Foulards And Silks.

Satin foulards and India silks are to be worn this season more than ever before.

Blue is perhaps the most popular color, but it is a much brighter blue than the old navy worn so long. A special novelty in these silks show a Persian stripe alternating with a plain stripe of blue, red, green or black. In some patterns the plain stripe is dotted over with small polka dots, but the effect in either case is very stylish. These silks are used for entire gown's and are especially for the tucked shirt waists.

He—Why for ten years I've been eating my wife's cooking.—Yonkers Statesman.
