

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

JACKSONVILLE.

Mud and water in abundance is the order of the day. The snow has all disappeared and skating will soon be the order of the night.

Rev. Mr. Spargo pastor of the Methodist church has been holding a series of special services the last two weeks and will continue the coming week. Much good should be expected as the fruit of these meetings and all are cordially invited to attend.

The school is still flourishing under the intellectual teaching of Miss Annie Kinney, of the Primary Department and Mr. C. H. Gray of the Superior Department.

Hark! the wedding bells are ringing and Dame Rumor says this same popular teacher is soon to take another pupil.

Frank Everett of Kingsclear is visiting his sister Mrs. William True of this place.

On the fourth instant George Nelson an aged resident passed away after a lengthy illness. The funeral rites were performed on the seventh by the Rev. Mr. Gross assisted by the Rev. Mr. Bleakney. The remains were interred in the Free Baptist burying ground.

Rev. Mr. J. Goodwin of St. John officiated at the services of the Jacksonville and Jacksonville Baptist churches on Sunday last and delivered an interesting and profitable discourse. He returns home this week.

Amasa Plummer our popular merchant of this place runs a thriving business and all will save money by patronizing him for he has on hand a large assortment of useful goods with prices to suit the times.

The Baptist church of this place is still without the care of a pastor.

It is reported that a young lady while returning from Methodist service on Sunday night lost her hat and found insurmountable difficulties ere she recovered it.

The school of the upper district is under the care of Miss Martha Everett its former teacher Miss Annie Good having gone to Sackville.

Our venerable hunter still continues to entrap the sly fox and not many can compete with him in that line of business.

J. Harding and L. R. Harding residents of this place are lumbering a short distance below Hartland.

Mrs. J. Harding has gone on an extended visit to her daughters of Lynn.

Mr. McIntyre one of the contractors of the Woodstock and Centerville railway still continues with his wife to reside at the house of Mr. Brewer.

We are glad to hear that Mr. John Harper is recovering from his illness and we hope to soon see his pleasant face among us again.

FORESTON.

Our winter home is in that part of Minamichi called Five Mile Brook. We are in the employment of J. B. Craig, of Windsor. I have spent many winters in the woods, but have never enjoyed myself before as I have this winter. There is always good order in the camps, and a finer lot of men I never met. Jas. Irvine is the cook and a good one he is. He can cook anything you want your "Goose if you want it cooked."

Oh! by the way I would like to speak a word about our foreman, Coley A. Craig, whom I think one of the smartest young men in this country affords. I mean some one else thinks so. Our teamsters rank among the best in the land. But boys, the man with the "Boat-Hook" says to not haul any more pine. How does that suit you, Howard? One of the sled tenders got a bad cold and can't bark, (i. e. logs.)

The pug is barking at a night-mare one of the choppers has. I don't know, but think that he thinks it must belong to some one else. He ought to know for he is a very intelligent animal.

The biggest day's work done by any of Mr. Craig's men or teams was 205 logs, spruce and pine. Beat this and we will go up the road and try. Geo. Wiley and Whitfield Rideout chopped the logs and Murray Ellis drove the team.

FARMERSTON.

As the weather has been very cold and the roads rough, your correspondent from this place has not felt in the mood to write you before, but as times are improving I will now endeavour to tell you what the industrious farmers of Farmerston are doing. The young men of this place all seem to cling to home this winter, only one having gone to the woods as yet. A great many of the farmers are busy making sleds for the W. & C. railroad, and are expected before long to hear the shrill scream of the locomotive in the distance.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Gallivan are glad to learn she is able to be out again.

The young men of this place look lonely since Miss Laura Anderson has taken up her abode at Jacksonville, but what is Farmerston's loss is Jacksonville's gain.

Miss Della Hannah gave a ball to her immediate friends a few nights ago.

Our school is progressing nicely under the skillful management of Miss Mary McCready.

Miss Maud Anderson is visiting her sister, Miss Laura, at Jacksonville.

It is wonderful how fast old bachelors and old maids are accumulating at Farmerston.

