LOST.—A Seal Ring either on the train between Woodstock and Peel tank, or between the Peel ferry and the residence of the late Geo. F. Foster, on Friday last. The finder will be liberally rewarded in excess of the intrinsic value of the ring, by returning it to the U. S. Consul, Woodstock.

THE bottom seems to have dropped completely out of the Boston lumber market. The general stagnation and paralysis of Democratic times has much to do with it by curtailing demand. Another cause of trouble is the cheap provincial lumber with which the market is flooded.—Presque Isle Star Herald.

THERE was an alarm of fire early on Saturday morning, and the reflection looked so bright that people thought the town was in danger. It was only a old barn on south side of the bridge, where there are many models of last century's architecture, preserved with great care for the admiration of coming generations.

THE Woodstock & Centreville railway company are spending a few hundred dollars a month in completing the survey. The location has been finished as far as the boundary line beyond Centreville. thoroughly appreciated by the farmers than the merchants some of whom have half a ton or more of paris green on their hands.

There will be a restaurant in this building and every one knows what a restaurant run by Colin Campbell means. The best of meals and everyone satisfied. Woodstock will do a good deal of the transient feeding in the near future.

FAKIRS.—The young man who worked the parlor ten pins racket at Bristol on the 10th and 11th, distinguished himself at the Ride-out picnic last Wednesday. George Green, Summerfield, commenced to lose the game and got $75 into it, when the fakir skipped out. He is the man who sells a machine for threading needles, a youngish man with a light brown moustache. Mr Green is after his gore.

The firemen are willing to take the celebration in hand, provided the citizens will subscribe enough to see the affair through. A paper is now going the rounds and being satisfactorily signed. KIRMESS.—August 5th will be a memorable one to Houlton, for on the evening of that day Miss Hudson's Kirmess, Carnival, Midsummer Musicals, Promenade Concert, will burst in all its glory upon the town. Many of those who saw the results of Miss Hudson's genius in Woodstock will undoubtedly make every effort to get to Houlton on the evening of the 5th. Mrs. A. A. Brewer is assisting Miss Hudson, and a soloist from Boston will add to the attraction. It would be a piece of unpardonable folly for one to miss this treat.

THE Presbyterian C. E. of Woodstock spent last Thursday at Nickerson's Lake, the guests of the Houlton Endeavour. Between 30 and 40 ladies and gentlemen drove over and put in a very pleasant day. The Houlton people had made ample provision for the comfort and pleasure of their guests and exerted themselves to the end that the day should be an enjoyable one. They succeeded abundantly. Rev. Kenneth McKay and his wife and family were more than active in their efforts to give their friends from Woodstock a good time.

A CORRESPONDENT from Boundary Line, Me., writes this way to the Ft. Fairfield Leader: A large portion of the Boundary Line road has been put in first-class condition this week, thanks to about a dozen of our bluenose cousins. This highway has been neglected several years, our labor and money being paid out to other districts. Being short-handed, we cannot speak too highly of our neighbors beyond the border, who volunteered and ably assisted us to repair it, several putting in the best part of two days. Mr. Patterson, our road surveyor, thanked them in behalf of the town.

THE Grecian Art Tableau Co., that gave three entertainments in the Opera House just now, under the auspices of the Utopia Club, was a good thing and the club deserves the thanks of every lover of a refined entertainment for bringing the company here. Their performances were made up of tableaux, readings, vocal music and violin solos. Each feature of the programmes was received with enthusiastic applause by the audience. The members of the company were as conscientious in their work as if they had had good houses before them, and beside executing every feature of their programmes they responded cheerfully to every encore. The contralto soloist was called out two or three times on Saturday evening. It is unfortunate that a company putting up such a good and wholesome performance should not have better houses in Woodstock. It must be discouraging to the Utopia Club, the members of which seem so desirous of introducing high class companies to the town.

BOARD OF TRADE.

and hold up to the light the dealing of these people.

Mr. Fisher said that his main objection to these traders was the unfair way in which they did business, taking notes and promising to extend the time.

Mr. W. W. Hay thought these peddlers were no new thing at all. Just now it happens to be stoves, other years it was dry goods, clocks or something else. He could not see why the Board of Trade of Woodstock should be the guardians of the farmers throughout the county. He did not object to a man selling anything in his own line, provided the price was kept up. These people certainly asked a good, fair price for the stoves. Their means of selling may be peculiar, but that is a matter between them and the buyer over which we have no control. The Board could not place themselves the custodians over the pockets of the people of the country. About every paper has the names of eight or ten of our best farmers declaring that these stoves are good. He had been charged with being a free trader. It seem that several free traders wanted to have high protection. He did not see how the Board could do anything.

Mr. Myles took issue with Mr. Hay. The Board existed to right grievances. Mr. Fisher's data being correct, the burden of proof being on him, this was a matter which fairly should come before the Board.

Mr. C. R. Watson had read one of the contracts given out by these range men. It seemed to him that anyone must be very green not to see what the agreement was. It said that no bargain made with the agents had anything at all to do with the note signed. It seemed to him that Mr. Fisher, himself, was the man to fight these peddlers.

The Board then took up the question of exemptions from taxation. The debate was led by H. P. Baird who contended that manufacturers being a necessity for a community, in certain cases, it was in the interest of the town to exempt them from taxation.

Mr. W. W. Hay opposed the proposition claiming that it put the burden of taxation on shoulders least able to bear it.

Mr. Henderson saw something on both sides.

Mr. Wm. Dibblee was opposed to the Board making any recommendation to the town council, favoring a general rule of exemption.

As it was late, Mr. J. T. A. Dibblee M. P. moved that the further discussion be adjourned until next meeting of the Board. This was agreed to, and the Board then adjourned.

NARROW ESCAPE.—There came very near being a disastrous accident on one of the ferries, opposite Middle Simonds on Friday last. A great number of people went up to attend Mr. Foster's funeral. One contingent got over all right on the ferry, but just as the boat was starting with another load, it sank. Fortunately the water was only a few inches deep, as it was near shore. Had the affair happened mid-river many lives must have been lost.

Appalled at the Prospect.—Druggist: "Bad to take! Not at all. It has a very agreeable taste. The children, sir, will cry for it." Customer (father of nine), hastily: "Then give me some other preparation, please"

NOBLE & TRAFTON,
63 Main Street.Preaching and Practice!

It is much easier for the average dealer to "preach" low prices than it is to "practice" good goods. We make a speciality of quality, you take one of our mens suits and you'll find just as much quality crowded into every suit as it is possible to get in for the money. In most cases profit is crowded in and quality crowded out, especially where you see the special sale flag out. Don't get into your head, that we are high priced simply because we believe in "quality". Our $5 suits have quality as well as our $12 or $14.50 grades. We have both kinds and all prices between. We practice quality, give you fits and YOUR MONEY BACK IF YOU WANT IT.

Tit For Tat Suits!

This is a world of give and take. It is an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth all the way through. One can get just so much honest worth for a dollar, and no more. When you expect to get two dollars for one—lookout—you may get an eye for an eye especially in clothing. We don't claim our suits are worth a cent more than we ask for them. But we do claim that you'll get honest values for honest money. We know we have to hear of better goods for the same money anywhere. Take a Child's suit all sizes as from 22 to 28. When it comes to your money and our clothing you get "tit for tat" in value every time, or YOUR MONEY BACK.
