NEWS FROM THE COUNTY. mmmm UNIÓN CORNER.

Quite a number turned out Arbor Day especial-ly the female portion of the district. Had a general cleaning up, tore away the old fence and planted a neat spruce hedge in its place. The ladies brought baskets filled with lunches and our teacher very kindly treated all hands to candy and peanuts. The peanut scrabble was quite exciting. Mrs. McNerlin and daughter Lena have gone to Lawrence Mass.

We intend to open a church for worship on the first Sunday in June, a sort of a rededication we will be glad to have any one to meet with us, especially the clergym

Hale, Grafton. The farmers are very busy seeding. Oats have all been sown. The timely showers will very much help the growth of crops and the grass.

NORTHAMPTON.

A good deal of corn is being planted for the fac-tory this summer. One man is planting about four acres.

Rev. Archdeacon Neales held service in the school house last Sunday night. Mrs. Wm. Jandine of Caribou is visiting her mother, Mrs. Monteith.

Allie, the third son of D. S. Gibson had his leg badly broken by a lot rolling over it recently. He was working about the mill at the time.

Between three and four thousand pounds of milk is received some days here at the factory. At Pembroke Mr. Ziba Gray brings in some morn-ings nearly 900 pounds of milk. He is milking about 23 cows and is raising as many calves.

Invitations are out to the wedding of Mr. James A. Rogers, one of our most estimable young men and the Sunday school superintendent, are being issued. The happy event is to take place at Miss Shaw's residence at Hartland on June 1st. We extend our humble but hearty congratulations. Miss Allie Gill and Miss Leota Monteith spent the holiday at home.

HARTLAND.

A court of the C. O. F. was organized in this A court of the C. O. F. was organized in this village by R. J. Stuart, with a membership of about twenty. The following officers were chosen: Dr. Estey, C. R.; Harry Hunter, V. C. R.; W. A. Hayward, R. Secty; I. J. Ward, T.; Frank Hagerman, Chap; W. O. Thistle, Cond; Page Boyer, S. W; Frank Leighton, J. W.; D. B. Brown, S. B.; Gordon McAdam, J. B.; Drs. Cur-Brown, S. B.; Gordon McAdam, J. B.; Drs. Cur-tis and Estey examining physicians. Fin. com. Dr. Curtis, G. H. Campbell, Wm. Hubble. Trustees, Page Boyer, Chas. Carr. Auditors, Drs Estey and Curtis. The regular night of meeting is the fourth Tuesday in each month and will meet in the Foresters Hall.

The site for the bridge has been located by the directors. They have chosen Maple street at the upper end of the village as the landing on this side The only thing that commended it is that it will cross the lower part of Matheson's island and thus several of the butments will be out of water. But as there is a railway crossing at the landing of the bridge there will be some degree of danger caused by the passing and shunting or trains.

The Free Baptist churches of this circuit have decided to build a parsonage in this village on the church lot. A liberal amount has already been subscribed and the work will scon be commenced. The church will also be given a renovation pre-vious to the annual session of the district meeting which will convene in that church on June 17and continue in session over the Sabbath.

Notices ar at calling for tenders for the excavation of the cellar of the new school house and also for building and finishing the same. The first are to be opened on June 1st, the latter on June 15th.

Your correspondent has returned at last and will give a few items of interest that have not been made general. Several of our men are still absent on the drive. We wish them a speedy return. Rev. J. P. Puddington held service here last Sabbath afternoon. We were beginning to think he had forsaken us. Mr. Myers, Presbyterian minister on this circuit held service at Oxbow last Sabbath evening, which was laigely attended. We sincerely welcome him in our midst.

H. Watters and Miss R. Ross made a flying visit to this place last week. F. Whitehead and Miss N. Saddler passed through here Wednesday en route for Riley Brook.

One young lady's face looked happy Sunday when a certain young gentleman from Riley Brook came to spend the Sunday in our midst. Report says that Wm. Fowler of Fredericton, has returned to his home after his winter sojourn in this place. We feel certain that he will be missed by some of his friends here. Sunday school opened the first Sunday in May.

The Lone Toiler.

Are you toiling sad and lonely, Up the rugged path of Life? Sadly, slowly and with only Few resources for the strife.

In the world alone and friendless, None to cheer you on the way, Mingling with the crowd that endless Still pours onward day by day:

Though your way seems dark and cheerless As you see the thousands glide Rudely by; yet struggle fearless, Onward still with honest pride.

Courage now! and learn Life's pathway Is not made of blooming flowers And sunny days; 'tis in Romance they Live who have no gloomy hours. J. J. GALLAGHER.

"Get Upon a Farm and Thrive."

Empire Day, the 23rd of May, a suggestion of Mr. G. W. Ross, Ontario's Minister of Education, was widely celebrated in Nova Scotia and Ontario, and promises to become a popular holiday in the Queen's domains. In Montreal there was a great gathering of school children who sang songs and made merry. Of course they had to listen to orations, and the main orator of the occasion was Mr. Foster, the ex-finance minister, a native by the way of this county. Among the songs rendered was one entitled "Acres of Your Own." It contains this stirring re-
