Yarns.

This notice is intended especially for Farmers. Those who have yarn made to order by us have been exceedingly well pleased, and 'tis a very frequent expression, "We will spin no more at home." Think of one machine spinning as much as one hundred women. We don't wonder farmers' wives are tired of it, besides it will cost very much more to do it at home than than it will cost at the mill.

Send along your wool soon as it is dry and your orders. We can make any size for you. Be sure and send samples of sizes. By sending your wool and orders early you will be able to have your yarn at hand more promptly, for all along the summer months we are rushed with this work.

We make single for you for 15c. and double for 18c. per lb.

Information cheerfully given. When writing mention this paper.

AYER'S ARGUMENT.

If there is any reason why you should use any sarsaparilla, there is every reason why you should use Ayer's. When you take sarsaparilla you take it to cure disease; you want to be cured as quickly as possible and as cheaply as possible. That is why you should use Ayer's: it cures quickly and cheaply—and it cures to stay. Many people write us: "I would sooner have one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind." A druggist writes that "one bottle of Ayer's will give more benefit than six of any other kind." If one bottle of Ayer's will do the work of three it must have the strength of three at the cost of one. There's the point in a nutshell. It pays every way to use

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The New Asphalt Sidewalks.

With water works, electric lights, a telephone system two telegraph offices and electric street cars, a less ambitious town of this size might well feel satisfied. But, with us, one improvement rapidly follows another. This is why we have now a splendid stretch of asphalt pavements. One plank sidewalk follows another into oblivion and soon our hurrying feet will tread on nothing but the newest and best of asphalt.

Last year the first of our new walk was laid on Union street, from Main to King street, and the experiment proved so successful that the town council decided that they had a good thing and would push it along. Through the past winter, plans were made for operations in the summer. The council decided the streets on which new walks were to be laid and looking about them for the purchase of supplies. Ninety barrels of coal tar were bought at $2.86 per bbl, while less cautious corporations paid $4.30 per bbl: for the same material later in the season.

Commissioner Hewitt and his men began operations in the summer under the watchful care of Mayor Murchie, by removing all the planks in sidewalks and platforms from the Hill & Robinson corner along King and Water streets to the Cove.

It took considerable time to lay the cedar curbing and do the filling in necessary for a solid foundation. A number of small grades on back streets were reduced and the earth used in forming the bed for the walks. This was covered first with crushed stone, then with gravel and later with the tar and asphalt. The curbing is heavy cedar planks standing on their edges. Iron bolts, with large washers on the outside, pass through them and are anchored, about 2½ feet on the inside, by iron spikes passing through eyes and driven deep into the earth. The ends of the planks are spliced and riveted together.

On King street the new pavement is 500 feet long, 12 feet wide and contains 667 square yards. Every detail was carefully looked after by Mayor Murchie and the efficient streets committee and they know what each section cost for labor and materials used. This section cost 52 cents per square yard or $347.06.

On Water street 2125 feet have been laid, though the width varies in sections, measuring respectively 9 feet, 11 feet and 13 feet. From King street to Main street the length is 1,425 feet, containing 1,586 square yards laid at a cost of 58 cents per square yard and amounting to $919.36. From Kirk Hill corner to the front of Watson street 700 feet have been laid, containing 700 square yards, put down at a cost of 39 cents per yard, totalling $273.12. At this point operations on Water street were discontinued until another year. In this work 13,700 feet of cedar timber was used, 6969 lbs of iron for bolting and fastening, 6,800 lbs. asphalt, 214 tons of screened sand, 154 tons of crushed rock, 130 bbls. of tar and 170 tons of gravel. The total of the labor employed would amount to 635½ days for one man and 114½ days for one horse and wagon. The length of the walk is 4,318 feet or nearly three quarters of a mile, averaging over 10 feet wide. Operations were not confined to King and Water streets, a fine stretch of walk, 6 feet wide, being laid on Union street from Main street to Hawthorn street. The distance was 1,693 feet and this walk contained 1,130 square yards laid at a cost of 41½ cents, or $461.39. It will be seen that the total cost, for the season's work, has been $2,000.93.

Taken with our expenditures for other purposes this is a large amount to lay out for sidewalks in one year. It has, however, provided us with permanent walks which, if expectations are realized, will require no further expenditure for many years.—Courier, St. Stephen.

"I escaped being a confirmed dyspeptic by taking Ayer's Pills in time." This is the experience of many. Ayer's Pills, whether as an after-dinner pill or as a remedy for liver complaint, indigestion, flatulency, water brash, and nausea, are invaluable.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have made $1,640 clear money in 57 days and attended to my household duties besides, and I think this is doing splendid for a woman inexperienced in business. Anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy, and every family wants a Dish Washer. I don't canvass at all; people come or send for the washer, and every washer that goes out sells two or three more, as they do the work to perfection. You can wash and dry the dishes in two minutes. I am going to devote my whole time to this business now and I am sure I can clear $5,000 a year. My sister and brother have started in the business and are doing splendid. You can get complete instructions and hundreds of testimonials by addressing the Washers Co., Station C, Pittsburg, Pa., and if you don't make lots of money it's your own fault. Mrs. W. H.

A Use For a Queen.

Recently Queen Victoria received a petition from a little girl which was quite irresistible in its way. The letters addressed by unknown persons to the Queen do not usually meet her eye, as their number is great and their character often indicative of unsound minds; but the epistle from this child the Queen's secretary deemed worthy to be brought to her attention.

