NEWS FROM THE COUNTY.

RICHMOND.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence, who were reported ill, have since both died, and were buried at the Presbyterian cemetery.
Mrs. Hoyt, an elderly lady of McKenzie Corner, died last week and was buried at the Baptist burying ground. Rev. Calvin Currie conducted the service.
A surprise party from the old station spent a very pleasant evening at Mr. John Savage's last week.
A straw ride from McKenzie Corner spent an enjoyable evening at Mr. Thomas Campbell's last week.
Miss Helen McIntyre and Wilcox Gray spent a few days at Centreville last week.
Heber Jameson of Florenceville, spent a few days with his relatives here.
Miss Alice Tracy intends going to New York on Tuesday next to visit relatives there.

THREE BROOKS.

John Ryan of Arthurette, passed through here this week.
Howard Giberson, of Bath, was in this place this week, in the interests of the Woodstock Woolen Mills.
Mrs. J. Edgar, Sr., was the guest of Mrs. J. Linton, a day last week.
Quite a number of teams have gone up to haul lumber off the yards for G. Upham.

EVERETT.

Owing to stormy weather, we failed to get any mail last Thursday.
Wm. Everett is able to be around again after his recent illness.
Harry Grant is spending a few days with his parents.
Gracie Grant is spending the afternoon at The Dufferin.
Fred Watters and family emerged from their winter residence in the lumber woods today. They have been much missed.
The Angel of Death has visited our midst, and has taken Mrs. Lizzie Hathaway, who has been a respected resident of this place for upwards of thirty-five years. Deceased endured much suffering throughout the past five years, but patiently bore her infirmities, "Happy in the Lord." She was eighty-four years of age, and leaves six children to mourn her loss. The funeral took place on Thursday at two o'clock. Rev. J. Puddington preached the sermon, which was very touching. He took for the text "He shall gather his saints together." We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

UPPER KENT.

The weather has been all that could be wished for of late.
La grippe has paid us a visit but no fatalities have been reported.
Mr. and Mrs. Heber Kearney's hearts have been rejoiced by the arrival at their home of a young daughter.
Rev. Joseph Parkins has been laid up with the grippe but is able to be out again.
The school is under the judicious management of Miss Daisy Holmes of Woodstock.
George Currie, R. C. I. Fredericton, paid the friend a visit.
The friends of Rev. S. J. Perry visited his home on Feb. 17th. After a pleasant evening had been spent, the party sat down to a well loaded table, prepared by the ladies, after doing ample justice to the "inner man" they left for home, all pronouncing it a good time. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hartley, Mrs. Richard Currie, Miss Bernice Currie, Miss Jennie Squires, Miss Daisy Holmes, Miss Ethel McPherson, Miss Myrtle McNally, Miss Flora Currie, Geo. Currie, Thos. H. Currie, Chas. Currie, Hewlett McNally.
A horse which has made a record for itself is the property of W. J. Miller, Muniac. He tied the horse at the store of B. Kilburn, the horse took fright and broke away ran up the road about half a mile and then took the railroad track he ran on it a distance of eight miles, passing over culverts fifty feet long. The horse made the distance in less than half an hour, it started over the railway bridge at Perth, but missed its step and fell through, the horse was not hurt much only bruised in the bridge. Nothing broke about the rig.

UNION CORNER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barton have returned from their visit to Fredericton, where Mr. Barton attended the session of the Grand L. O. L. of New Brunswick.
Steps are being taken to make some very necessary repairs on our church.
George Moxon passed through the settlement taking orders for fruit trees.
Mrs. Wilmet Green is making a visit at her brothers in Ludlow, Me.
B. Carpenter and B. F. Chase are hauling lumber and getting it saved at R. Kirkpatrick's mill Dehes.
Jimmy McAtee is recovering from a severe attack of the quincy.
All who had the grippe, we are glad to report, are around again.
S. Potter's foot is getting very slowly.

Like every other settlement some are pleased with the result of the election and some are not.

