

"The Jug."

GLASSVILLE 8th, July 1898.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

SIR:—Our county owns a lot in Woodstock which they purchased as a site for county building. I have had letters asking me to explain, why I seconded the vote to return the Orangemen $25, out of the $50, which they paid as rent for use of the lot on celebration day (12th July) 1897. My intention then was and is still that on the occasion they should not have been charged a cent, because by their large expenditure and erection they brought thousands of people that day to Carleton Co. and Woodstock with well lined wallets for benefit of storekeepers &c. Neither the day after nor the day before celebration was the ground worth ten cents to any one. It is free to-day, as a public park to all—to Jew and Gentile alike. It is true that the Orangemen on that celebration day drew $25 from a merry-go-round contract or which should have gone into the hands of their coffers and not into the hands of the county-treasurer. The lot is large enough for all county buildings required. We have all heard of the horrors of the southern Libbey prison. In point of sanitary arrangements, or rather the absolute want of them, it cannot hold the candle to our own old "jug" two miles from town. Only think of a cell eight or nine feet square, without ventilation or any sanitary arrangement whatever in a hot summer day. If a man keeps his pig in such a hole, the humane society would call him to account. Where the philanthropist Howard or the author of "Never too late to mend," to give us a "rare up" one of these fine days, and look in upon our limbs, his remarks on our christian prison economy would be none of the most flattering. And this is the old tumble down affair on which some of our financiers propose to expend hundreds or thousands of dollars, year after year for no permanent good purpose. They grudge laying out an adequate sum at once in the erection of a healthful and thoroughly furnished goal in Woodstock, although after all, money is not the only thing to look at.

"To purchase heaven, hath gold the power?
Can gold remove the mortal hour?
In life, can love be bought with gold?
Are friendship's pleasures to be sold?
No; all that's worth a wish, a thought,
Fair virtue gives, unbribed, unbought,
Cease, then, on trash thy hopes to bind;
Let nobler views engage thy mind."

In the town we have certain sanitary goal advantages which are denied us at Upper Woodstock—sewerage, water works, electric light, cheap insurance, etc., then there is the expense of carting prisoners to and from goal and police court. Looking at the disputed site from different points of view, I have found that the popular feeling is all but universal in favor of town site, this is the case almost all through the county, certainly without a single exception in Aberdeen. I had the pleasure of lately meeting ex-councillor Ham Emery of Wakefield who knows all about the ruinous waste of money for years on the old goal and today advocates the town site. Mr. Owens of Wicklow, like his old father goes straight for town site too. Mr. Bowser of Victoria Corner, sits on the same side of the bench, as likewise do all our leading men and large tax payers in Aberdeen.

Now, gentlemen, I want to make a bargain with your highly intelligent and liberal town council. The town offers to come down with $1 00 toward building a goal in Woodstock, very good, so far as it goes. My proposal is this, let the town council restore to us the management of the Scott Act as heretofore,

Heart Spasms

DR. AGNEW'S CURE FOR THE HEART
A WONDERFUL LIFE-SAVER.

No organ in the human anatomy to-day whose diseases can be more readily detected than those of the heart—and medical discovery has made them amenable to proper treatment. If you have palpitation or fluttering, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, swelling of feet or ankles, pain in the left side, fainting spells, dropsical tendency, any of these indicate heart disease. No matter how long standing Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will cure—it's a heart specific—acts quickly—acts surely—acts safely.

"I was given up to die by physicians and friends. One dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave me ease, and six bottles cured my case of fifteen years' standing." Mrs. J. L. HELLER, Whitewood, N. W. T.

for the whole county, and we will go solid for building the goal in town. Do you twig? Yours to command,
EDWARD S. GILMORE.

For Prohibition.

Large audiences attended the meetings held recently in the Opera House in the interests of the plebiscite, on the question of prohibition. Mr. Buchanan who was the main speaker is well known as editor of the Templar, of Hamilton. He is an earnest and fluent speaker, and put the cause of prohibition in its best light. The interest in the meetings was increased by the excellent music afforded by Mr. Robinson Wallace and Miss Grace Walton, both of whom accompany Mr. Buchanan on his tour.

