W. R. WRIGHT,

UPPER WOODSTOCK

FEBRUARY 23, 1898.

The Lady at the Telephone.

[From the Cleveland Leader.] She called him up by telephone. And yelled: "Is that you, Ted?" The shriek was plenty loud enough To wake the deadest dead.

"Yes, it is I," the man replied. Her yell had roused his ire; "Just drop the instrument; I guess I can hear without the wire."

The fellow should have been ashamed For 'twas an ugly slur, But she was just a woman, and So it was lost on her.

FITZ A FIGHTING MACHINE.

He Says Corbett Would be a Marvel if he Could Only Punch.

Robert Fitzsimmons, champion slugger of the world, opened his heart to a Detroit reporter recently. Fitz must have been in good humor, for he gave the scribe the following rather original interview. Speaking of Corbett, he said:

"In my heart of hearts I like the fellow. He is the most scientific boxer I ever went up against. But fine boxing does not win fights. If Corbett could only punch he would be a marvel. But he cannot hit. That was conclusively shown at Carson City. He landed repeatedly, but did not hurt me. The difference between us is this: Corbett is a boxer; I am a fighting machine. I can take ten of his blows in order to get in one of my jabs. Of course, the public expects me to roast and malign him, but, as I remarked before, I cannot help but like the man. He will never be able to whip me. I say this without braggadocio. I know that I can whip him in jig time whenever we meet again. When will we meet? That is a stunner. Perhaps never."

A FEW DOSES GAVE PERMANENT RELIEF.

James Allen, of St. Stephen, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pains in the heart, pain in the side, and shortness of breath. I became completely exhausted with the least exertion. Doctors said my case was a hopeless one. I procured a bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. A few doses gave me permanent relief, six bottles entirely cured me. Today I am well."—Sold by Garden Bros.

Aids to Memory.

Talking of memory systems," said the suburbanite on the accommodation train, "I can't for the life of me see how a man who is unable to remember one thing is helped to having to remember two. If I tie a string around my finger I must recall the purpose of wearing it—which I never can do. If I must always think of rain when I want to carry an umbrella I have double work. Now, my wife wanted me to remember something to day and she gave me a word to say over to myself. And I've forgotten the word."

"Pooh! It's easy enough to remember things if you give your mind to it," said another suburbanite. "My wife told me to be sure and order some—now, what the mischief was it? Soap? Blueing? Well that's funny. I thought I would be sure to remember!"

He plunged his hands into his overcoat pocket to cover his chagrin, and pulled out of one a rough bit of scantling, with a memorandum in lead pencil attached.

"Well, I vow! My wife must have stuck that thing in there. Oh, yes, I see. It was a load of kindling wood she wanted me to order. But one could hardly be expected to remember a thing like that."

"I wish I could find a reminder of what I am to get as easy as you did, but my wife doesn't believe in giving a sample to help out a poor memory. Hello, old fellow, how's that?"

He had pulled a little rubber shoe out of his pocket and was regarding it with loving eyes.

"Sammy's overshoes, by all that's queer. And here's something inside. 'Length, five inches.' Bless his little heart! I'd have forgotten all about them if it hadn't been for this memory lesson. There's something in the system, after all."—Chicago Times-Herald.

MRS. JAMES O'BRIEN,

Could Account for It No Other Way.

The preacher was having a sort of test meeting by asking the congregation questions on their conduct. "Now, brethren," he said, "all of you who pay your debts will please stand up."

In response to this there was an apparently unanimous uprising.

"Now," said the preacher, asking the others to sit down, "all those who do not pay will please stand up."

One man arose. "Ah, brother," said the preacher, "why is it that you, of all this congregation of brethren, should be so different?"

"I don't know," he replied, slowly, as he looked round over his friends, and acquaintances, "unless it is that I'm not a liar, and 'cause I can't get what the people 'round me owe me."

Throat lined with Ulcers

A Young Lady Cured of Long Standing Catarrh and Catarrhal Sore Throat by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Miss Anna A. Howey, of Eden, Ont., says that she suffered from Catarrh for ten years, used a number of remedies advertised, but was always disappointed in the result.

