 40 years of age, and regarded as the most promising democratic statesman in New England. His death is generally lamented.
