SOUGHT THE PRESIDENT'S LIFE.

An Infernal Machine Sent To The White House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22nd.—An infernal machine was sent to the President yesterday. Fortunately, its character was suspected, and measures taken to prevent its explosion, and no harm was done. The incident was carefully concealed, and all efforts are being made to capture the sender. There was nothing to suggest from whom it came, and no clew was afforded as to the man who sent it. The machine was inclosed in a harmless looking cigar box. An ingenious contrivance had been arranged so that, when the lid of the box was opened, there would be a flash of powder which would explode a stick of giant powder sufficient to blow a man to atoms. Lieut. Cross, in charge of the White House police, to whom the machine was handed, discovered its nature, and took precaution to render it harmless. He soaked it thoroughly in a tub of water, until the contents were saturated, and then opened it. As a result of this incident, additional measures were taken to guard the executive mansion. The police force was doubled, and today it is expected that a detail from the district militia will form an additional outside guard to the approaches proximate to the White House grounds.

Late Court News.

The Grand Jury elected U. R. Hanson as foreman.

The judge in charging them explained the various cases with which they had to deal. The jury then retired and at the noon adjournment had not reached any decision. It was expected that Mr. Best who analysed the stomach of Minnie Tucker would be here on the noon train, but he did not arrive.

The judge however explained to the jury that Mr. Best's presence was not necessary to their reaching a decision.

As the grand jury has a good deal of business which may take some time, it was decided to take up the civil case of Connell vs. Upham. A. B. Connell Q. C. appears for the plaintiff and Hartley and Carvell for the defendants.

An Estimable Citizen.

David Fitzgerald, who died at Centreville, on the 17th inst., was one of the most respected citizens of the county, a man whose loss would be serious to any community. Some fifteen years ago he opened a boot and shoe business in the village, which by his ability and industry he raised to large proportions. A few years ago he established a branch of his business at Glassville, conducted by his son, Perry. The funeral was largely attended. Revs. Jos. Cahill, E. Gray, and Mr. Greenlow conducted the services. Deceased leaves a widow, two daughters, one of whom is engaged in the millinery business at Centreville, and a son, mentioned above.
