Yarns.

This notice is intended especially for Farmers. Those who have yarn made to order by us have been exceedingly well pleased, and 'tis a very frequent expression, "We will spin no more at home." Think of one machine spinning as much as one hundred women. We don't wonder farmers' wives are tired of it, besides it will cost very much more to do it at home than than it will cost at the mill.

Send along your wool soon as it is dry and your orders. We can make any size for you. Be sure and send samples of sizes. By sending your wool and orders early you will be able to have your yarn at hand more promptly, for all along the summer months we are rushed with this work.

We make single for you for 15c. and double for 18c. per lb.

Information cheerfully given.
When writing mention this paper.

may not be so full as he wishes, but if he is wise he will neglect his coffers awhile and attend to that cough. A slight cough is somewhat like the small pebble on the mountain side. It appears utterly insignificant, until a mouse, perhaps, starts it rolling, and the pebble begets an avalanche that buries a town. Fatal diseases begin with "a slight cough." But any cough, taken in time, can be cured by the use of A Carleton County Enterprise.

At Moss Glen Farm, Lower Woodstock, there is being conducted an important enterprise about which little has been said, and, apart from those directly interested, little known. Mr. A. Wilmot Hay is very well known for the interest he has long taken in the raising of pure bred horses, at Moss Glen; but here Mr. Hay is also the chief and manager of what is styled the "Meductic Meat Co.," the business of which is the preparing and packing of salted beef. The present is the fourth season of the existence of this industry, the operation of which is being extended each season. This season 200 head of cattle have been slaughtered and their meat packed; this represents 300 barrels of beef, the concern has agencies at St. John, St. Stephen and Chatham, through which the product is in wide demand in the provinces and Newfoundland. The beef is put up in barrels, half barrels and 20 lb. pails, the latter being boneless and sugar cured. Mr. Hay informs us that he has no difficulty in getting cattle, which, if not fit for immediate slaughter, he stall feeds till ready. He has at present 60 head of cattle being fattened. The present value of the business is about $3000 per year. We are told that the beef here prepared, if not fat, is juicier and better flavored than western beef.

The present intention is to extend the business, which is an important one, especially of interest to the cattle raisers in this district.

It may be mentioned that the refuse of the beef cattle is fed to hogs, of which a number is constantly kept.—Co-operative Farmer.

A Dandy Windmill, Make it Yourself

I have a neighbour that made one of the People's Windmills, and I have been watching it closely; it is the best mill I ever seen and anyone can make one for less than $10. I am going to make two immediately and don't see why every farmer cannot have a windmill when he can make it himself for so little money. The mill is durable, powerful and runs easily. Any person can get diagrams and complete directions by sending 18 two-cent stamps to Francis Casey, St. Louis, Mo., and any active man can make money anywhere putting these mills up for others, and I see no use of paying $50 or $60 for a mill when you can make one just as good for $10. A BROTHER FARMER.

Forestry.

The Provincial Government of Ontario is taking an intelligent interest in preserving and developing the Provincial forests, which may possibly become the source of enormous wealth in the future. Mr. Phillips Thompson, of Toronto, in the Canadian Magazine of this month, has a lengthy article on the subject of Canadian Forestry and justly complaints that Canadians not only do not take any interest in the subject of forest preservation, but actually treat the subject with indifference and neglect. Mr. Thompson is of opinion that our timber resources are practically inexhaustible if due care is taken of them, but that the present system is so wasteful and imprudent that the period of exhaustion can not be far distant. In his report for 1893, Prof. B. E. Fernon, of Washington, chief of the U. S. division of Forestry, estimates that it would require fully the annual growth of 400,000,000 acres of fully-stocked forest to furnish the output of mill timber now consumed.

Mr. Johnson, the Dominion Statistician in his report for '95, says that the first quantity of pine has already disappeared, and that we are within measurable distance of the time when with the exception of spruce as to wood, and British Columbia as to Provinces, Canada shall cease to be a wood exporting country.

These two passages from the reports of such reliable authorities as the Dominion and the United States officials, are dwelt upon by Mr. Thompson in his article and the necessity is pointed out of strong and vigorous measures being adopted for the protection of our forests. It is only within the last few years that this subject of forest protection has come under consideration and it is but just to admit that our Provincial Government has recognized the necessities of the case, is carefully studying the subject, and has already taken preliminary steps for forest preservation.

The election of Mr. McKinley, as President of the adjoining Republic, will unquestionably cause a renewal of business activity, and it may be reasonably expected that among the first results of an improvement in business will be an increase in building operations and a consequent demand for timber, lumber and shingles. This will at once affect Ontario.

Already there is a feeling among our lumbermen that a lumber boom is not far distant, and although the stocks on hand are extremely large the disposition is to hold rather than to sell at present prices. The demand for beech and maple flooring, within the past week has developed in a most remarkable manner and all kinds of forest produce is regarded by dealers as certain to be in request during the coming winter. The only article which will be in diminished demand in the country north of this village is cord wood for fuel, coal being more generally used. But, speaking in general terms, the prospects are decidedly favorable for a marked revival in lumber operations, and this will have a most beneficial influence in our northern territory. The general feeling is that "there's a good time coming."—Ex.

Misunderstood the Judge.

