93 YEARS OLD.—A very old resident of this county passed away on the 30th ult, in the person of Mr. Dennis McCafferty, who had attained the extraordinary age of 93 years. Nearly 70 years ago he came to this country from the north of Ireland and at the time of his death resided in St. Thomas. His remains were buried in the Williamstown cemetery, Rev. Father Bradley officiating. Two daughters and one grandson survive the deceased.

WHILE there are many complaints that the hay crop is away below the average, and there is talk in some sections of it not being one quarter of a crop, in other parts it is coming up pretty well. While not up to its usual standard, the crop on the farms along the river, below town, promises better than it did a few weeks ago. Haying will commence in earnest about the first of the week. Oats are looking pretty well, and barley promises something fine.

was conducted for a week by Rev. Fathers O'Brien and Devine was closed on Sunday evening last. In spite of the exceptional heat, the church was filled with a large congregation at the last service. Father O'Brien has been spoken of as one of the finest speakers who ever addressed a public gathering in this town. His sermons were of such a kind that there was nothing objectionable to a person of any denomination. Father Devine is rather an instructor than an orator. As a result of the mission there has been great increase in the number of the communicants at St. Gertrudes.

THE garden party conducted by the ladies of the parish church on Mr. Jarvis Bedell's grounds last Wednesday, was in every respect a success, and a most enjoyable affair altogether. The day was all that could be desired, and the situation for the party one of the most beautiful imaginable. A Union Jack floated from a pole at the entrance near the road. Near by the tea tables were set with all manner of tempting viands, while down near the river the fancy and refreshment tents had place. There was a large attendance from the neighboring vicinity and from town, and all seemed to enjoy themselves. Upwards of $100 was cleared, which will be devoted towards the improvement of the interior of the church.
