A Good Woman's Advantage of Marrying a Poor Man.

"I have been young and now I am old," said one of the charming middle aged woman of the period, whose looks belie the baptismal register, and who rather enjoy arrogating to themselves the wisdom and experience of age. "And I have reached that period of life," she continued, "when I can look back and see results and note how seldom those are born with silver spoons in their mouths, as the saying is, have the silver fork when they are grown up. When I look back and remember who were the jeunesse doree of my youth-the men whose lives and positions above all others seemed particularly enviable and desirable—and then look about me and see how few of those who were called men of pleasure in those days have attained an honorable and useful middle age, I feel that I can preach a sermon to my boys and their friends with object lessons that ought to make it very impressive. Some are poor, having spent health and substance, like the prodigal, in riotous living. Even those who have apparently not suffered in purse or health are discontented, blase, weary worldings, who go over the same treadmill of fashionable existence year by year without pleasure or profit.

Another thing I have noticed from my vantage ground of a life-long experience is that, if only as a purely worldly maxim, honesty certainly is the best policy. Many a brilliant man I have seen who has destroyed his prospects by the crooked ways in which he sought to better himself financially, politically, and even socially, whereas if he had walked honorably before all men he would have gained the world's good opinion, and in many instances the very things he coveted. And finally there are the young married couples of my youth. In nine cases out of ten, those of my friends who married poor young men, and who gave up the luxuries of their homes to prove veritable helpmates to the the young men of their choice, are now almost without exception prosperous and in many cases wealthy, while those men and girls, who married for money, are, as a rule, greatly in want of it. 'Be good and you will be happy' is the old maxim, and certainly it seems true from a materialistic as well as from a religious point of view."-Boston Transcript.

How a Woman Paid Her Debts.

A lady in Lexington says: "I am out of debt: and thanks to the Dishwasher business. In the past six weeks I have made $530.00. Every house keeper wants a Dishwasher, and any intelligent person can sell them with big profit to himself. The Dishwasher is lovely, you can wash and dry the family dishes in two minutes, and without wetting your hands. You can get particulars by addressing, The Mound City Dishwasher Co., St., Louis, Mo. There is big money in the business for an agent. I expect to clear $4,000 the coming year. I need the money, why not make it. Miss C. E.

How to Form a Solid Road Bed.

In making a road the grading and draining should be carried on during the same season, first the draining, then the grading. A road which is graded only, and then subjected to the traffic of fall and spring before draining is undertaken, is generally a shapeless mass by the ensuing summer, and a large amount of grading must necessarily be repeated. A road should also be drained and brought to the grade which it is to retain permanently before the road metal (grapel or crushed stone) is placed upon it.

Metal placed on an undrained roadway is so mixed with mud in the spring and fall as to be almost wasted. The natural soil under the gravel must be sufficiently firm to sustain not only the gravel but the weight of traffic upon the gravel. No soil will do this unless it is sufficiently drained.

The roadway must be crowded, or rounded up towards the centre, to shed the water from the surface; the surface must be kept smooth and free from track, and it is as much the duty of gravel or crushed stone placed on a road to form a smooth, hard surface that will permit the water to flow readily off from it. as it is to form a durable covering to resist the wear of wheels.

The centre of the road should be excavated o receive the gravel or crushed stone. Where this care caunot be taken the metal may be placed on the centre and the sides graded up. The crown of the road should be obtained chiefly by rounding up the natural soil, but the metal should be several inches deeper in the centre than at the sides. On country roads a crown of one inch rise to one foot of width from the side to the centre is generally sufficient; on hills it may be greater so as to prevent the water following the wheel tracks and deepening them to ruts.

The width of a railway to be metalled depends upon the amount of traffic it will be required to accommodate. Eight feet will be ample for the majority of roads in rural districts. Roads forming the approach to towns may sometimes be metalled to a width of sixteen feet. The depth of metalling need never exceed after consolidation twelve inches, if of a good quality and clean, and eight inches is the least which should ever be eight inches is the least which should ever be n to enter" and of which those interested will employed, the thickness varying with the amount of traffic. It should be placed on in layers, and each layer thoroughly rolled, the sub-soil having first been well consolidated. After the work of forming the road-bed September

ASTHMA FOR YEARS.

"I have suffered very severely from asthma for over twenty-five years," says R. G. Moore, of Hamilton. "If I ventured away from home tacks that I was afraid I would suffocate at my old enemy attacked me with great severity. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own As soon as I got to Paris I went to Armitage's drug store and bought a bottle. It relieved my Asthma, and although I have been away from home several times since, I experienced no more trouble. I regard my quarter as well spent, and intend to send some more after it."

A PREVENTATIVE OF COLDS.

"I have been a chronic sufferer from severe colds for a long time," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for severe throat trouble," writes Mrs. Hopkins, of 254 Bathurst street, Toronto. "It proved most effective. I regard it as one of the best household remedies there is. It is easy and pleasant to take and drives out the cold with surprising celerity." "Usually at this season of the year I did not

A CROUPY COUGH.

"My little boy had a bad croupy cough," says Mrs. Smith, of 256 Bathurst street, Toronto. "My neighbor, Mrs, Hopkins, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. I did so, and the first dose did him good. One bottle completely cured the cold. It is surprising the popularity of Chase's Syrup. It appears to me it can now be found in every house."

building of good roads. Water in 'spring' places on a road-bed should be conducted by drains from the centre of the road diagonally to the side under-drains. Springy places on a hillside embankment should also be tapped by a blind drain and the water led quickly to the tile drains.

That Wonderful Churn.

I want to add my testimony to the list of those that have used the Lightning Churn. It does all that is claimed for it; you can churn easily in one minute and get a large percentage more butter than with the common churns. I never took the agency for anything before, but so many of my neighbors wanted churns that I ordered 30 and they are all gone. I think in a year every farmer will have a Lightning Churn, in fact they can't afford to be without one as they make so much more butter and a good little bit of money can be made in every township selling these churns. By writing butter and a good little bit of money can be made in every township selling these churns. By writing to J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., you can get circulars and full particulars about the churn. A READER.
