Work For The Prince Of Wales.
It is interesting, in connection with Anglo-Russian relations in the far East, to note the fact that the Prince of Wales is understood to have played a considerable part in maintaining a good understanding with the Czar. The friendship established at the funeral of Alexander III. has borne good fruit. It has long been known that no love is lost between the Prince of Wales and his nephew the Kaiser. When Prince Henry paid his mysterious visit to London, on his way to China, he attempted to see the Prince of Wales, with the view of delivering personal messages from his imperial brother. It is stated that Prince Henry even went so far as to follow the Prince of Wales to his box at the theatre at Port Arthur, however, refused to see him. This significant episode is not likely to have taken place without the approval of the foreign office. The inference to be drawn from the occurrence in question is that there is a clearer understanding, for the present, at all events, between England and Russia than is generally believed. Russian declarations, however, as to the freedom of trade at Port Arthur, inspire no confidence here. The record of Russia on the subject of pledges is a bad one. It is needless to contrast in parallel columns the promises made by Russian statesmen with the dates on which they were broken. When Sir Vesey Hamilton hauled down the British flag at Port Arthur the Russian minister, Monsieur Ladyginsky, pledged the sacred word of his imperial master that under no circumstances would Russia thereafter interfere with the internal affairs of Korea. The value of that promise is now apparent. When Russia has completed her land conquests of Manchuria we shall hear something more of Port Arthur and the freedom of trade.—[From Harper's Weekly.]

EASY? YES, VERY EASY!
Any Inexperienced Person Can Dye Successfully With Diamond Dyes.

There are no mysteries about the use and handling of Diamond Dyes. The directions given on each package are so concise and simple that the dyeing of a dress, costume, blouse, jacket or suit of clothes is made easy and pleasant work.
We are aware of the fact that some ladies are badly disappointed after a trial of dyeing work. The reason is obvious; they unfortunately have used some make of worthless dyes foisted on them by some unscrupulous dealer.
A child that can read can dye any article successfully with Diamond Dyes. These world-famed dyes are put up by experienced chemists, which accounts for their uniformity in quality, strength and brilliancy. When you buy Diamond Dyes you get the world's best dyes.
Valuable book of directions and color card sent free to any address by Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, P. Q.

Read by the Hair.
You can read character—if you have a mind to—by the hair. The hair tells things just as the hands or writing do. Rough hair denotes passionate disposition. If the hair be red look out for squalls. Red hair always indicates a robust physique and mysticism. Dark hair tells of a jealous disposition. Fine—what is called 'dead' hair denotes refinement and sensitiveness. Drab, or mouse-colored hair indicates persons of weak constitution, and of a tepid and undecided nature. Golden hair may mean anything. It is to be found in the possession of all kinds of people. You cannot read character from it. A short hair in the butter indicates carelessness on the part of the cow. A long hair of any color, except gray, found on a man's shoulder, indicates that he is a person of fascinating personality, and affectionate disposition—and that it is Lodge night.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS
Are quickly cured by a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; and best of all it's so nice the youngsters take it without any fuss.

Nantucket Gingerbread.
There are many receipts for the making of gingerbread, yet the principal ingredients and methods are very much the same. Good materials must be used in its manufacture as well as exact measure in compounding it to insure perfect results. The compound must be left very soft, kneaded only just enough to keep it from sticking to a well floured board, baked in a brick oven. The so called gingerbread is made as follows: A cupful each of sugar and molasses, a cupful of butter, 2 eggs, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a half cupful of warm water a teaspoonful of salt and the same of ginger. Stir in flour and knead as little as possible. Roll in thin sheets and bake in a brisk oven.

THE DEAF HEAR.
DR. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE
Working Wonders in Toronto.

Gave MRS. BINDON her hearing when Specialists failed.

About 3 years ago, Mrs. Bindon, of 11 Maitland St., Toronto, was attacked with la Grippe, which affected her hearing to such an extent that she was completely deaf. It was a serious affliction and she tried many remedies and consulted a prominent specialist on ear diseases, but derived no benefit. By a happy circumstance she was led to use Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and before she had completed 3 boxes her hearing had partially returned.
She persisted in the application of the remedy, so confident was she of ultimate cure, and by the time 12 boxes had been used her hearing was completely restored. For 3 months now she has been free from deafness, and no emancipated sufferer was ever more delighted than Mrs. Bindon. On Sunday she goes to church and enjoys the service, a thing she was unable to do before Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure gave her back her hearing.