At a business meeting on Monday, L. E. Young, presiding, the following officers were elected in view of the plebiscite vote, for this county:—President, D. McLeod Vice; Sec. E. M. Boyer; Treas. Entertaining Reading.

The July Canadian Magazine contains much entertaining reading matter. There are four stories, two of which are by Canadians. Miss Jones' second article on "Swiss Life and Scenery" is very bright and beautifully illustrated. Sir John G. Bourinot's scholarly article on "The Fathers of Responsible Government" is accompanied by portraits of Lord Durham, Lord Elgin, Louis J. Papineau, William Lyon Mackenzie, Joseph Howe, Robert Baldwin, Sir Francis Hincks, Sir L. J. Lafontaine, Sir John Harvey, and Lord Sydenham. A. C. Casselman writes an opportune article on "The Postage Stamps of Canada" and James Hedley another on "Bank Returns: What They Teach." E. Nicholls of Vancouver tells many amusing stories of the late Chief Justice of British Columbia, Sir Mathew Baillie Begbie. John A. Ewan, the Globe's special war correspondent, writes of "The Significance of the War, and there are the usual departments. The frontispiece is a very good portrait of the late Sir J. Adolphe Chapleau.

Cowardly Sailors.

A British ship, the Cromartyshire, and a French liner, La Bourgoyne, collided sixty miles south of Sable Island, on July fourth. The latter vessel sank. Of 600 people on board less than 200 were saved. There was a panic among the crew of the sinking ship, and women and children were cut with knives and pushed off boards as they tried to escape. The crew acted most cowardly. Only one woman was saved.

THE WAR.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 10.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, with six hundred and ninety-two Spanish prisoners, arrived in Portsmouth at 8.30 this morning, and a few minutes later dropped anchor just above Fishing Island. The big liner left Guantnamo at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 5th, and did not make a stop until she dropped anchor in this harbor. Including the prisoners there were 1,036 people on board the boat on her journey north, and out of this number are 91 sick and wounded Spaniards under the care of surgeons. Admiral Cervera is confined to his cabin, having been quite ill for the past three days, although he was able to be dressed this morning. Captain Eulate, who was commander of the ill-fated Vizcaya, and is among the prisoners, is also quite ill, having been wounded in the head during the battle of Santiago.

Admiral Cervera came on deck late this afternoon and consented to talk with representatives of the press, who came out to the St. Louis on a tug. "You ask me," he said, "How I like America, and I answer you that I have always liked, and I may say, loved your people, but this war has been a duty with me and the men under me. I know that the American fleet clearly outclassed us, but it was a question of fighting, either inside or outside the harbor. I have many friends in America and have only the kindest feelings for them; but every man has a duty to perform to his country, and all Spaniards tried to perform that duty. There has been much feeling in Spain and I want all Spain to know the truth, that every ship of my squadron fought until the last, and when we could do no more, we surrendered."

"I have much interest to know the exact situation in Spain. Capt. Goodrich has treated us all as well as anyone could possibly be treated. My officers have occupied quarters in the saloon and we cannot complain."

County Court.

County Court opened yesterday, Judge Stevens presiding. There are two civil cases, Boyer vs. Rasmussen, which is an action for trover taken by Geo. W. Boyer against Hans Rasmussen. Hartley & Carvell for plaintiff, W. F. Kerton for defendant. The other case is Stewart vs. Lewis. Peter Stewart, of Benton, accuses Charles Lewis of the same place, of misrepresentation in the sale of a horse. J. R. Murphy for plaintiff, Wendell P. Jones for defendant. The only criminal case is the Queen vs. Jones Deek, charged with indecent assault. Stephen B. Appleby appears for the crown, and Frank B. Carvell for the defence.

Brought Them To Time.

Joe Corbett, was down to Sussex with the 67th as a private, and a very good soldier he made. One evening Joe was on duty guarding the station. He was attacked by a crowd of Sussex roughs and so badly beaten that his shoulder was dislocated. He gave no provocation. Col. Vidal punished Sussex for the offence of its roughs. Sussex was put outside the limits, and for nearly two days, no soldier coat brightened the village. The citizens were deeply concerned and finally the prohibition was removed. Joe is all right again.
