

"THOUGHT MY HEAD WOULD BURST."

A Fredericton Lady's Terrible Suffering.

Mrs. Geo. Doherty tells the following remarkable story of relief from suffering and restoration to health, which should clear away all doubts as to the efficacy of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills from the minds of the most skeptical:

"For several years I have been a constant sufferer from nervous headache, and the pain was so intense that sometimes I was almost crazy. I really thought that my head would burst. I consulted a number of physicians, and took many remedies, but without effect. I noticed Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, and as they seemed to suit my case, I got a box and began their use. Before taking them I was very weak and debilitated, and would sometimes wake out of my sleep with a distressed, smothering feeling, and I was frequently seized with agonizing pains in the region of the heart, and often could scarcely muster up courage to keep up the struggle for life. In this wretched condition Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills came to the rescue, and to-day I state, with gratitude, that I am vigorous and strong, and all this improvement is due to this wonderful remedy.

BRITAIN MOURNS.

Oh! see the flags in sorrow floating
Behold the people, tears devoting!
A nation's grief
For its dead chief.
Great Britain mourns, but not alone:
Her grief is felt in every zone:
Old Erin mourns him as her own,
And Erin's tears, like Erin's deeds,
Are not disdained.
Nor hath a giant neighbor stained
An honored name by grief unfeigned
For our loss.

With his heart throbb'd the nation's,
With his voice spoke the nation's,
With his arm raised the nation's,
For two score years.
His might was felt in every land;
With chief of statesmen did he stand
The chief of statesmen, noble, grand—
"The Grand Old Man!"

TO SETTLE BOUNDARY CLAIM.

Tribunal Will Assemble in Paris Next February.

The tribunal which is to adjust the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain, as to the boundary line between the former country and British Guiana, will assemble in Paris next February. The claims of both countries are now being made up. The case of Venezuela was laid before the members of the tribunal on March 16 last, and that of Great Britain will be presented on July 16. The personnel of the tribunal was determined by the treaty of Washington in 1897, Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justice Brewer from the supreme court being selected by Venezuela to represent her interests. They and the two representatives of Great Britain have chosen, in accordance with the terms of the treaty, the fifth member of the tribunal in the person of M. De Mertens, the eminent authority on international law and chief counsellor of the Russian foreign office. At the tribunal's sittings Venezuela's agent will be Dr. Jose Maria de Rojas, and he will be assisted in the conduct of Venezuela's case by ex-President Harrison as chief counsel, with ex-Secretary of the Navy Tracy and Mr. S. Mallet Prevost, former secretary of the Venezuelan commission, as assistant counsel.—Ex.

WOMEN UNJUSTLY TREATED

When Dealers Sell Them Common and Deceptive Dyes.

There are thousands of women who have heard of the great saving that can be effected by home dyeing when the Diamond Dyes are used, and have decided to experiment for themselves.

Many of these women, thoughtlessly, will simply ask for a package of dye of the needed color when buying. This request will allow the wary dealer to foist on the unsuspecting customer some imitation or soap grease dye, worthless as coloring agents, but on which they realize a large profit.

Dealers who do this kind of business are treating and serving their customers unjustly. The dealer knows well that the Diamond Dyes, are necessary for his customer to achieve success in her new work.

The Diamond Dyes are the only dyes that reputable dealers handle and sell. The wise merchant keeps a full stock of Diamond Dyes, because the daily demand is so great for these guaranteed and world-famed coloring agents. The woman who uses Diamond Dyes for her first dyeing operation will never use other makes. Bright, strong, clear, lasting and fashionable colors are obtained only from the Diamond Dyes.

It Pays to be Polite.

The natty young man looked at the aged banker.

"I'm afraid you do not remember me," he said, with a smile.

The banker squirmed uneasily. Old recollections were tugging at his memory strings. "I am sorry to say that I do not fully recall you," he hesitatingly replied.