The circumstances of our life are not unmeaning, but infinitely otherwise; but this we very often do not see for want of vision. High as Heaven and wide as the earth is the atmosphere of holy opportunity in which our souls have their being. Is it not felt? then it is only because it is not wished. Not every hour, nor every day, perhaps, can generous wishes ripen into kind actions; but there is not a moment that cannot be freighted with prayer.

"It's the devil for any one to tell me a secret, for it is sure to come out in print."—HAZLITT.

This extract below from an exchange is of interest to all who travel on railways and to railway companies themselves. "Under a new order newspaper reporters will be permitted to accompany wreck crews on the Wabash lines to the scenes of disaster. The Wabash has, no doubt, come to the conclusion that the whole truth at some times is much better than a little truth and much imagination. It frequently happens that in case there is loss of life, newspaper representatives, owing to the obstacles placed in their way by the officials and the subordinates of the road on which the trouble has occurred, are unable to obtain a correct list of the victims, and information to friends is thereby delayed. If the railroads evinced a disposition to join with the newspaper men and assist them to obtain the real facts at such times, there would be less cause of complaint, and the officials would change their estimate of reporters in general. Usually the railroad officer seals his mouth against the scribe, and then finds fault because the details of the wreck have been misreported. The facts are bound to come out sooner or later, and what differences does it make whether it be today or tomorrow?"

Wealth is the key to success and everything else. Whoever has money can get about anywhere. But the unfortunate break will come, until long use has made the parvenu familiar with educated phrases. The latest thing from the modern Mrs. Malaprop is as follows:—"Luna," she cried, "I don't want you to ever invite that Mr. Fosdick here no more. 'He ain't a gentleman.' 'Why, mamma," the stately girl asked, "what has he done?" "What has he done?" the mother cried; "didn't you hear what he said? When I asked him if he thought there was going to be war, he told me he didn't think a casus belli had risen yet. I never was so shocked in my life."

There is much interest taken in Boston and elsewhere over the second trial of the seaman Bram, accused of murdering Capt. Nash and his wife on the Herbert Fuller. The report of the trial is not without its amusing incidents. The jury, selected after deliberation, is most carefully guarded. In its excellent report of the trial the Herald remarks that one juror went unshaved over Sunday, on the belief that the State was bound to pay his barber's bill. He compromised on Monday by shaving himself.

Women are constant, so I have always been told anyway. It is a tradition that I like to believe has a good foundation. Do you think Dreyfus was guilty or not? Nevertheless you will admire his wife. A reliable authority says:—"Mme. Dreyfus, having petitioned the French government to be allowed the poor privilege of sharing the exile of her husband on the Isle du Diable, with all its penalties and privations, is promptly refused the same. Nevertheless, she gets the world's admiration for her devotion."

A cynical writer says that men go to church to please the women, women to please the preacher, and the preacher to please the Lord.

The Most Prominent are Fashionable.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body, and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says, "When I ever run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, and my patients generally have quick relief."

He was Ruled Out.

St. Peter—How long did you belong to the church on earth?
Shade—One year.
St. Peter—And how much did you put into the contribution box each Sunday during that time?
Shade—Why—er—a cent, I believe.
St. Peter—Well, we haven't any 52-cent harps on hand, now. Move on, please. Next?

GRIPPE'S LEGACY.

Grippe too often leaves behind it weakened heart, shattered nerves and undermined health. Nothing will restore the system to its old time vigor so quickly and perfectly as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. John Quigley, 30 Sheriff Street, St. John, N. B., says:—"Since I had an attack of Grippe I have been weak, nervous and run down. I doctored with some of the best Physicians, but got no relief until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which have completely cured me."

Bad Blood Will Out.

Can't help but come to the surface in the form of Ulcers, Sores, Boils, Pimples and Rashes of one kind and another. Especially is this so in the SPRING. At this time of the year the Blood needs purifying, the System needs cleansing. Nothing will do it with such perfect success as

B. B. B.
Jessie Johnston Rockwood, Ont., writes:
"I had boils very bad and a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got a bottle. The effect was wonderful—the boils began to disappear, and before the bottle was done I was totally cured. As an effectual and rapid cure for Impure Blood B. B. B. cannot be equalled."