There is a rumor of some going to Oregon before long. One fellow seems more lucky than the rest of the young men as he can come on the ice to see his girl while the roads are so bad. One girl at Farmerston looks sad since the punting has played out, but cheer up there will be snow before long.

JACKSONTOWN.

Parties are the order of the day.

A surprise party was held at Mr. Burr's on Friday evening they all seemed to enjoy themselves and they took their departure only in the morning.

The grasswidower seems to be a great annoyance to the boys.

The windmill holds a great attraction for the popular solo singer.

The enterprising proprietor of the valley hotel Wm. Connolly has moved to his former residence. The hotel is closed for the winter.

George Mallory and daughter have returned from their trip to Manguerville.

Your correspondent regrets to announce that Ward Burpee has returned from Fredericton, alone.

Our fish dealer is doing a promising business. Several Italians of the W. & C. railroad are honoring us with their presence this winter.

It is no common occurrence for some of our young men to take a nap on the road.

Harry Good and Elmor Ray spent a day hunting at Meductic.

HALFMOON, CRAIG'S CAMP.

We are nearly done dragging and will soon be putting in the yards.

Some of our young men are making gum books for their girls.

Wm. Simpson our toaster is always on time with mail and fodder.

Our coloured friend Theodore McIntyre is always ready to entertain the crew with the buck, jubber or music.

As the Cedar Brook correspondent was slinging lip about the Craig's Camp writer sitting in the upper berth with a pine split across his knees for a writing desk, I think that is more comfortable than under a bobbed with a stroke of love.

NORTHAMPTON.

A number of people have frost bitten hands and feet resulting from Tuesday's severe frost.

We regret to record the very severe illness of Miss Mary Stuart of Grafton. Dr. Colter is in attendance.

A very valuable mare the property of Mr. Guilford Appleby died in the early part of last week.

Elder Barnes who conducted a revival in this place is about to hold a series of meetings in the upper part of the country. Mr. Barnes will be greatly missed here as there is no doubt that the benefits to accrue from his labors will be extensive.

Owing to the very severe frost of Tuesday last the mill pond has become so frozen as to render grinding in Mr. Wallace Gibson's mill impossible for a few days.

LAKEVILLE.

The "special services" held in the Methodist church for the past two weeks have been quite successful. The services will probably close this week. Revs. Sellar and Ives will then take up the work in Bloomfield.

Rev. Dr. Barker, of Fort Fairfield, preached in the Methodist church Sunday evening. Rev. Wm. DeWare occupied the Baptist pulpit in the morning.

Messrs. White and Wilson have taken a contract for sleepers and are buying them by the whole sale; those having sleepers for sale could not do better than sell to the above named gentlemen.

Miss Laura Gillis who has been for a year in Mass., returned home last week. We hear that Miss Gillis has received her diploma as a trained nurse.

Mrs. Edward Whitney of Cumberland Mills, Maine, was visiting at Mr. Winfield DeForest's last week.

Mr. John Page is back with us again, this time to remain a year. Mr. Page has a very large school of some sixty pupils or thereabouts.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Wm. Corbett. Dr. Beairisto is in attendance.

Many of our boys have returned from the woods quite pleased to get back; some of our young ladies we believe are equally pleased with their return.

UPPER WICKLOW.

Mrs. Israel Gee has been sick for a long time and is no better yet.

Harry Giberson and Miss Lu Merritt paid a flying visit to Wicklow and spent a very enjoyable afternoon and evening with old friends.

I am pleased to hear Johnny Gee is getting better and is able to continue his work in the woods again.

Sydney Smith left for the woods the 23rd to work for A. Fraser.

Teachers seem very plenty on the Tobique this winter. Please send some of them this way, it seems they have all left our land. There are a few people living here yet whether they know it or not.

EDMUNDSTON.

The coldest winter this and for a good many years was Tuesday the 19th, at 8 o'clock a. m. it was 30 below zero and blowing a heavy gale about 11 a. m. it went up to 24 below zero and hung there all day and wind blew hard all day. We have often had the glass register lower but no wind. Later in the week we had a fall of snow from twelve to fifteen inches which we needed very much. The C. P. R. and T. Ry. had snow plows out for the first time this winter.

