Notices of Approval.

THE DISPATCH has received some very kind notices of the special illustrated supplement, which it issued recently.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Sentinel, says: "The Dispatch issued a very creditable illustrated supplement last week. It contained cuts of some of the leading men of the town and county; prominent buildings, streets and the river bridge. It was printed on heavy paper and the letter press and mechanical execution were excellent."

King's Highway: "The Woodstock Dispatch, from whose office the Highway is issued, has issued an 8-page illustrated supplement, containing several views of our town, and cuts of prominent men in the county. It has been undertaken at considerable cost and labor, and reflects much credit on the young and enterprising publishing firm of Appleby & Ketchum."

St. John Gazette: "The Woodstock Dispatch, one of the best weekly exchanges, has this time issued an eight page half tone supplement illustrative of the town of Woodstock and Carleton county, and containing portraits of the prominent citizens. The issue is highly creditable and the enterprise of the Dispatch should receive the hearty appreciation of its patrons."

St. John Telegraph: "The Woodstock Dispatch, one of the most up-to-date and valuable newspapers of the province has just issued from its press a very creditable supplement illustrative of Woodstock, its industries, its city fathers and leading business men. It is a very clever piece of work by clever newspaper men."

Moncton Transcript: "The Woodstock, N. B. Dispatch publishes an excellent supplement giving not merely views of its own town, but portraits of leading residents. The supplement is well printed and is an evidence of enterprise and judgment, which does great credit to the enterprising publishers."

The Aroostook Republican: "The Woodstock Dispatch last week issued an eight page supplement, containing cuts of the prominent buildings are business men of that town. The supplement was well gotten up and reflects credit on the hustling proprietors of our contemporary across the line."

C. W. Raymond, a valued subscriber in Providence, R. I. writes as follows: "I think the Dispatch a newsy paper and the supplement with last issue is worth the price of a years subscription to any Woodstocker who thinks as much of his old home as I do."

Printer and Publisher Toronto: "The Woodstock, N. B. Dispatch had a special Dec. 8—a write-up of the district, with half-tone pictures of places and people and some account of local industries. The special was eight pages large, and meant a great deal of extra labor, time and expense. But these the locality will surely make up to the enterprising publishers."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Next Year it Will be at Hartland.

The twentieth annual session of the Carleton Co. Teachers' Institute met in Graham's Opera House on Thursday and Friday of last week.

The attendance was larger than usual, and a good interest was marked throughout the entire session. The following teachers were enrolled:—Kate Appleby, Maude Allen, Katherine Clarke, Minnie Carmen, Rex Cormier, Mary Caldwell, Alvretta Dorcins, Helen Dunham, Carrie Estey, Eliza Avar, Alonzo Boyer, Clara Carson, Kate Cahill, Miss R. A. Carpenter, Alexandrina Comben, Arthur Davis, Gertrude Dibblee, Martha Everett, Mabel Elliot, Myrtle Fowler, Rebecca Guy, Almedia Gill, Carry Hartt, Daisy Holmes, Jennie Hay, Antonette Hall, David Hamilton, Fannie Ives, Lily Jordan, Lavina Kennedy, Cora Kirkpatrick, Ella Long, Alice McCain, Minnie McElroy, Helena Mulherrin, Mary McCready, M. A. Oulton, Edwin Pitt, Bessie Fraser, Mina Fisher, C. H. Gray, F. A. Good, Phoebe Hartt, G. H. Harrison, Nettie Hand, Myrtle Harmon, Bertha Ivey, Juliet Jordan, Theresa Jameson, Frank Kelly, Annie Kinney, Mabel Page, Mary Milmore, Louisa McCormac, Harry Miller, Julia Neales, Horace Perry, Kate Philips, Agatha Price, Robina Paul, Helen Page, Maria Rogers, Mrs. H. L. Ross, Annie Rice, Ella Smith, Jennie Squires, Maggie Tracy, W. L. Tracy, Josephine Welch, Annie Watson, M. L. Hayward, Delia Payson, Francis Peters, John E. Page, Annie Rogers, Allan Rideout, Ella Smalley, Jane Smith, Mrs. Rebecca Taylor, Anabel Taylor, Lella Wiggins, Hattie Watson, Louisa Upton.

Remarks were made by Pres. F. A. Good. Inspector Meagher, D. Hamilton and others. The necessary committees were appointed, and some business transacted which occupied the remainder of the morning session.

The first paper was read on Thursday afternoon by C. H. Gray on "Practical Teaching." The subject was taken up in a masterly way and some excellent points brought out,—that many lessons in school would be more successful if taught objectively. The discussion was opened by Allan Rideout, who thought that practical teaching meant useful rather than illustrative teaching. An interesting discussion followed which was joined in by Insp. Meagher, Messrs. Harrison, Oulton, Perry, Hamilton, Tracy and others.