It began thus: "Dear Queen,—I let my doll fall into a hole in the mountain; and as I know that the other side of the world belongs to you, I wish you would send some one there to find my doll."

The little girl believed the hole went clear through the earth, and that the Queen could easily have the doll hunted up on the other side.

The Queen was much amused at this petition; and though she was unable to grant it, she could send a new doll to the little girl, and this she proceeded to do.—'Youths' Companion.'

A cup of muddy coffee is not wholesome, neither is a bottle of muddy medicine. One way to know a reliable and skillfully prepared blood-purifier is by its freedom from sediment. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is always bright and sparkling, because it is an extract and not a decoction.

A lady recently took into her service a Chinaman and began to Christianize him. Shortly afterward some silver spoons were missing. Then she taught him the apostles' creed, and it was discovered that a valuable piece of plate had been stolen. His benefactress, loath to suspect her new convert, started to teach him the ten commandments. By the time he was able to repeat the first commandment the scamp stole her watch. Then the philanthropic lady's son rebelled. "Mother," he exclaimed, "for heaven's sake don't teach that pig-tailed scalawag any more, or by the time you've got to the tenth commandment he will have stolen the house and taken the cellar with it!"

Churning Done in One Minute.

I have tried the Lightning Churn you recently described in your paper, and it is certainly a wonder. I can churn in less than one minute, and the butter is elegant, and you get considerably more butter than when you use a common churn. I took the agency for the churn here and every butter maker that sees it buys one. I have sold three dozen and they give the best of satisfaction. I know I can sell 100 in this township, as they churn so quickly, make so much more butter than common churns and are so cheap. Some one in every township can make two or three hundred dollars selling churns. By addressing J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, you can get circulars and full information so you can make big money right at home. I have made $80 the past two weeks and I have never sold anything in my life before. THE MUSINGS OF THE IMP.

I notice a dispatch to a daily paper, from Ottawa to the effect that "the village of Hintonburg has been seized by the sheriff for a debt of $6000 owing to the Molson's Bank." Having seized the village I suppose the Molson's Bank has carried it away or at least placed it in custody. Hintonburg is near Ottawa. When it has been lifted up and removed to gaol, it will be a serious inconvenience to persons who have been in the habit of traveling through it, to reach certain other points. Probably Mr. Tarté will be asked at the next session of parliament to build a bridge, connecting the portions of the country which heretofore had intercourse with each other via Hintonburg. If the vicar of Wakefield had to build a house to store his painting, how much more necessary for the Molson's Bank to erect a mammoth structure to contain the village which it has taken to itself. It will be a nice point for the lawyers to decide, as to whether or no, in lugging away Hintonburg the bank may carry captive all the inhabitants of that one time flourishing village. * * *

In perusing a Western paper I see that the local editor had a good deal of fun in attacking the gas company of the town in which he lived. It appears that an economical council refused to take gas for the streets on moonlight nights, in order to save taxation, just as our town council refuses to light the streets when the moon shines or ought to shine, or even when snow is on the ground. After awhile the editor thought the humorous city hall reporter had gone far enough with his funny hits and told him to quit. "What's that for?" asked the funny man. "The gas company is about all that you have left me to monkey with."

"That's all right," replied the editor. "It's enough to know that you must let up, without asking why."

The humorist was disappointed, for he had some more good things in his mind to fire at the common enemy. At last his face brightened.

"I presume," he said, humbly, "you won't object to my having a fling at the moon?"

"At the moon?" queried the editor, mystified.

"Yes, the moon. Don't you see?" "Oh, yes, the moon, the moon; haw! haw!" laughed the editor. "Bang away at that all you please; it's in competition with the gas company, and doesn't advertise, either." Now, I understand that the religious editor of this journal thinks the municipal editor has whacked at the council long enough, and has called him off. He had to obey, of course, and has lately been going for the school board. I think he should take a hint from his Western fellow joker and attack the moon, which competes, in Woodstock, with the electric light, and, like the latter, does not advertise. * * *

A minister in Chicago has taken a bold step forward. He is pastor of a fashionable church which was much frequented by the plutocrats of the windy city. Dr. Canfield, for such is the parson's name, advertised on bill boards in the poorer part of the city that everyone is welcome to St. Paul's, and as a result the poor flock, now, in large numbers to this before-time exclusive temple. Once upon a time an old lady in Philadelphia took great umbrage because some one proposed to change the name of the Dutch Reformed church. She said it should remain as it was, for it was the church of the old "Dutch families." The idea of a church being for the purpose of any distinct class did not strike this old lady as ridiculous, but to anyone, who thinks for a moment, it is not only ridiculous, but positively wrong. The house of God should be free to all. The better classes in the sight of the Almighty are probably very different people from those whom we so designate. When He was asked who was the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven, a little child was pointed out to the inquirers. The Chicago divine must be made of the right stuff. It would have been easy work ministering to the rich, but he has chosen the poor for his flock, and will be the better and happier man, for doing so. THE IMP.

The Weather for Colds.

This is the time when colds are in the fashion—every body who is any body has one, if not himself there's one in the family. For no complaint under the sun are there more remedies than for a cold in the head, but of the thousands Chase's Catarrh Cure is the best. "In twelve hours I was cured of a bad cold in the head by Chase's Cure," writes Miss Dwyer, Alliston, Ont. 25c. of all druggists, with blower free.