Last fall she suffered intense pain in her head and her throat was lined with ulcers. The doctors called it Catarrhal Sore Throat, but did not cure it. She saw that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure was being highly recommended, so procured a box from C. Thomson, druggist, Tilsonburg, Ont., and commenced its use. Soon the ulcers cleared away from her throat, the pain in her head ceased. She says that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure does not cause distress or sneezing when being used, and is the most effective catarrh remedy she ever tried.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, a Justice of the Peace, declares that he knows Miss Howey and her mother, and can vouch for the truthfulness of her statements.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, sold by all Dealers. Price 25 cents, complete with blower.

"It's the devil for any one to tell me a secret, for it is sure to come out in print."—HAZLITT.

It is useless to deny that among many of our merchants there is a sentiment, regarding the future of this town, far from hopeful. Nor is this feeling confined to those who have not been altogether successful. Business men of the town who have made what might be termed an independence, talk this way. Of course we have our share of the chronic kickers. Such men are in every community, and if they get to the new Jerusalem, they will kick because the golden streets are not pearl, or for some such cause. The "chronic" is kicking more than ever, and he is in the seventh heaven, because he finds the usually satisfied man is also throwing up the toe of his boot. If Woodstock expects that the old methods of business, which gave the merchants an opportunity to make a dollar thirty years ago, can be successfully carried on now, Woodstock will pay for its lack of good judgment, by declining into the ranks of a third rate town. But, if Woodstock keeps pace with the times her progress will be all right. We want more patriotism. Suppose we talk less about Dominion and even Provincial politics, and instead discuss our local affairs. Let us buy at home. There is no need of sending away for goods, and everyone who does so is unpatriotic. He or she is hurting Woodstock. If we would all agree to buy of our own merchants, the kicking would again be left only for the "chronic."

Are we getting to be an impetuous people, ready to take up with every new idea, and drop it, like a child drops a plaything, that no longer amuses him? It would seem so. Not long ago there was a public meeting, and a public library was to be established right away. There was to be no trouble in raising $5000. The library would be a sure thing, and it was to be a model library. Nothing against the christian religion was to be admitted, on the shelves. Voltaire might pollute libraries in other places; Matthew Arnold, with his cold reasoning, might enter the homes of other peoples, Gibbon whose "Decline and Fall" is classic, but whose orthodoxy is doubtful, might be admitted in towns where the elect were few; but, not in Woodstock, the pure, Woodstock the good. Let immorality flourish where it may, it shall have no place for its foot in pious Woodstock, and Voltaire, and Arnold and Gibbon must go elsewhere. But, what of the library Our worthy mayor said there would be no difficulty in raising the money.

The question of women suffrage has been decided in the Massachusetts legislature, against the new departure. The proposition was defeated by a vote of 44 to 97. One would fancy that Massachusetts would be in advance of this movement. But such seems not to be the case. All things come to that state, and if it is in the interests of the State that women shall run the government, run it they will. In the meantime they exercise a good deal of influence. He, that actually sits on the throne is often less mighty than the unseen power behind.

An Ontario Lady Compels a Merchant to Pay for Damages

A lady writing from an Ontario town says: "A month ago I visited one of our town stores and asked for three packages of Diamond Dye Navy Blue for dyeing all wool goods. The merchant informed me that he was out of Navy Blue in the Diamond Dyes, and talked me into buying a dye of another make, at the same time guaranteeing them to do as good work as I could get from the Diamond. A lady friend was with me at the time and heard the whole conversation. I took the strange dye home, used them according to directions, and was sadly disappointed with the results. The color was anything but a Navy; in truth, my materials were spoiled. I at once took the goods to the merchant and told him his dyes were frauds. He offered to give me more of the same dyes or my money back. I refused both offers, and after I had threatened law proceedings he thought it best to pay for the materials spoiled. This merchant will never again have the chance to sell me any more dyes. I shall go where I can get the Diamond Dyes at any time they are wanted. I have had my last lesson with poor dyes."

Why does the cook make more noise than the bell? Because the one makes a din, but the other a dinner.

CONTINUED SUCCESS.

Continued success means sterling merit. NORWAY PINE SYRUP has sterling merit—hence its continued success. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore throat and all throat and lung troubles.

You need it to bear the daily burdens of life. If your back is weak—Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen it. If it pains and aches—Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it. No experiment in taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured hundreds of weak, aching backs long before other kidney pills were dreamed of.

Mr. JAMES ROW, Belleville, Ont., suffered for nine years with terrible pain in the back, rheumatic pains, and pains in the bladder. He spent $300 doctoring, but got little relief. Doan's Kidney Pills have completely cured him, banished the back pains, and all the other pains and aches.