Men are now commencing to come out of the woods.

J. Edgar Golding and W. H. Smith, St. John, were in town last week.

Geo. A. Murchie Esq., was in town last week. R. M. Belyea the popular traveller for Manchester, Robertson & Allison, Dry Goods, St. John is in town.

BIGGAR RIDGE.

It rained very hard here Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday were the coldest days we have had this winter.

U. H. Biggar met with quite a loss Monday, one of his horses got hurt very badly in the woods and he had to kill it.

Mrs. W. A. Biggar has been very ill but is getting better and able to be about again.

Miss Ella Biggar spent last week with friends in Northfield.

Mrs. W. A. Harrington returned home yesterday from Egypt where she was visiting friends.

G. E. Green and his crew of men came out of the woods Friday, he stayed till snow came.

W. A. Biggar took his departure from here Thursday for the woods where he will work for Gilbert Hatheway.

Alfred Rowley of West Glassville paid us a flying visit this week.

CENTREVILLE.

The needful has come at last. The roads are now good, lots of hauling is being done and business seems to be prosperous once more. The weather here has been and is extremely cold, but wood in this section is cheap and plentiful.

Mrs. L. B. Clark has completely recovered from the effects of injuries received from her fall on the ice.

We noticed Miss Julia Sloat in town several times last week. She also spent Sunday here the guest of Miss Webb.

We miss our popular school teacher, H. W. Peppers, and hope he will soon recover his former health. His place is being supplied by Mr. Long, also a graduate of the U. N. B. Miss Avar teaches the primary department.

Miles Brouse, of Mount Delight, drove up to Centerville last week with his team. One of his horses took violently sick. Dr. D. W. Perkins, our local Vet. was called and under his skillful treatment the horse was able to go home the next day.

Byron Gibson, of Good Settlement, also has a sick horse here in A. Downey's shop. The horse was taken ill Saturday afternoon and Dr. Perkins has been in constant attendance ever since. We are glad to be able to report a slight improvement in the horse's condition this morning. Speaking of horses brings to my mind the many trotters we boast in this thriving town. We have had a splendid track all winter and not a few brushes between the flyers. We understand that Mr. Tompkins, of Florenceville, has an idea that he can sweep the ice but we think he is slightly mis-taken. He has a speedy old horse but we have flyers here. For any kind of shoeing from the team horse to the lightest, we have put our popular young blacksmith, Amos Downey against anything in the county. Dr. Brown has a two-year old filly that flies according to the Doc. Mr. Cahill has a two-year old Aurora colt that shows a three minute clip for an eight. These colts both pace.

Rev. Mr. Belyea preached in the Baptist House Sunday morning. Dr. Barker, of Fort Fairfield, preached in the Methodist church in the afternoon to quite a large audience. Rev. Mr. Cahill has been holding special services for the last two weeks. The services are to be continued this week.

Mrs. Brown and family are visiting in Fredericton.

HARTLAND.

The recent snow has enlivened trade considerably although the hauling is not the best the roads having been blown bare in places.

There is to be a public temperance meeting held in the Methodist church on Monday evening Feb. 1st under the auspices of W. C. T. U. Rev. Mr. White of Houlton is to be the speaker and will no doubt please the many who will go to hear him.

Union prayer meetings were held in the various churches during the past week and much good was done.

Our printer F. H. Stevens is doing a rushing business. He has lately purchased a new press and a fine equipment of type and expects on Friday Feb. 12th to get out the first issue of a weekly paper "Hartland Advertiser." Wm. McDonald of Woodstock is foreman of the office.

The long looked for is here the long thought of pleasure is being enjoyed. The roller rink is now open and well patronized. The ground floor of the Foresters' hall has been fitted up for the purpose. A fine hardwood floor has been put down, and skating on it is a luxury. The proprietors of it are Messrs. Lee and Frapp of Woodstock, and they are very popular. The rink is open on every afternoon in the week and on every evening except Wednesday and Thursday. To those who do not wish to skate they are admitted free on any afternoon, and a good view can be had from the gallery. The Hartland Cornet Band furnish music on Friday evening.

