HARTLAND.

An accident occurred on Tuesday evening, 19th inst. by which Eddie Culbert was killed by the train. He was on his way from school, and it is supposed that he sat down and leaning on the rail fell asleep. A special came along, and although they whistled and vainly endeavored to stop, the boy made no move. The train passed over the body severing completely the head and one arm. Conductor Davis returned at once and notified the coroner, Dr. Curtis, who went down and viewed the remains, but did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. The body was buried at Newburg. On Wednesday the school at which he was a pupil marched down to his home taking wreaths and bouquets from each of his classmates, and in this way endeavored to pay their respect to the memory of one for whom each had a kindly word.

This village has had the pleasure of listening to both sides of provincial politics during the past week. On Tuesday evening the opposition rally in the rink was largely attended. Allan Rideout acted as chairman. The following were the speakers: J. K. Pinder, J. T. A. Dibblee, J. K. Fleming, G. W. White, Mr. Hazen and Dr. Stockton.

The meeting seemed in every way a success. The band furnished fine music for the meeting as well as at the train in the afternoon. A sumptuous tea was served at the commercial at which many toasts were drunk and speeches made. On Wednesday the government meeting was well attended. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Curtis, and was addressed by Premier Emmerson and Prov. Secty. Tweedie. The band was in attendance and added much to the harmony of the meeting.

Preparations are being made for a pleasant day on the 29th. The school children will march headed by the band, carrying banners and flags, and the places of business will be open on that day.

The band carnival was fairly well attended, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The prize winners were Misses Maude Kimball and Eva Campbell.

Miss A. May Grey proprietor of the Ladies Emporium of this village won two first prizes at the St. John exhibition. She also took a diploma.

C. S. Osgood has rented a window in Chase's store on Main street and is prepared to do first class work in the jewellery line. The village is again glad in having a jeweller in our midst.

Mrs. W. Lyons went to St. John last week to attend the millinery opening and returned on Saturday.

Mrs. G. F. Delong has returned from St. John, where she had been for some weeks; very much improved in health.

Mr. W. B. Tompkins has finished painting the school house, and it now presents a very neat and attractive appearance.

Mr. E. W. Bell who has gone into the bee keeping industry on quite a large scale this season, finds it to be a very profitable business. He has for sale a quantity of the very finest of honey. A visit to his grounds, is well worth one's time and attention.

A meeting was held Monday evening in the Egypt school house in the interests of the coming plebiscite. The vice president for the parish, Mr. A. F. Giberson, has been very energetic in the work, and has held meetings in every part of the parish. Kent will give a large vote in favour of prohibition.

The Bristol trotting park is to be opened again to the public on Wednesday the 5th of October. Arrangements are being made for some races on that day, and so far a large number of entries have been made, and the prospects are that it will be a big day for Bristol.

Peter Marsten shot a wild cat on Saturday while hunting partridges.

E. Moore and Guy S. Moore are home from the exhibition. Mr. Moore has secured the services of a Halifax exhibitor to take charge of his electric switch and shaft coupler, at that exhibition.

Last Tuesday evening the church at Hay Settlement was filled to listen to addresses on the plebiscite by Rev. Mr. Marr and Lewis Young of Woodstock, Rev. Mr. Clements of Benton and A. E. Pearson of Meductic. Mr. Pearson held another public meeting on Tuesday evening in the Hillman meeting house at Lower Canterbury.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw of Royalton were here last week on their way to the district meeting of Lower Hainesville.

In your brief notice of the wedding at Northampton on Tuesday last, of P. S. Marsten and Miss Maude Giberson, you neglected to state that the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie and H. T. Marsten, the groom's brother, was his support. The bridal couple arrived home on Saturday and immediately took up their residence in the beautiful home all ready to receive them. That evening brought out the small boy with his tin horn and other musical instruments. It also brought out the big boy and his big sister and even many of the fathers and mothers. After the usual salutations and a plentiful treat of candy, nuts and cigars. After cheers for each, all went quietly home, and your correspondent joins the rest of the community in shaking the groom's hand in warm congratulations and wishing the bride every happiness in welcoming her to Meductic.

Expensive Klondike Gold.

Among the many estimates of the possibilities of the Klondike gold region one recently made by Mr. McNicoll, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, is rather striking. He figures that 50,000 people have gone into the Klondike this season, the total average expenditure per person be not less than $600. This would mean an investment of 30,000,000. It is stated that less than one-fifth of this sum has thus far been taken out of the Klondike, and that the total output of the Klondike country for this year is not expected to exceed $10,000,000. This is a poor return indeed. Mr. McNicoll further estimates that 20,000 of the 50,000 pioneers will return to their homes without ever reaching the gold fields.

In one street of Brunswick, Me., are the homesteads where Longfellow wrote "Oute Mer," Mrs. Stowe "Uncle Tom's Cabin," J. S. C. Abbott "A History of Napoleon Bonaparte," Professor Cleveland his "Mineralogy," and Professor Upham his "Moral and Mental Philosophy."
