COUNTY COUNCIL.

oil and it was necessary that they should be inquired into. He believed in having the matter thoroughly sifted. Our present inspector has given satisfaction to the people as a general thing. There were however two bills. Bill No. 1 gives the number of convictions under the act, bill No. 2 was the bill of Wm. Dibblee, the police magistrate. This last covered a length of time from 1895 to 1897. In this bill Mr. Dibblee does not give the evidence which the committee requires. Perhaps the most amusing part of the proceedings when the councillors telephoned to Mr. Dibblee the police magistrate to appear before them. Coun. Gibson and others, not so earnest in the cause of anti-prohibition as he was very anxious that his honor should be brought to the bar of the council. He came and when he was asked to explain certain accounts he did so in such a manner as to mystify not only the council as a body, but the councillors individually. He was asked to give a detailed account of affairs, or in other words of his accounts. He, at least, showed that his accounts were square kept that no money had come into his hands for which he was not able to account, and he made a decided hit when he remarked that if there was anything wrong or astray in his accounts, he would return two dollars for every one that he received.

Hon. Geo. W. White had been out of public life for some time. Finding himself once more at the council board, once more in the arena of public life, he scented the chance of a battle from afar. He came, he said and if he did not conquer, it was surely because the foe was stronger than he could possibly estimate.

Our old and esteemed friend, G. L. Cronkhite, was on hand, and while he gracefully filled the position for which he seems to be specially endowed, it was more than apparent that he felt that if he was to hold his own as a councillor, he must put forth efforts which really he was not capable of exercising.

One of the most sensational elements in the whole discussion was when Coun. Gibson, a veteran of veterans, got up on his feet and interrogated the council upon occasion after occasion why they did not abolish the whole system, and introduce a good license system.

On motion of Mr. Bell ordered that $375 be assessed for the poor for the parish of Wakefield, $474 for Kent.

Coun. White as chairman of a special committee appointed by this board to examine and report on the accounts connected with the county, begged leave to report on the bills connected with the administration of the Scott Act. With others on the committee he undertook the task of drawing up that report. He did not succeed in doing this, himself, to the satisfaction of all the members of the committee.

Coun. Saunders—I rise to a point of order. We desire the report of the committee as it was agreed upon.

Coun. White—I was not talking to that member.

Coun. Caldwell—It appears curious that the gentleman presiding should demur at presenting a report which the committee asks him to present.

Coun. White—There was very little variation. I struck a report that was generally agreed to. It shows that there is a tempest in the teapot and that the members do not wish to agree altogether.

Council then resolved itself into a committee with Coun. White as chairman.

Coun. White—It is the duty of this committee to thoroughly examine the accounts. We wish to know the general results of the administration of the Scott Act. I think they all agree that the Scott Act Inspector should give a fair report of the proceedings of his work.

Rev. C. T. Phillips being called upon referred to the fact that he had always exercised discretion in his manner of voicing temperance sentiment. He found there were faults in the administration of the Scott Act, as there were faults in individuals. Still, at the same time, it was a fact that the inspector had been honest and fearless in his efforts, and those efforts had, in many cases been crowned with success.

Mr. Colpitts, Inspector under the Canada Temperance Act, submitted the following report which on motion of Mr. Gallagher, seconded by Mr. White, was received and filed.

Also the committee has contracted for the wood for present year, 40 cords for gaol and 15 cords for Registrar's office at $2.33 per cord. The wood to be not less than 4 inches in diameter nor over 12 inches; best hard wood. Wood two years ago cost $2.90 per cord, last year $2.49 for gaol and $2.40 for Registrar's office. There is on hand at present about 19 cords of dry wood, which made it necessary to get certain dimensions of wood for furnace. The furnace has been overhauled and rebuilt, and gives more heat.

A. HENDERSON,

Chairman of Building Committee.

The report was adopted, and $10.00 ordered paid to Henderson for the painstaking manner in which he had discharged the duties of Chairman of the Building Committee.

During a debate on the question of the dog tax, this little affair occurred.

Coun. Gilmore—I know it as a fact that in Ireland it used to take two men to lead a sheep to market, while in Scotland 1000 sheep were led by one dog.

Coun. Kearney—It is plain that in Scotland they place more confidence in the dogs than in the men.

After considering accounts in committee the Board ordered the following accounts paid:—

J C Hartley's account $63 47 was laid over till Thursday for information.

A Henderson's account $15 00 was referred to accounts committee.

White moved that the Sec Treas be instructed to prepare a Bill to go before the Local Legislature to so amend the agriculture Act that societies would only be required to raise $60 00 to entitle them to the Government grant. He explained that it is not very difficult for some societies to raise the required amount, $100. The motion was seconded by Cheney and carried.

Connolly moved that the salary of the Scott Act Inspector be $400. The motion was seconded by Bell.

Gibson, seconded by Kearney moved that the salary be $300.

After discussing the motion for three hours the question was called on the amendment, when it was lost by a tie vote.

Yeas—Caldwell, Gallagher (Kent), Tracey, White, Moores, Cheney, Forest, Kearney, Gibson, Colter, Phillips, and Gallagher (Woodstock)—12.

Nays—Saunders, Henderson, Purrington, Tompkins, Connolly, Richardson, Lamont, Gilmore, Speer, Bell, Shaw, and the Warden.—12.

The original motion was also lost, the votes being the same reversed.

A motion by White, seconded by Gallagher that the salary be $350 was carried, almost unanimously.

Reversing The Order.

A few weeks ago Mr. Osborne was surprised to receive an application for a catalogue of Fredericton Business College, from a young man in the western part of Ontario.

No stronger evidence of the confidence placed in the new principal of Fredericton Business College, and of the good reputation he has earned for himself as business educator, could be shown than when yesterday the young man, Mr. M. Martin, accompanied by his brother, arrived in the city to attend the F. B. C.

Mr. Osborne's ambition was to establish a business college in the Maritime Provinces, that would offer to young men and women the same thorough and efficient training that they had heretofore left their native provinces to obtain. His hopes are being more than realized, since he is not only accomplishing his original object, but has reversed the order of things, by drawing students from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces.

Mother Was Not in it.

Little Johnny Streeter, who had only seen four short summers, was very naughty one afternoon, says the Chicago Journal, and his mamma whipped him.

Johnny was very much offended with her for this mode of procedure, and treated her with the strictest silence for the remainder of the day, eating his supper without deigning to notice her in any way.

When his bedtime came she called him in and undressed him for bed, he still maintaining much dignity. He knelt down, as was his custom, to say his "Now I lay me down to sleep," and, after asking God to bless his papa, grandpa, grandma, aunt and even the servant girl, he turned to his mother and said with emphasis, "You ain't in it."

We talk much of the contagion of evil, and deplore it: we rarely speak of the diviner contagion of good which is abroad in the world, inspiring reforms, correcting abuses, redressing wrongs, and stimulating an almost omniscient philanthropy.

AFTER

The holiday season is over and you have come to think of other things than festivity, why not give your horse an extra bit of attention. Is his neck sore? Then give him one of our Pneumatic Horse Collars. They are easy and comfortable.

If you must strike him you might at least strike him with a good whip. Look at ours. It is a pleasure to a horse to be stricken with one of the kind we sell.
