

OCTOBER 6, 1897.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

BIRCH RIDGE.

Henry Campbell, has, by permission, removed for the winter to Edward Purchase's house by the mill.
Charles Cole has, already gone to live in his new, and fashionable frame house, many of his neighbors will no doubt be envious.
Miles Corey has left this settlement, I understand, for two or three years. He has gone to reside near Boston where he intends to learn some trade. While here he was quite a young ladies' man, and many of the fair ones will miss him.
James Corey found on Sept. 28th, 106 potatoes in one hill, varying in size from a small bird's egg to the ordinary sized potato.
Mrs. James Finkle held a quilting at her house on Sept. 17th and finished up with a dance.

ANDOVER.

A. J. Beveridge and wife of this town are visiting members of their family in Vancouver. They planned to remain in the west till November, but already they are beginning to return.
Our side walks are in a wretched condition. Many planks are so rotten that they are not safe to step on, others are out altogether. When travelling in the dark one does not know what moment he shall step into a hole, and go grouping his way on his hands and knees, something should be done at once. These plank sidewalks have been frequently repaired and they always need it. Would it not be well to replace by gravel sidewalks? These would be permanent, and the probability is we shall need sidewalks as long as Andover is here.
The family of Mr. Hoyt the postmaster has removed to St. John, but Mr. Hoyt is still with us.
Mrs. S. P. Waite who has been visiting in St. Stephen has returned.

BIGGAR RIDGE.

We are glad to observe that the farmers of Biggar Ridge are keeping pace with the interests of advancing agriculture in other parts of the province. Of late years, of course, we have had threshing machines, mowers, horse rakes, horse-forks, and other labor-saving and weather fore-looking apparatus. And now our esteemed friend Thomas Somerville, one of our most enterprising and successful farmers, has introduced a sulky plow, the first in the march, in this respect, as he was formerly in the introduction of light waggon etc. Your correspondent with others has "interviewed" the plough, likewise its field work, and we have no hesitation in pronouncing it a great acquisition to the cultivator of the soil.
Huggard Grange is becoming a nucleus of gaiety and festivity. The hospitable proprietors within the last eight days have given two very attractive and much appreciated balls, attended and patronized by all the elite, the beauty and the chivalry of this fashionable neighborhood, and did fair to rival the well known festivities of aristocratic Beaufort. The balls we need not say were a great success. The music was ravishing and the dancing exquisite.
We regret to hear that Mrs. Macdonald a very highly esteemed lady, who with her late husband resided for several years here, is shortly to leave us for a season.
The last Fredericton Bulletin brings the cheering intelligence that Mrs. S. Dow, is fast recovering, and may shortly be expected home.
There are vague rumors of wedding bells afloat. The most interested parties prefer for the present remaining sub rosa, but it will all come out in "the sweet by and by," "as has been said and sung."
Harvey Biggar Jr., has recovered from his late indisposition, and is off on a threshing (grain) adventure.
Miss L. Biggar has been off on a sororial visit to Mrs. Hathway of East Florenceville.
Miss May Douglas, teacher at Northfield, has been on a flying visit to friends here, and spent her holiday with Mrs. John Biggar.

DOW FLAT, VIC. CO.

The men of the harvest field are very glad to see those few fine days.
Miss Clara Griffith and Miss Alice Everett made a trip up to the Falls one day of last week it being the first time for them. They came part way up on their bicycles but on account of the rain had to leave them and come in a waggon.
Miss Christie Ann McCarty returned home last night. It being three years since her last visit.
Thomas Cox was here last night.
A picked party was held at Everett's Hall on Main street last evening a very enjoyable evening was spent and a brisk fire was kept to keep the chickens cooking for all were patiently waiting for the soup.

BRISTOL.

Mrs. Dr. Somerville left for Queens County today to visit her parents.
Mr. and Mrs. F. Hunter who have been visiting friends in Bristol and East Florenceville returned to their home in Queens County today.
Othneil Merritt went to Fort Fairfield on Friday.

IMITATORS.

Beware of Poor Imitations of the Baird's Fly Poison, the Original and Genuine Fly Poison Mat. The word MAT does not mean that they are Baird's. Look out for Bogus Fly Mats. See that you get Baird's if you wish the Genuine, which is sure to kill.

OUR CELEBRATED Quinine & Iron Tonic.

Hundreds have been restored to perfect health by this wonderful Nerve and Blood Tonic. You cannot get the effects from a Bogus Imitation that your neighbor received from the GENUINE

C. W. Tilley who has had a barber shop here during the past summer, has gone to Newcastle.
The annual school meeting will be held in this district on Saturday next, and will no doubt be well attended.
Harding Noble having spent a few weeks in Woodstock has returned to Bristol.
Rev. A. E. LePage held service in the hall Sunday afternoon, he has lately returned from a trip to Toronto. Rev. D. Fiske preached in the evening, to a full house.
James Carr, who has been for some years in the employ of M. A. Tompkins has come to Fort Fairfield to engage in the shoe making business there.
Colonel Dibblee and H. Bridges, Woodstock, passed through here last week on their way to Miramichi on a moose hunting expedition.
Mrs. W. A. Sherwood has returned from a trip to Houlton and other places in Maine. Mrs. Erlon Bell has also returned from St. John.
G. S. Wiggins has gone to Meductic to take charge of a grist mill there.
The boys have returned from Camp Florenceville, and appear to be well satisfied with their outing.
The Orange District Lodge meets tomorrow at Glassville, and several of the Bristol Orangemen will attend.

