SHOULD WORK TOGETHER.

Whether there is anything in the story that Sir Adolph Chapleau, Governor of Quebec, and Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, have been exchanging letters, about forming a coalition, rather to the exclusion of the old-time Liberals, may or may not be settled by the publication of such correspondence. In an alleged letter to Mr. Tarte, Sir Adolph is credited with a reference to "ambitious Nova Scotia," and to the need of keeping that aspiring province within bounds. There is certainly a feeling in Quebec and Ontario that the Maritime Provinces have received more consideration than they were entitled to, from past governments. No doubt the Tappers worked well for Nova Scotia, but New Brunswick, as far as we can see, never reaped a very heavy harvest of governmental favors.

As a matter of fact New Brunswick has never had a particularly pushing representative at Ottawa. Both Sir Leonard Tilley and Mr. Foster were prominent in government councils, but they were not the ardent fighters for their province that the Tappers were for Nova Scotia. Whatever view one may take of Mr. Blair, this much we must say, in justice to him. He is a warrior of no mean fighting qualities. When the press of the west attacks him for being too selfishly inclined towards New Brunswick, we need not worry. New Brunswick has never received more attention from the Federal government than was its due,—perhaps not its full due, even, and if Mr. Blair is determined that his native province shall have some assistance in pushing itself ahead, he would be a poor sort of a blue nose, who objects.

It is said that the Woodstock and Centreville railway will be built, that connections will be made with the Temiscouata, and that the St. John Valley road will be constructed. What Carleton County man will oppose such a programme?

Indeed, if Mr. Blair carries out such a bill of fare, it will be little use for anyone to call him names.

To find out how much truth there is in the railway story, would be a job for Sherlock Holmes. We can only hope it will come out, as those who advocate it, would have us believe.

New Brunswickers generally would do well to lay aside old party feelings, and for once work together to advance the interests of the province.

THINK OF THIS, FARMERS!

When an election is on you are great people, and your hands are nearly shaken off. When the war is over you are forgotten, but the party healers are not forgotten. You have, as a general thing voted honestly—or nearly so. If you have taken a V. there is a terrible time about bribery and corruption and the like.

But if you could get at the secrets of the party, in many cases you would be astonished. How many men supported one party or the other, because they were to get a judgeship, or some office.

As a matter of fact, as long as the policy of the two parties is so much alike, does it matter much which is in power?

Isn't there more humbug than anything else in politics, and is not the farmer often the humbugged elector?

Given an active politician, and you can demonstrate an office seeker of some kind.

An exchange says:—"One of the Belleville merchants has made a justifiable protest against ladies of that city who think they must go to Toronto to purchase goods, evidently supposing that the local merchants have not stocks good enough for them. The protest is timely, and it might be added that he is a short-sighted citizen who goes out of town to make purchases. Our enterprising local merchants have stocks which permit as wide a selection in almost every line as can be secured in any city store, and the prices will also compare favorably. The person who makes a living in a community should assist others to do so. When he does not, his interests suffers with those of the others, while the money spent in Toronto does not benefit him or his community." And beside Belleville, Ont., there are others.

Where Specialists Failed Dr. Chase Cured Catarrah.

James Spence, Clachan, Ont., writes:—"I had been a sufferer from Catarrah for 15 years. It became chronic and I had given up hopes of ever being cured when advised by a friend to try Dr. Chase's Catarrah Cure. I at once started and am pleased to state, three boxes effected a complete cure, and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from Catarrah."

But he doesn't often do it
By simply staying up all night
In order to pursue it.

D-O-D-D-S

THE PECULIARITIES OF THIS WORD

No Name on Earth so Famous—No Name More Widely Imitated.

No name on earth, perhaps, is so well known, more peculiarly constructed or more widely imitated than the word DODD. It possesses a peculiarity that makes it stand out prominently and fastens it in the memory. It contains four letters, but only two letters of the alphabet. Everyone knows that the first kidney remedy ever patented of sold in pill form was named DODD'S. The discovery startled the medical profession the world over, and revolutionized the treatment of kidney disease.

No imitator has ever succeeded in constructing a name possessing a peculiarity of DODD, thought they nearly all adapt names as similar as possible in sound and construction to this. Their foolishness prevents them realizing that attempts to imitate increase the fame of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Why is the name "Dodd's Kidney Pills" imitated? As well ask why are diamonds and gold imitated. Because diamonds are the most precious gems, gold the most precious metal. Dodd's Kidney Pills are imitated because they are the most valuable medicine the world has ever known.

No medicine was ever named kidney pills till years of medical research gave Dodd's Kidney Pills to the world. No medicine ever cured Bright's disease except Dodd's Kidney Pills. No other medicine has cured as many cases of Rheumatism, Diabetes, Heart Disease, Lumbago, Dropsy, Female Weakness, and other kidney diseases as Dodd's Kidney Pills have. It is universally known that they have never failed to cure these diseases, hence they are so widely and shamelessly imitated.

WASTE ON FENCES.

$2 Worth of Fence to Restrain $1.94 Worth of Cattle.