To get a joke into some people's heads requires a surgical operation. The other day, at the trial of a case, the parties to which were a nobleman of advanced years and his young wife, the judge remarked that this was another instance of the evil effects of "marriages contracted between May and December." Shortly afterwards the learned judge received a letter from the secretary of a certain statistical society, intimating that that body would be much obliged if he would favor them with an account of the facts from which he had derived the singular rule enunciated by him as to the infelicity of marriages solemnized during certain months of the year, and adding that some of the members wished to utilize the information which might be thus afforded them in the shape of a paper to be read before the society, with a view to public discussion. The judge has had the letter framed.

The New Hook Spoon Free to All.

I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A., St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated hook spoon to anyone sending her ten 2-cent stamps. I sent for one and found it is useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $13.00 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. The hook spoon is a household necessity. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is something that housekeepers have needed ever since spoons were first invented. Anyone can get a sample spoon by sending ten 2-cent stamps to Miss Fritz. This is a splendid way to make money around home. Very truly, JEANNETTE S.

"I presume you gave the prisoner some occasion to strike you?" "Why, your Honor, we were talking about the coinage, and he made some statement that caused me to remark that he had been misled and was arguing from the wrong premises, and then he struck me." "Is that what he said to you, prisoner?" "Yes; that was the substance of it, your Honor, but not the language. What he said was that I didn't know enough to pound sand in a rat hole, and was talking through my hat like a jackass full of thistles and bull-nettes."

A Child Cured of Eczema by Chase's Ointment.

"My six-year old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised the use of Chase's Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured. (Signed) MAXWELL JOHNSTON, 112 Anne St., Toronto.

A Lie.

First somebody told it.
Then the room wouldn't hold it,
So the busy tongues rolled
Till they got it outside;
Then the crowd came across it,
And never once lost it,
But tossed it and tossed it,
Till it grew long and wide.

THE MUSINGS OF THE IMP.

Ian Maclaren is very much quoted and his work "The Bonnie Brier Bush" has a deservedly popular reputation. Another work is being published serially, "Kate Carnegie." In this latter story the author makes a good hit at the Scotch. He says that there is nothing a good Scotchman enjoys so much as a eulogy of John Knox on Sunday, and of Bobbie Burns during the remainder of the week. There is gentle irony in this statement. John Knox represented the Scotch Sunday, somewhat austere, solemn, melancholy. Bobbie Burns on Monday comes as a needed relief. But Bobbie would never do for a Sunday example. He had too many "failings" and was too considerate of the failings of others. They were both representative Scotchmen, but Knox and Burns would be a peculiar sort of a partnership, and one which would hardly last, if these two national characters were above the sod today.

If there is one blooming sinner on this terrestrial sphere who admires himself it is the sporting editor of this great leader of public opinion. I picked up a book of his this morning and on the fly leaf I read, "Presented to the Sporting Editor of THE DISPATCH, by himself, as a mark of esteem." He evidently believes with the prophet who wrote "If a man bloweth not his own horn, verily the same shall not be blown." He is constantly expecting a letter from Mr. Aberdeen asking him to take the Lieutenant Governorship of the province. He understands now that he was not asked to take a portfolio in the new government because Mr. Aberdeen knew him to be a gentleman of leisure, unused to toil, and he was being saved for the governorship which is a soft snap. If by any chance he doesn't get this appointment he will be sure that Aberdeen has been talking it over with the Queen and that it has been decided that when Aberdeen's term has expired he shall be knighted and made Governor General. How poor are they that have not self esteem. The sporting editor never doubts himself. His faith in himself would subdue kingdoms, if they were not too large.

There is a paper published in Ontario, known as the Bobcageon Independent, or more properly as the "Bob. Ind." Its name is suitable, for it seems a thoroughly independent sheet. In its last issue, the Bob. Ind. has this to say of the Spanish enthusiasm over the war with Cuba:—"We are told that a burst of Patriotism has broken out over Spain, and that women are selling their jewellery and Bishops disposing of the gold and silver plate of the church, to subscribe to the War Loan. This is Patriotism. Bishops claiming to be the true and only apostolic successors of the loving Nazarene, contributing to the slaughter of defenceless women and children. May Good Providence have mercy on those Bishops' souls. Women contributing to a fund for letting loose the demon elements of unbridled, barbarous ferocity. This is Patriotism! It is not common humanity, neither is it christianity. But it is Patriotism!"

Marry This Girl, Somebody.

I have been reading in your paper about several men and women that have been very successful selling self-heating flat irons, and I concluded I would see what a girl could do. I have worked 12 days and have sold 151 irons and have 218 dollars left after paying all expenses. Everybody is delighted with the iron and I sell one almost every place I show it, as people think they can't afford to be without one as they save so much fuel and don't burn the clothes. I know I can clear five thousand dollars in a year. How is that for a girl?

A GRADUATE.
Splendid, my girl, splendid, you are a true American girl. Anyone can get complete information about the self-heating iron by addressing J. F. CASLEY & CO., St. Louis, Mo. It seems to me to be a winner, as everybody selling it writes in its praise.

"Draw it mild," as the boy with the decayed tooth said to the dentist. "I shan't come out to-night" as the moon said to the thunder-storm. "After you," as the tin kettle said to the dog's tail. "I'm down upon you," as the young beard said to the skin.

Cured of Chronic Catarrh.

A Remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison, Gilford, spent between $200 and $300 in consulting doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatments but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies. In fact I consider myself cured, and with a 55 cent box at that
