

Electric Railway to Van Buren.

A preliminary survey is being made for the purpose of locating an electric railway from Caribou to Van Buren. Peter Charles Keegan is one of the promoters of this road and is pushing things along with his characteristic energy. There is an ample capital behind the enterprise and if legal difficulties growing out of the charter to the B. & A. do not crop out later there does not seem to be any reason why it should not succeed. It is said John P. Donworth of Caribou and the manager of the Edmundston bank are among those interested.—Fort Fairfield Leader.

Woodstock and Houlton.

Comparisons are continually made between these two towns. They are nearly the same size and only separated from each other by twelve miles. One is on the Canadian and the other the United States side of the line. In general appearances Houlton leads Woodstock. There are on the whole finer residences and the grounds are kept in better order. Neatness and cleanliness are virtues which Houlton possesses and in which Woodstock is deficient. Again the shops in Houlton are more attractive than the shops in Woodstock. Whether the Houlton merchant really carries a better stock may be a question; but, he certainly displays his stock to a better advantage. The business streets of Houlton are more attractive than the corresponding streets in Woodstock. Still Houlton has not passed through the disastrous fires which afflicted Woodstock, and Houlton has not the peculiar advantage of its principle street being on a hill. Houlton has not the manufacturing industries that Woodstock has. A woolen mill, a starch factory and an iron foundry are the sole representatives of the manufacturing art, unless the writer is ill informed. At the present time things are quite brisk across the line. Potatoes are coming in freely and cash is paid for them. The farmer in Aroostook is not very close fisted. If he gets paid $20 he will spend some of it before he leaves town. As long as the Aroostook farmer can raise good potatoes and get from 90c. to $1.00 cash he will thrive, and the Houlton merchant will flourish. What Woodstock sorely needs is a company or an individual to buy Carleton County produce—all he can get—and pay cash for it.

Co-operative Dairying in Winter.

In order that dairying may be made a source of profit it is necessary that it should be carried on during the whole year instead of five or six months as is the general custom in the greater part of this fine province.

The dairymen of today are awakening to the fact that they have not been utilizing all the energy which the cow has or would store up (if properly fed and cared for) for milk production, but as before intimated allowed that energy to become wasted. Many reasons have been given for so doing, the principal one being that it would not pay them sufficiently to manufacture butter at the prices attainable. This, no doubt, is quite true where private dairying is carelessly and injudiciously carried on, for with poorly fed cows and dairy butter selling in the markets for from 12 to 15cts per pound or in other words from 40 to 60cts per 100 lbs of milk, it cannot be a very profitable line of work. But there is another method of conducting our dairy work that will give a fair return. Winter dairying in creameries is fast coming into favour in New Brunswick, and during the past few years a demand has sprung up for creamery butter, for which high prices has been paid. On the other hand the demand for dairy butter has decreased and the prices paid have been very low, due to the lack of uniformity in the stock put upon the market, in consequence of this thousands of dollars are annually sent out of the province for creamery butter, when there is an abundance of cows kept here to manufacture the milk for the remanufacture of all the fine butter required for the local market, and thus keep the money in the province.

A creamery has been established at Northampton, about 2½ miles below Woodstock, which is owned and operated by Mr. Geo. E. Phillips. A very fair business was done during the past summer and Mr. Phillips is now placing skimming stations at different places, throughout the country, and has prospects of doing a very successful business during the winter.

The Maritime Pure Food Company of this place are also considering the question of establishing a winter creamery in connection with their canning factory. It is the intention of the Company to establish skimming stations in various parts of the county providing a sufficient quantity of milk will be supplied to operate them. In talking with farmers in regard to this movement, many express themselves that they could not afford to pay 3½ or 4cts per pound, for manufacturing. This objection is not well grounded for if we take the market reports published at Montreal, St. John or Halifax, we find that creamery butter is today selling at from 19 to 21cts. per pound, while dairy butter is in the same markets is quoted at from 12 to 15 cts., so you can vividly see that the extra price paid for the creamery butter will more than pay for the cost of manufacturing, but this is not all, by the aid of the cream separators used in creameries, all the cream can be separated from the milk, which is impossible to do where centrifugal force is not applied. This extra quantity will be more than sufficient to pay for the manufacturing, and the extra price paid for the creamery butter over the dairy would be equal to about 20 cts. on every 100 lbs of milk manufactured. By patronizing a Creamery or Skimming Station the patrons are in a position to get their skim milk back in a sweet condition the feeding value of which is fully over one third more than if the same milk was sour. I have frequently tested samples of skim milk given me by farmers and in a few cases have found with the Babcock test as high as 2½ of fat left, when the whole milk only tested 4 per cent. of fat. Now you certainly do not think it profitable to feed butter to your pigs or calves which would find a ready market in winter at 20 cts. per pound. Your conditions may be practically the same as the case before described, and you may be one who says that dairying does not pay, and nobody could question the assertion where only half the cream was taken from the milk and the cows only in milk about 6 months during the year.

If winter dairying is to be conducted the cows should be fed succulent food, they should be kept in warm well lighted stables and should be kept milking at least ten months of the year, if this is done, the cows that are now producing about 3000 lbs. of milk during their milking period, would give more than double that quantity and dairying could then be conducted on a paying basis. It is not uncommon to hear the remark made that we have not got the right kind of stock. This may all be quite true but I can say without fear of contradiction that not one tenth of the farmers of the Province know what their respective herds are capable of producing, from the fact that they are not properly fed and cared for. New Brunswick is today occupying about the same position in dairy work as Ontario was twenty or twenty-five years ago, but in Ontario today dairying the year round is established on a sound paying basis. Let the farmer of this Province profit by the experience of the Ontario farmer and at every opportunity lend their efforts toward establishing winter Creameries wherever practicable.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 9.—According to Australian advice brought by the steamer Warrimoo, the New South Wales chamber of commerce estimates that the coming season will produce a yield of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat, of which 10,000,000 bushels will be required for home consumption, leaving 5,000,000 bushels, or roughly speaking, one hundred thousand tons of wheat to be exported.

A Suggestion.

No one would desire to see the civic ordinances so rigidly enforced as to prevent store-keepers of all conditions having a reasonable time in which to transfer the goods landed in front of their stores into the cellar or the attic, or wherever they are to go. But there is a wide difference between this and the occupancy of sidewalks and streets, day after day, with barrels, boxes, empty vehicles and the like, and particularly in those streets which are main and important thoroughfares. St. John Globe.—How does this suggestion strike Woodstock?