RICHMOND.

L. O. L., No. 109, will hold a grand Farmer's Supper tomorrow evening in their hall at the corner. Addresses will be delivered by prominent Orangemen.

CENTREVILLE.

David Irvine, Esq., Collector of Customs, has purchased a part of the Baird building, owned by Dr. I. W. N. Baker.
Miss May Nettie Vail is visiting friends in Woodstock.
Mr. Walter Everett, of Athol, Mass., and formerly a clerk for C. M. Sherwood, is visiting at D. Fitzgerald's.
Our local dog-tax collector requests all canine owners, in arrears, to pay up.
J. G. Summerson is building a residence near his mill.
H. G. Perry, our popular school teacher, spent Sunday with Douglas Milbury, of Tracey's Mills.
The Getchell Co., managed by Wm. Magill, are making extensive repairs on the Collins Mill, Boundary Line, and expect to begin milling at an early date.
Mr. and Mrs. Amos Downey have returned from Nova Scotia, where they have been spending the summer.
Mrs. Lizzie Bishop, of Waterville, Me., is visiting her brother, G. Fred Briggs.
H. W. Burnham is the owner of a beautiful 5 mos. old colt, by Red Glen. It's a trotter.
[From another correspondent.]
Amos Downey and wife have returned home after having spent a number of weeks in Nova Scotia.
Riley Gillen, of Hartland, was in the village, recently, buying hogs for the Montreal market.
Last Thursday quite a number of our villagers went out to Good Corner to attend the Baptist tea meeting.
J. E. Alexander is slowly recovering from his recent illness.
Tuesday last Dr. D. Waldo Perkins' buildings had a narrow escape from being consumed by fire, some small boys entered the barn and set some straw off on the floor. The flames were seen by some neighbors who by the speedy application of a few pails of water soon brought them under subjection.
Miss Fitzgerald, our wide awake milliner, still keeps to the front in her line of business. She has lately secured the services of a high class milliner from St. John, in the person of Miss Cullen.

Old Men and Kidney Disease.

Aged people troubled with weak back, impaired kidneys, pain in the back and base of abdomen, scalding urine, with a small quantity of water at a time, a tendency to urinate often, especially at night, should use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. You know the Doctor's reputation, you know the value of his work, and that Dr. Chase would not risk his reputation on an unknown and untried remedy. Every druggist in Canada sells and recommends them.

Woodstock Cornet Band.

A good many inquiries have been made this summer as to why the Woodstock Cornet Band has not given any open air concerts. The members of the Band appreciate the generosity with which the town has treated them and they would willingly have played at their stand during the summer if it had been possible. "Two out of three of our solo cornetists were absent, our financial losses have been heavy and we had no money to buy music. When we did play on the 22nd of June, we paid out $20, for outside help and the Jubilee Committee has not yet paid us for our work. Taking our position altogether we are rather in a bad way for funds to pay off notes coming due," said one of the members.

Criminal Libel.

The criminal libel case brought by Hon. J. I. Tarte, minister of public works, against Mr. Grenier, editor of the Libre Parole, was finished on Saturday at Montreal, a verdict of guilty being found by the jury.

Death of Neal Dow.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 2.—General Neal Dow, Maine's grand old man, apostle of temperance and father of the Maine prohibitory law, died at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon, in his ninety-fourth year. He was conscious most of the time till within an hour of his death. Neal Dow was born in Portland, Me. on March the 20th, 1804, of Quaker parentage. He is of course most widely known as a great advocate of total abstinence and prohibition. He has been heard from a St. John platform, and was a warm friend of the late Sir Leonard Tilley and others prominent in the temperance cause in the province years ago. While mayor of Portland in 1851 Neal Dow drafted a bill to prohibit the liquor traffic. It was known the world over as the "Main Law," and on his personal application to the state legislature of that year was passed through all its stages in one day, without change of a word. In 1884 prohibition was put into the state constitution. The late Mr. Dow was twice mayor of Portland, and twice a member of the state legislature. He served in the civil war as brigadier general in the department of the gulf, was twice wounded and once taken prisoner, being then confined for eight months before being exchanged. Three times Gen. Dow visited England, by special invitation of the United Kingdom alliance, and he spent nearly four hours there and on the continent, laboring for the cause of prohibition. The value of his labors in the cause of temperance and prohibition is immeasurable. He retained his interest in the great cause up to the end of a wonderfully long and vigorous life.

The Most Prominent are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body, and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. LaLonde, of 236 pine Ave., Montreal, says, "When I ever run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, and my patients generally have quick relief."

MARRIED.

HAY-MARLEY.—On the 29th inst., at the Royal Hotel, St. John, by the Rev. D. W. Pickett, W. W. Hay, Mayor of Woodstock, to Mrs. Henrietta E. Marley, eldest daughter of the late Zebulon Jones of Greenwich, Kings County.

DIED.

MURPHY.—At Andover, Victoria Co., Nelson Murphy, aged 77 years. His end was peace.
