HER OPINION OF HIM.

A Lawyer Who Was Caught Up With For Once.

If there is anything exasperating in this life it is the lawyer who delights to bullyrag and otherwise despitefully use a witness, more particularly when that witness is a woman, observes the Washington Star. It is on this account that there is a general rejoicing when that kind of an attorney is smote hip and thigh by one of this supposed. ly helpless victims. Of such is the following

The woman was on the stand, and she was a very nice-mannered, respectable woman who kept a cheap boarding house, and it was the desire of one of her guests to be dishonest that had brought her to the court to make him pay his board.

"How old did you say you were, madam?" enquired the lawyer, with no reason on earth, for an elderly landlady is no more anxious to lose a board bill than a young one. "I did not say, sir," she responded, flushing to the roots of her hair.

"Will you be kind enough to say, madam?" "It's none of your business."

"Objection sustained," smiled the count.

"Um," said the lawyer, rubbing his chin; "how much did you say the amount was defendant owed you?"

"Twenty-five dollars."

"And for how long was that?"

"Five weeks."

"That's $5 a week, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir." "Five weeks at $5 a week is $25, 1 believe you said?"

"Yes, sir." The witness was patient, but her temper was not improved under the strain. "Isn't that an extravagant price to pay for board in that locality, madam?" enquired the attorney, severely.

"He didn't pay it sir," answered the worm, beginning to turn. The lawyer gave a little start of surprise, then became indignant at the very thought of a witness talking like that.

"Don't be facetious on the witness stand, madam," he said, assuming a tone of warning. "This is a serious matter, madam. I have asked if your prices were not exorbitant, and you have seen fit to answer lightly, madam. Now, madam, I ask you in all earnestness if you mean to tell this court that your prices are moderate and that if I should come to your place to board you would charge me $5 a week? Answer directly, madam," and the attorney sat back on The witness was not at all abashed.

"No, sir," she said.simply. "I would-"I thought not, I thought not," interrupt- of lite you may desire.

ed the attorney, bending over and rubbing "No, sir," continued the witness, "I would not charge you at all. I would make you pay in advance. Then the court forgot its dignity and everybody laughed except the attorney.

Some Old Families.

London Tit-Bits: The Grosvenor family (Dukes of Westminster) trace their pedigree in Great Britain back to 1066, having come over with William the conqueror, while the family in Normandy from which they are directly descended flourished there for at least a century and a half before the conquest so that the family pedigree goes back for close upon a thousand years. The most ancient family in Great Britain is that of the Earl of Mar, in Scotland. Lord Hailes, speaking of the title, says, "It existed before our records and before the era of genuine history, being an earldom whose origin is lost in antiquity." The Campbells, to whom belongs the present Duke of Argyle, began in 1190. Out of the 400 barons in the British peerage only about a dozen actually date back 600 years. The most ancient family in the world is that of the Milkado, of Japan, which has had an unbroken line of descent for more than 2,500 years; the present ruler being the one hundredth and twenty-second are leaving the province daily for Vancouver, with one eye on the Klondyke. Within the past week several have left this county. Good luck to them, say I. At the same time I am going to read a lecture to those who remain with us, yet, and who haven't yet made up their minds to go to the Arctic circle. I think it all depends on the man and his disposition and circumstances. The Klondyke is a big gamble. It is like a wheel of fortune. You may win and you may not, with the chances in favor, at present, of "maynoting." The man who got to the Klondyke a year ago, and gets through the winter all right, and has a claim to work or sell is in dead luck. He has won at the wheel of fortune. The man who goes now, will meet other men, going from all parts of the world. Now, if the young man, at present undecided, has sound health, an evenly balanced mind, is not too susceptible to the seductive charms of old Scotch or bad Klonkyke whiskey, has a little money, and a good deal of pluck, powers of enturance and a taste for adventure, if moreover, and furthermore, he leaves no weeping relations behind, why, let him pack his grip and away. But how many are posessed of such requisites? The old motto "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" fits the situation of most of us. I would like to have a million of money or even a hundred thousand, but I would not like to say that I would barter good hand like hand sand premises described in the said Indenture of Mortgage as follows;

"All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in Wilmot aforesald, being part of farm of land owned and occupied by late Daniel Savage at time of his death, said piece being same devised by said owned and occupied by late Daniel Savage in which say the said Indenture of

The band will give a dance in the Opera 1898. House on Easter Monday and I hope they will be well patronized. I understand they have not yet been paid for the services they rendered on Jubilee Day. Let some measure of reparation be made by a good turnout of citizens on this approaching occasion. Why are not the band and the citizens in better accord. A bandstand has been erected, but the band seldom occupies it. We are dependent for music to that energetic and philanthropic institution, the Salvation Army. During the coming season may not some arrangement be made with the band, for an evening's music each week?

It is a satisfaction to note the earnestness with which the town council do business. I am not speaking "sarcastically" but in dead earnest. They have insisted on people re-

Beautiful and Brilliant Colors That Will Not Fade-Diamond Dyes Have Special Colors for Cotton and Mixed Goods-How Wise Women Economize in Hard Times-A Ten-Cent Package of Diamond Dyes Often Saves Ten Dollars.

In these days of enforced economy it should be a pleasure to any woman to learn how she can save the cost of a new gown for herself and suit for the little one, or can make her husband's faded clothing look like new. Diamond Dyes, which are prepared especially for home use, will do all this. They are so simple and easy to use that even a child can get bright and beautiful colors by following the directions on each package. There is no need of soiling the hands with Diamond Dyes; just lift and stir the goods with two sticks while in the dye bath, and one will not get any stains or spots. In coloring dresses, coats, and all large articles, to get a full and satisfactory color, it is absolutely necessary to have a special dye for cotton goods and a different dye for woollen goods. This is done in Diamond Dyes, and before buying dyes one should know whether the article to be colored is cotton or wool, and get the proper dye. Do not buy dyes that claim to color everything. King Street, for their use will result in failure.

not like to say that I would barter good health for even a million, and the man who goes to Klondyke stands a good chance of coming back with his health, pretty seriously impaired. However, the man or youth with the gold fever will go and there's an end to it. If he comes back rich we will all commend his enterprise; if he comes back poor, we will console him by telling him what a fool he was to go away.

earnest. They have insisted on people removing the death dealing icicles, and may be expected to look generally, to a more emphatic enforcement of town by-laws, too long set at nought. I notice in a recent Boston paper that a lady in Amesbury, Mass., recovered $2500 for injuries sustained by falling on a sidewalk, defective by reason of an accummulation of snow and ice. The defendants, the town of Amesbury, appealed to the Supreme Court, which body, sustained the finding of the jury. Now, if Amesbury had looked after the sidewalks they would not have had to pay $3000 on a lawsuit.