ANDOVER.

Harry Currie, who has been in the West for fifteen years, is home this winter visiting friends. Mr. Currie expects to return to the West in March.

Walter Murphy, another Andover boy who has been in the West for a number of years is also visiting friends. Mr. Murphy expects to return in February.

The County Council met in the court house on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A surprise party was held in the court house, at Sheriff Tibbitt's Wednesday evening last, in honor of Mr. Walter Murphy.

The Dutcher Murder Case.

In the Dutcher murder case now going on at Dorchester, the prisoner, John Sullivan, gave evidence himself, dealing with his career on the night on which the Dutcher house was burned, Sullivan said:—"I went to Mrs. Dutcher's in the evening for some liquor to take to the dance at Mike Sullivan's. I did not get any. I returned to Calhoun's about 7 p. m., intending to go to Memramcook. I went to Meadow Brook and got four bottles of ale and some cigars, and a man named Jacobs and I drank the ale. This was about 11 p. m. There was nobody at Mrs. Dutcher's Wednesday night. I did not go to the dance. I laid down on a lumber pile and slept. I went to Calhoun's in the morning. I think I woke up about 4 a. m. I met Mr. Elliott, the section man. He said my father was at Warren's. I went to Warren's about 7 o'clock a. m. I had breakfast at Warren's. Father was there. I told Father I would pull some vegetables and ship them for him. I went to the old place and dug vegetables and packed them in a box. I put a ticket on the box addressed to father to Moncton. I carried it to the station about 11 a. m. and left it there. I stayed at the station till the express came down. I met Jane Green and she asked why I was not at the dance. Phileas Melanson got off the train also and we spoke. I told him I was going to Memramcook. I went to Memramcook on the express. I think Conductor Trueman was on the train. I went to Doherty's and got a drink of brandy. I went up to McManus's store and bought a necktie. I came back to Doherty's and got another drink from Bob McVey. I started then for McManus's mill. I had a bottle of whiskey in my pocket. I went to the mill and sat on the end of the bridge. I stayed there about half an hour. I took drinks there. I was alone. I left there about 4 p. m. I laid down on the grass again. I had a jag on. I went to sleep and slept until about 6 p. m. I started for Memramcook station. I got there just as the train was moving out. I got my bundle of clothes I had left at the trackmen's shanty just before the train came in. I only had time to jump on as she pulled out. I rode to Moncton in the smoker. I got on between the blind baggage and the smoker. George Watson, of Springhill, was there and three others. The conductor did not ask for a ticket. We got to Moncton about 8.15. When I got off at Moncton I left my bundle near the general offices. I went down to the Queen Hotel. I bought some apples. Near the Brunswick House I met my sister and Miss Howell. They wanted me to go with them. I did not do so. This was about 9 p. m. From there I went to Mrs. Porrell's. Mrs. Porrell boarded a child that I support. It is said to be mine. I went from Porrell's to O. S. Leger's barn. Jerry White and others were there. I had a drink there. I had some American silver. I had a fifty-cent piece some time. I got the other fifty-cent American piece in change. About 11 o'clock I came out and followed two girls down the wharf track. One girl was called Mary. One went and got a pint of gin. I paid for it. Nothing improper took place. It was on Dunlap's wharf. I stayed a while. A young man came down the wharf track as I was going. I asked him if Thibaudau's was open. I started up the wharf track to Duke street and turned up Duke street. I went up to the post office from there. I went up town on the right hand side. I was as far as the railway crossing. There I met C. Bruce McDougall. I asked him how he felt. He said, who is I? I said I was Dan Sullivan's brother. I said, where can we get a drink? He said let us try in here. Sullivan also gave a detailed account of his doing from this time till he crossed over to Maine. He said that he never harmed any of the Dutcher family. The crown called a number of witnesses by way of remitting Sullivan's testimony.

The jury will probably bring in a verdict early today.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.