"Let me refresh your memory," said the young man. "On the 7th day of September, 1895, you kicked me through that doorway and down the outside stairs."

The aged banker turned pale. "I— I remember," he stammered.

"Yes," said the young man, "I thought you would recall it. I had asked you for your daughter's hand. You harshly repulsed me. You called me a designing pauper. You jumped on me and flung me out. Do you remember those pleasant details?"

"Yes, yes," groaned the banker, as he looked at the card the youth had just handed him.

"Of course you do," said the young man. "You are not a senile as you look. I see you recognize the name on the card. You know it is that of the smartest operator on the street. Yes, sir, the pauper target for your boot is now a treble millionaire. In this little valise I have securities to the value of $400,000. By the way, is the rumor true that your bank is toppling?"

"It is too true," groaned the banker.

"And would $400,000 help you?"

"Yes, yes," cried the aged man.

"And how is your lovely daughter?"

"She is well," shouted the banker.

"And unmarried?"

"Still unmarried," shrieked the old man.

"Then," said the youth, as he calmly picked up his handbag, "give her my compliments and tell her to expect cards of invitation for my approaching marriage with the Harlem heiress, Miss Van Damm. That's all, old boy. Good day. No, you needn't show me out—I—ha ha, know the way!"

He was gone with the handbag, says the narrator, in a Chicago paper, and the banker fell back on the velvet fauteuil and cursed his unfortunate quickness of foot.

CONSTIPATION CURED.

It's important you should have natural action of the bowels. Purging and griping do violence to the system. Laxa-Liver Pills are nature's own medicine for all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Cure Constipation by toning the bowel wall and stimulating the secretions. Leave no bad after effects.

There was a storm blowing and the steamship rolled a little. "Captain," said the nervous Colonial Bishop, who was returning homeward after the Jubilee, "Captain, do you think we are in any danger?" The captain looked grave. "The way the men are swearing in the engine room is something shocking. Do they know their peril?" whispered the Bishop. "I can assure your Lordship," said the captain, "that the men wouldn't as much as whisper an oath if there were any danger." The sea grew rougher. Half an hour later the Bishop might have been seen listening to the men's voices over the gangway. "Thank Heaven!" he murmured, "they are at it still!"

"My good man," said the severe lady, have you ever stopped to think how much money is wasted each year for tobacco and rum?" "No, mum, I hain't," answered the object; "it's a-takin' up all my time just now to figger out how many pore families could be supported on the price of the extra cloth women put in their sleeves."

Heart Spasms

DR. AGNEW'S CURE FOR THE HEART A WONDERFUL LIFE-SAVER.

No organ in the human anatomy to-day whose diseases can be more readily detected than those of the heart—and medical discovery has made them amenable to proper treatment. If you have palpitation or fluttering, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, swelling of feet or ankles, pain in the left side, fainting spells, dropsical tendency, any of these indicate heart disease. No matter of how long standing Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will cure it—a heart specific—acts quickly—acts surely—acts safely.

"I was given up to die by physicians and friends. One dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave me ease, and six bottles cured my case of fifteen years' standing." Mrs. J. L. HELLER, Whitewood, N. W. T.

One of the Deans of the Exeter Cathedral was walking along one of the lanes adjacent to the city recently, and appeared to have got somewhat out of his latitude. He was met by two little urchins returning from school, when the Dean stopped them and asked one of them: "How far is it to the station, my boy?" The lad eyed his knee breeches and short coat, and replied: "About a mile, mister. Wot's up? Yer ain't lost yur bicycle, 'ave ee?"

A Running Sore Pronounced Incurable by Eight Doctors—Cured by Dr. Chase.

Mr. R. D. Robbins, 148 Cowan Ave., Toronto, says:—"I had a bad leg, which was simply unsightly. From below the knee to the ankle was one great sore. Eight doctors treated me without benefit. I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment which cured me, and all that remains to be seen are the scars."

Yours respectfully,
