HUNGER FOR OFFICE.

We have noted that in recent years, the thunger for affice has developed with alarm ting rapidity. A politician does not, as a rule, wish to serve his country, nor even to become affamed statesman, he is after an office.

This is the result of the machine politics which we have borrowed from our cousins across the line. It is strange that while we profess to be so very English, we pick up, with evident appreciation, the bad points in our cousins' made of government.

The people of the United States are trying to get their politics on a higher plane. In Canada, we seem to be working the other

The following extracts from an article in the Toronto World sum up the situation pretty well.

"The hunger for office is the curse of Canadian politics. Our political parties are so bound on the idea of holding office that they resort to discreditable means, once they are in possession of it, to retain it. The system of party government can only be justified by a frequent change of parties and the ready resignation of office by the party which has lost the confidence of the people or does not have a clear and unmistakable majority in the Legislature."

The World has the correct idea. We should have frequent changes. Five years is long enough for any government. When they are in, ten or fifteen years, they become masters, not servants, of the people.

Continuing the World says:- "The party, is so bent on holding office that they are not disposed to resign or to accept the decision of the people. They are tempted to resort to every questionable means to retain power. They consider in their secret meetings how the support of members-elect can be purchased by office or by bribery; and it is by resort to these questionable means in order to retain power that confidence in our representative system of governmenr is steadily being supped.

It is this unnatural and immoral strain of the party system that is ruining good government in this country. Parties ought to go out of office frequently. In England, where politics is on a much higher plane than in Canada, and where the people still have faith in representative institutions, there is never any hesitancy in a party accepting the voice of the people when declared against it; in tact, the party in office there are only too glad to go into opposition the moment they have not a substantial majority of parliament. . . A discredited politician holding on to office in spite of the wish of the people is a mournful, and we are sorry to say, a frequent spectacle in our history."

DOGS OF WAR.

It must be decidedly unpleasant to have some fellow shooting at you from across a creek or ravine, particularly when you can't get a shot at him. And the absurdity of war is equal to the unpleasantness.

Two men are born into the world, the one in England, say, the other in Russia, or the one in Spain and the other in Maine. These two men have nothing against or in favor of each other. They never met, and in the ordinary course of events they never would

But a war breaks out and these two strangers, shoot at each other, and try to kill one another, and yet they have no quarrel,

.It seems all very absurd, and one wonders when the power a hat be will see the absurd-

We are not so free from disease, accident and misery, in general, that we need to go to war to find out, what these things mean. And Death comes to most of us, quite as soon

The wiser heads say there will be no war. Time certainly should make for peace.

While we, in Cake a, would not be directly interested in a war between the United States and Spain, such a war would, probably, be the signal for a general outbreak, and before the end, bullets would be flying alarmingly for cotton are used for cotton and mixed near to us.

Let us have peace and plant our potatoes. Harness the dogs of war and make them do the spring ploughing.

REQUEST FOR LEE'S RECALL.

Musat Halstead Thinks he Detects There in the Rine Hand of Ex-Minister

De Lome. Murat Halstead has an interesting theory as to the origin of the Spanish request for the recall of Consul General Lee. At the Hotel Touraine, where he was quartered he told a Herald reporter that, in his judgement, the fine hand of Senor de Lome, the deposed Spanish minister to Washington, could be traced in the delicately worded wish of the government of Spain.

"This request for the recall of Gen. Lee." he said, "is an indication of an aggressive and offensive spirit on the part of the Spanish. The latter hold this country responsible for all of their woes, and their feeling toward us is a very bitter one.

"I think," he continued, 'that the suggestion for the call was the work of De Lome. He has been in touch with the Spanish government. He had not got to Madrid, but kept up communications with the authorities there, and this request for the recall of Lee, which our government courteously refused, was an aggressive thing for them to propose.

"Gen. Lee is a friendly companionable, good-fellow sort of a man, and he treats everybody pleasantly, but he is a pretty prenounced fellow, too, and I expect that De Lome, through the Spanish spie, has picked up some scraps of the consul-general's

Mr. Halstead said that the Blanco administration, the autonomists, who have played the humanity roll in Cuba, stand on a very slim foundation in Spain. The majority of the people there he thinks, are not of their disposition of mind, and the Blanco people will have to succeed or go under. They have not thus far succeeded. Autonomy is not agreeable to the Spanish character, in Mr. Halstead's opinion, nor is it countenanced by the masses of the people of Spain. After the election of the Cortez it is possible, he believes, that the Weyler methods will be resumed in Cuba. - Boston Herald.

A Selfish World.

Jack: It's a selfish world; the people who own railways think nothing of running over a poor man's herse.