A. W. Cheever, in New England Farmer: One of the burdens that weigh down many a farmer is an unnecessary amount of fencing to be kept in repair. I suppose no other people have loaded themselves down with fences as have the Americans. One reason is because fence material has been cheap and another the inherited habit of depending on fences in farm practice. Justice, and statute law in many states, require fences to be built to keep the owner's animals in, rather than those of other people out. Some years ago I made a study of the cost of fences as shown by the census reports. At that time the value of fences in the United States was estimated at $2,000,000,000. By the same authority the value of all the live animals in the country requiring fences to restrain them including swine, was $1,942,800,000. The value of all the farm and garden crops grown annually was $2,820,000,000. It takes $2 in fencing to keep $1.94 worth of animals from breaking in and eating up or destroying $2.83 worth of annual crops. There has probably been a favorable change in these proportions since the date of the figures given. Farmers and others are getting along with fewer fences, but there are far too many yet left to be annually repaired or rebuilt. Fences that cut up cultivated lands are always an obstruction. They are in the way of cultivation; they take up valuable room, no farm implement can work up close to them, and they constantly invite weeds and bushes where they are not wanted and where it is difficult to destroy them.

KEEP CLOSE WATCH!

Look to it that You are well Guarded Against that Stealthy Enemy, Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure is the Only Remedy Which will Relieve at once and Cure.

Michael McMullin, of Chesley, writes: "I had been troubled with gravel and kidney disease for eight years. At times the pain was so severe I could not lie in one position for any length of time. I took South American Kidney Cure according to directions. I got immediate relief. The soreness and weakness all left. I can testify to the remedy being a wonderful cure." This stealthy enemy will not quit you by using pill doses. It must be a kidney specific—a liquid that will dissolve all the hard substances and carry them off through nature's channel. South American does this. It is a liquid and never fails to cure. Sold by Garden Bros.

Every man hath received some gift; no man all gifts; and this, rightly considered would keep all in more even temper; as in Nature, nothing is altogether useless, so nothing is self sufficient. This, duly considered, would keep the lowest from repining and discontent; he hath received something that is not only good to himself, but rightly improved, may be so to others. And this thought will curb the loftiness of the most advanced, and teach them not only to see some deficiencies in themselves, but some gifts in the meaner persons which they want. Some flowers and herbs which grow very low are of a very fragrant smell and healthful use.

Yellow Skin and Eyes.

Biliousness causes yellow skin and eyes, tired, weary, sluggish feeling, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS cleanses the blood and regulates the liver, curing all its diseases; "From a child I suffered from biliousness and headache, and all the money I spent for medicine brought me no relief. Four bottles of B. B. B. cured me completely; however, and I gladly recommend it." Mrs. W. COLEMAN, Toronto, Ont.

Cannon Made of Glass.

In 1847, at Stockton-on-Tees, on the occasion of the rejoicings which took place on the coronation of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, a salute was fired from a battery of glass guns. A grand demonstration was made at Stockton, in which the principal trades in the district walked in procession, each man carrying some product of his particular trade. The glassmakers from Haverton Hill (about four miles from Stockton) were the most noticeable. First marched a man carrying a beautifully colored glass crown on a red silk velvet cushion, guarded by a man on each side with a drawn sword (made of glass); then followed the glass-workers band dressed in blue coats, white trousers, and coronation handkerchiefs; these were followed by a small semi-circular battery mounted with four small glass cannons, which were loaded and fired at the commencement of the procession and at intervals afterwards. A glass cage, with a canary singing as blithely as if at home, came next; and then a church, peal of bells, and numerous other emblems of glass handicraft. Each glassmaker wore a glass star on his breast and a glass feather in his hat. Shortly afterwards the glass works at Haverton Hill were closed, and the glass battery was taken to Newcastle-on-Tyne, where it served as a public-house sign, the house being called the battery inn, and situate near Messrs. Wright Bros' Glass Works in the Forth. On Sept. 12 1823, a procession of of glass-cutters took place through the streets of Newcastle and Gates-head. Many of the men wore glass hats. When the procession arrived at its destination a salute was fired from glass cannon.

The Most Prominent are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body, and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says, "When I ever run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, and my patients generally have quick relief."

It is a glorious thing just to be alive. But alas! how much more glorious it is when we know that the life in which we rejoice will go on and not die; that when this house of clay, beautifully and wonderfully made, shall have been taken down; when it shall have become too fragile and weather-beaten by the storms of earth to hold us any more, we shall not be cast out to perish but shall simply move on into some better and roomier house which the Eternal Love that holds us fast has provided for us! It is sweet and good to live, but how much sweeter and better when we know that what we call death will be merely a letting go of that which can no longer hold, a casting off of that which can no longer serve us, a going out from that which is but a prison door, and when everything that is mortal about us will be swallowed up in the more abundant life.

SEVERE HEADACHE CURED.

DEAR SIR.—Being troubled with a headache, I was advised by a friend to try Laxative Pills. I only used half a bottle, and have not since suffered from the complaint. They seem to be a perfect cure.
MRS. JOHN TOMLINSON,
Hamilton Ontario.

Modest!—Baron Oof—I understand, sir from my daughter, that you kissed her. Young Sonley—Yes, but that's nothing much for her to boast about, is it?

In Darkest Africa.—The missionary—Here! Here! I'm shocked! What are you two fighting about? The combatants—Jouah an' de whale.

Men Who Study To Dress Correctly

Probably know that fashion has decreed a number of changes in Men's Garments for the winter of 1897-98. As Shakespeare said; "The apparel out proclaims the man," and it is indeed true that a man is often judged by the clothes he wears. Men who wear my clothes are not only well dressed, but are always dressed in good form. My stock of is large, varied and excellent. Come in and look it over. Look at the fashion plates and see what you want. I can satisfy you. That is my business.
