Good Roads Association.

The Annual Meeting of the "New Brunswick Good Roads Association" will be held in the old Court Room Legislative Bldg, Fredericton, on the evening of Thursday the 30th, inst. and will be continued on Friday April the 1st.

All are invited to attend especially all road commissioners and County Councillors.

Papers on good roads subject will be read and interesting discussions will take place.

The Premier has announced it as his policy to obtain full sets of macadamising machinery including rock crushers, and road rollers, and to make a beginning in constructing sample stretchers of improved roads in as many parts of the Province as possible. It is therefore important that all municipalities and towns should be represented by their best road builders, who in the discussions will be able to give valuable information as to the most frequented roads suitable for the purpose, to make themselves familiar with the most suitable stones for use, and to be in touch with the movement for improved roads.

Any one willing to get up a paper on any subject connected with good roads should communicate with the Sec'y. The only requirement for membership is that one has his name enrolled by sending a request in writing (on postal card preferred) to J. S. Armstrong, Sec'y N. B. G. R. A., 5 Pugsley Building, St. John, N. B. or to care of Department Public Works, Fredericton, N. B.

Arrangements have been made for one fare return tickets good to take in the Farmer's and Dairymen's Convention as well as the good roads meeting.

CHAPTER XII.

BUT, IF THROUGH WEAKNESS

Nourishment is not Distributed, the Stomach's a Curse—Not a Comfort—Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets Give Strength and Tone to the Digestive Organs.

- 1. Digestion signifies the act of separating or distributing. 2. Hence its application to the process by which food is made available for nutritive purposes. 3. When food reaches the stomach it is subjected to a peculiar churning movement produced by the muscular walls of the stomach. 4. And in a well ordered stomach the food is arranged in a methodical manner, properly digested. 5. And the nutriment deseminated throughout the system, causing good blood and good health. 6. But if through weakness the digestive organs fail to do this duty, indigestion, chronic dyspepsia, 7. And myriads more ailments follow in close succession. 8. Dr. Von Stan's Pine Apple Tablets are nature's own aid to weakened digestive organs. 9. Sure, pure and harmless. Druggists sell them—35 cents a box. 60 tablets. Free samples at Garden Bros.

A Portrait of Christ.

For centuries past the physiognomy of Christ has been the subject of speculation, and it may be said, of hot discussion. In the early times it was considered that He would have regarded it as unworthy of Him to use the vain seductions of form to assist Him in His mission. The beauty of His doctrine was, it was urged, alone suitable for a God in the accomplishment of His mission of self-sacrifice. Others later on contended that the irradiation of divinity must have prevented Jesus from being ugly. The dispute has continued for centuries, and our Saviour has been depicted with a different physiognomy by various masters of the art. The Christ of Velasquez does not resemble that of Rembrandt and others; but now a new image is forthcoming.

A Frenchman, named Boyer d'Agén, who I believe is the author of a work on Lourdes discovered a curious bronze medal among a number of old coins for sale in a curiosity at Rome. He bought it for ten centimes, because he thought he discovered on it Hebrew characters dating back from the primitive times of the Christian era. On close examination it has been declared that it bears the effigy of Jesus. The portrait is a profile, with the head slightly inclined forward. The forehead is high, the nose rather long, slightly pointed at the tip; the moustaches are slightly marked, and the beard is pointed. As for the hair, it is long and curly. The physiognomy taken as a whole, cannot be called regular, but it is extremely fascinating. On returning to Paris with his purchase, M. Boyer d'Agén showed the medal to numerous numismatists, who pronounced it to be at least of the greatest antiquity, though of course, it would have been too much to expect they should guarantee its authenticity. The Hebrew inscription it bears on the reverse, translated into English, is:—"The Messiah, the King, will come in peace. He is the light of men, incarnate and living." Replicas of this medal, in bronze and silver, are being struck.—[Paris Correspondence London Standard.

CURE THOSE UGLY PIMPLES

By Using Dr. Agnew's Ointment—Any Form of Eczema Helped at Once, and Cured Eventually by its Use.

Not a skin blemish caused by eczema, tetter, ringworm, salt rheum, scald head and other skin diseases that will not vanish as by magic on the application of Dr. Agnew's Ointment. One application will give quick comfort and relief, and in a few days the skin heals up and is as soft as a baby's. It will cure piles in from three to five nights—no matter what nature or how long standing. 35 cents. Sold by Garden Bros.

SUCCESSFUL MEN

MANY OF THEM ARE HANDICAPPED WITH CATARRHAL DISEASES.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THEIR AID.

Success in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from catarrh; sometimes from catarrh of the stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from catarrh somewhere, and catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life, and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

Sold by all dealers, price 25 cents per box, blower free.

If there are few who have the humility to receive advice as they ought, it is often because there are few who have the discretion to convey it in a proper vehicle, and to qualify the harshness and bitterness of reproof by an artful mixture of sweetening ingredients.