The second paper was read by Mr. Horace Perry on "Mathematics." Mr. Perry's paper was an excellent one, and showed thoughtful consideration and careful preparation. His methods of teaching Arithmetic, Algebra and Geometry, are worthy of thought on the part of the practical teacher, and all must have been benefitted by listening to the paper. The discussion was opened by Insp. Meagher, and he thought that in teaching Algebra, about the first thing to be taught was equations. G. U. Hay, of St. John, followed, and others. The debate proved interesting and the many good points of the paper well brought out.

In the evening a public meeting was held. Inspector Meagher acted as chairman, and Mayor Hay and G. U. Hay, occupied seats on the platform. The programme was as follows:—Piano Duett, by Misses. Saunderson, after which the chairman made some appropriate remarks, after which Mrs. F. A. Good rendered a solo which received a hearty encore. His Worship the mayor was then introduced and remarked that the Hays were evidently "in it." He contrasted his school days with those of the present pupil. In this day they have cushioned seats, organs and pianos in the school rooms, and many advantages which he did not enjoy. Moreover as he understood one politician intended introducing a bill making it felony to propose to a school marm; if such was the case it was then that he proposed entering the field and would lay down his life in their cause. The mayor's remarks were spicy and well received on the part of all present. The speaker of the evening G. U. Hay was introduced and his lecture "Do we get all the possible good out of the common school" proved very interesting and helpful to all the teachers present. Miss Helen Page sang and was heartily encored. The meeting closed by singing the "National Anthem." The attendance was good, and the meeting was in every way a success.

The first paper read on Friday morning was on "Current Events" by David Hamilton. The paper was carefully prepared and well written and contained many excellent points. The interesting discussion which followed was opened by G. H. Harrison, and was joined in by Inspector Meagher, Messrs. G. U. Hay, Perry Oulton, G. L. Holyoke, Good and others.

The nominating committee then brought in their report which was unanimously adopted and was as follows:—Pres., W. L. Tracy; Vice Pres., John Page; Secty Treas., Miss Mulherrin, add members, Miss McCormac, David Hamilton.

The "Natural Science" paper by John Page read on Friday afternoon, was enjoyed by all present, and at once betrayed the thought of a practical teacher in presenting this subject. The discussion was opened by W. L. Tracy and was joined in by Messrs. Hamilton, Oulton, Meagher, Hay and others.

During the sessions visitors were present and among those who addressed the meeting were Revs. Mr. Wiggins, C. T. Phillips, Messrs. Chas. Appleby, Geo. L. Holyoke, also Mrs. F. H. Hale.

On motion of G. H. Harrison seconded by Allan Rideout it was carried that the next session of the institute meet at Hartland in the month of September.

The question box was opened and answers given by Inspector Meagher, G. U. Hay and David Hamilton. The sessions were all well attended and it was considered one of the best meetings since its organization.

P. C. M. Hipwell Honored.

A. Lindsay on behalf of Jubilee Lodge presented Past County Master Hipwell with the following address and a handsome china tea service and shaving outfit.

DAVID HIPWELL, P. C. M., L. O. A.

Dear Brother,—The members of Jubilee Lodge No. 89 L. O. A. with all others of our beloved order within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of N. B. have viewed with greatest satisfaction and pleasure the untiring efforts you have made in this grand jurisdiction for the advancement of our noble order, and more particularly in this the county of your adoption. You must look with pride upon the growth of the order which has more than doubled since you came to Carleton 18 years ago, and has placed our county in the van as the Banner County of the order in New Brunswick. You have shown yourself at all times willing to sacrifice your time and means for the upbuilding of the Loyal Orange Association, the condition of the weather or roads was never taken into consideration for one moment when a weak lodge could be helped or a new one organized. The interest you have taken in this lodge of ours is another proof (if one were needed) of your devotion to the association of which we are members, and while you have kept the principles of the association in view you have ever advocated that friendship which should exist between all ranks of society and is the corner stone of the Loyal Orange Association. On behalf of Jubilee Lodge No. 89 I present you with this small token of their regard and I am sure the members present join with me in the wish that you may be long spared to the order, and that you may be placed at the head of the order in New Brunswick which position you are so ably fitted to fill. We also beg to tender our best wishes for the continued welfare of yourself and estimable wife.

Never Saw Clearly Before.

HARTLAND, N. B., SEPT. 10 1897.

MR. W. B. JEWETT,—It affords me pleasure to state that the glasses you fitted for me give perfect and complete satisfaction. Owing to the peculiar imperfection of my vision, I have heretofore been unable to get glasses to fit, so I can say, I never saw clearly until I got the glasses from you.