Ted: Yes; and the man who is rich enough to have a horse runs down the poor fellow on a bicycle when he can manage it. Jack: And the poor fellow on the bike runs over the poor pedestrian.

Ted: That's it; and the poor pedestrian stumbles against the poor cripple who goes

Jack: That's the way; and the cripple spends most of his time jamming his crutches on other people's coras. Ah: it is a selfish world, as you say.

"Do you know, Miss Willing," said young Woodbe the other evening, "that your face reminds me of a perfect mirror?"

"Does it?" she asked; "and why so, "Because," he replied, "it reflects nothing but the truth."

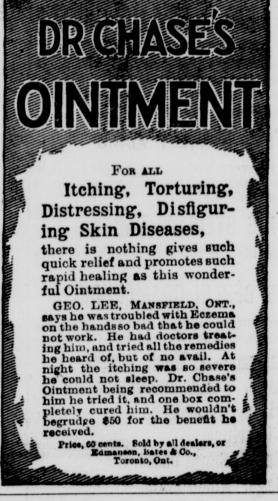

"Oh!" she exclaimed in a tone of disappointment, "I thought it was for a better reason than that " "What did you expect me to say?" he

"I thought," continued the blushing maid, "that it was because every time you looked in my face you saw your own."

The engagement has been announced .-Chicago News.

"You love my daughter?" said the old man. 'Love her!' he exclaimed, passionately; 'why, I would die for her! For one soft glauce from those sweet eyes I would hurl myself from yonder cliff and perish, a bleeding bruised mass, upon the rocks two hundred feet below!" The old man shook his head. "I'm something of a liar myself," he said, "and one is enough for a small family like mine."

Mother: "Where were you during that thunderstorm?" Son: "Over in that field with the big tree in it." Mother: "But I told you distinctly many times never to stand under a tree during a thunderstorm." Son: "I didn't, I sat down."

Merchant Tailors,

Your Lungs

Have you got Consumption, Catarrh, Asthma, or Bronchitis? Cannabis Sativa, Dr. Stevens' East India Remedy, will cure you. It has cured many cases of pulmonary consumption, pronounced hopeless by physicians. Its virtue is attested by leading members of the medical profession; by business men of high standing; by hundreds who owe their lives to its marvellous power to heal the lungs, allay inflammation, renew the vital elements of the blood and create strength.

So confident am I of its virtue that I will send a package, sufficient for 12 days' treatment, absolutely without cost, duty prepaid, to every sufferer who will send me an accurate statement of his or her case. I do not say that one package will effect a complete cure, but believe so much benefit will be derived from it that the treatment will be continued until a complete cure is brought about.

What it has done for others.

PETERBORO, ONT., Canada, Oct. 13, 1877.

"I was foreman in the lumber shanty when I was taken sick, and being anxious about the work, I exposed myself greatly, caught a severe cold, and after recovering took a heavy relapse, which terminated in inflammation of the lungs. "The doctors all gave me up. One of the most prominent said it was impossible for me to get cured, or even get better, and all that any one could do for me was to give me something to ease me the little while I could live, and had me make my will. The 22d of January, 1873, I took my bed in Peterboro, and on the last of the following August, I was drawn homelying on a bed, and three doctors gave me up after I came home. An abscess formed at the bottom of my left lung and discharged outwardly from that time until May, 1876. At the time I got your medicine, it was getting worse every day. Every one thought, and so did I, that death alone would end my misery. I commenced using Cannabis Sativa the first of February, 1876, and after using three or four packages of the Remedy, the discharge was checked, and I was able to get out of bed alone for the first time in more than three years and three months.

"For from the 22d of January, 1873, to the 15th of May, 1876, I never was able to get PETERBORO, ONT., Canada, Oct. 13, 1877.

in more than three years and three months.

"For from the 22d of January, 1873, to the 15th of May, 1876, I never was able to get in or out of bed once alone, nor never lay ten minutes off my back, nor never was out of bed one-half day at a time, and spent upwards of $1,400 without much if any benefit, and I only used a few cents over $20 for your medicine till I was well.

"It is now exactly eleven months since I left my bed, and I am smart and healthy, and without pain or ache, or any symptoms of the disease. For the past six months I have been able to make a good living for myself. Last fall I cradled and drew in grain."

In three days after commencing to take Cannabis Sativa, we could see a change for the better. It cost me hundreds of dollars for doctors before I got this remedy—and they did him no good. He was reduced from 150 pounds to 114 pounds, and in one week after he began to take the Remedy, he gained 14 pounds. After using five packages he is stronger than ever before. His recovery has been acknowledged in this place as a miracle. To God and your remedy we give thanks for it."