"ONE OF THOUSANDS."

Miss Lily Cox, 2 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, contracted acute catarrh through taking a severe cold some two years ago. Her suffering was very distressing at times. She tried several remedies, but none gave her any real relief. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder was recommended to her—one application gave instant relief, and when she had used four bottles she says she was entirely cured. Sold by Garden Bros.

M. McCartney, Lombard St. Fire Hall, Toronto dated March 4th, 1887, states:—"Am subject to very painful conditions of soreness and other troubles resulting therefrom, but I am glad to say that I have found a perfect remedy in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I trust this may be of benefit to others."

"It's the devil for any one to tell me a secret, for it is sure to come out in print."—HAZLITT.

Our legislators are having full swing at present. The Dominion Parliament is in session at Ottawa, and the local house at Fredericton is also open. Nothing very startling is anticipated from the coming together of the great minds who rule the province, but to Ottawa we may look for something of interest. It will probably be a long and bitter session, in view of the fact that there is quite a general opinion that an election may occur before this time next year. Of course the politicians will pooh-pooh this idea and say there is nothing to it, but politicians have the privilege of lying, as well as many other privileges. So we will not take any stock in what they say. By the way time flies, and within two years we will have a census of this country. I do trust we will find that we have made some progress in the direction of increased population, even if it is secured by the introduction of the Doukhobors and of the foreigners at some considerable cost. When we get to be a country of 10,000,000 souls we will feel as big as a boy when he puts on his first pair of trousers. At the same time, while more population is required, there should be a strict guard kept, lest in our desire for a more satisfactory census, we do not open the doors so wide that undesirable bulk gets in. A badly assorted large population is a good deal worse than a well selected small population.

I have no feeling except of sympathy for the Salvation Army. It does good work and I wish it success. But I would respectfully suggest to the town council the wisdom of asking the Salvation Army to secure other quarters than the town hall for the ensuing year. The Army would have no difficulty in getting quite as suitable a place, and then the town hall would be available for town purposes. Moreover there would not be the necessity of a councillor marching up stairs every night the council meets to ask the captain of the Army to silence the big drum in order that the councillors could hear each other talk. There is a small revenue from the letting of the hall to the Army, but if the hall were available for other meetings, the revenue in the course of a year would be quite as large and possibly larger. What councillor will move in the matter?

The Imperial Parliament deals with matters affecting the peace of the world. What matter does it not deal with? The death under painful circumstances of a private soldier recently took up the attention of the house, to the exclusion of other domestic and foreign affairs. The private's name was Lorrimer. He incurred the displeasure of his commanding officer by his slovenliness, and was punished accordingly, though without undue severity. He was further charged in the report of a civilian doctor with shamming illness, and in consequence was put to a barbarous torture, the most frequent punishment in the British army, known euphemistically as "shot drill." The next day Lorrimer answered to the charge of malingering by falling dead over his plank bed. With regard to the particular case, the facts show that, according to the regulations, no one was to blame except the civilian doctor, but in the course of debate George Wyndham, the new Under-Secretary for War, drew a firm distinction between breaches of army regulations and acts of moral turpitude, hinting that that distinction in future should indicate differences in degree of punishment to be awarded, while he allowed it to be understood that as soon as possible "shot drill" would be abolished entirely. So Private Lorrimer has not died in vain.

It seems there is quite a commotion in the English House of Commons because some members are accused of having been bribed to vote a certain way, and it is seriously said that if an investigation proves them guilty they will be expelled. What a fuss over a little matter? What in the world do people go into politics for except to make money? Why, in this country we have quite come to expect our members to make money by selling their votes. The elector first sells his vote to the candidate, and the candidate having become a member proceeds to sell his vote to the monopolist who lobbies the House. It's all in the game. The old-fashioned idea that a politician should be a man of honour is all played out. He doesn't go into politics for his health, not he, and as for serving the people, that has long become a mere fiction.

GRIPPE'S LEGACY.

Shattered Nerves and Weakened Heart—A St. John Lady Tells About It.

Mrs. John Quigley, who resides at 30 Sheriff St., St. John, N. B., states: "Some time ago I was attacked by a severe cold, which ended up in a bad attack of La Grippe. Since that time I have never regained my health, being weak, nervous and run down.

"I suffered very much from Indigestion, accumulation of gas in the stomach, and was in almost constant distress. I doctored with some of the best physicians in this city; but got no relief until I began using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and am pleased to say that they have completely cured me.

"My appetite is restored; my nervous system has been toned up to its old-time condition, and I have no more trouble from the Indigestion and can eat anything I choose.

"I am only too glad to testify to the merits of such a marvellous remedy as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the cure of nervousness, heart trouble, Indigestion, etc. Price 50c. a box, all druggists.