HOLMESVILLE.

Our roads are at present very bad owing to the recent blow.
Doherty Bros. have just begun thrashing their grain. They say that it is turning out fair.
A. T. Duff has sold three sewing machines in the village in the last ten days.
Westfield Hathaway of the firm of Fisher and Hathaway says that it is a hard winter to keep a road as it drifts in about every day.
Miss Annie Duff arrived home Saturday from Fredericton.
John E. Kinney who was down with La grippe is slowly recovering.
Patrick C'Neill intends going around this week among the farmers to see how many cows he can engage as he intends to build a cheese factory in the spring.
Every thing is lively in the village now as the election is over and think the majority satisfied.
Edward Gee and wife were visiting friends in the Gore Sunday.

LAKEVILLE.

Ernest McLeary of the R. R. C. I. was home last week for a short time. He looks well and is contented among the soldiers.
Our school is progressing favorably under the guidance of John A. Drake.
Parties are the source of pleasure now. A short time ago a delegation of our ladies and gentlemen drove to Avondale and under the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Newman Black spent a very enjoyable evening.
A good many attended the Convention at Pioneer on Monday the 20th.

SPEERVILLE.

Those who have been ill with La grippe are on their feet again.
Miss Annie L. Speer spent last week with her friends in Woodstock.
The school of Oak Mountain, was closed during last week, as the teacher's mother was very sick.
Murray Milmore is taking charge of the school at this place. He is much liked by his scholars.
Lee Speer came home Saturday from the woods but returned again Monday.
Miss Emma Gibson and Miss Cluff, of North Hampton are visiting friends here.

GORDONSVILLE.

Our roads are in fine condition now owing to the large amount of timber that is hauled daily to Bristol.
Mrs. Harry Beveridge of Andover is visiting her father James Bridges.
H. Coburn is spending a few days in Gordonsville with his friend James Bridges.
Jonathan Bridges has gone to East Florenceville in the employ of H. H. McCain.
We are pleased to see the smiling face of G. E. Grant again from the bush.
William Bell who has been in the woods with his team hauling off the yards has returned home again.
C. A. Phillips has put a fine Jersey cow on his stock farm here.
Farmers of this place were not very well pleased when they learned that some parties from other places were violating the game law in this place.
Gordonsville in the past has not been up to the fashion of the day. But now we come to the front. Spectacles and trotting horses are the chief attraction of the day.
Herb Clark has a fine animal and is said to have a good record.

MEDUCTIC.

Needless to say that last week's DISPATCH contained interesting reading matter to the people of Meductic, when speaking so encouragingly of the building of the St. John Valley Railway.
Rev. Chas. Stirling, assisted by Rev. Mr. De Witt, held the ordinance of baptism at the Hillman meeting house Sunday morning.
Rev. Mr. Barton is at present engaged in holding special meetings at the Dow Settlement.
The loss by fire of the Shogomoc Mills is to be regretted, as the mill was just being fitted up for the spring's work. The insurance will cover about half the loss, and a serious feature is the great doubt of the mills being rebuilt. The owners have not decided either way, but it is to be hoped that they will be rebuilt.
Tait Dickinson met with quite a loss last week. One of his horses broke his leg and had to be killed. Only last fall, Mr. Dickinson lost another horse.
A very pleasant and agreeable party met at the residence of Jacob O. Porter on Friday evening last, when a number of the young folk of Meductic and Benton enjoyed the festive occasion until the wee sma' hours.
Mrs. P. S. Marsten and little Miss Helen have been spending several days with Mrs. Gibson of Northampton.
Percy S. Grosvenor has returned from taking a full course at the Forest City Business College at London, Ont.

EAST FLORENCEVILLE.

We are glad to be able to report a distinct improvement in Jack Dow's condition, and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery.
P. R. Semple returned on Tuesday last from Houlton, where he has been taking a course at the Shaw Business College.
Heber Jameson paid a visit to friends in Woodstock and Houlton last week.
Crokinole parties appear to be the order of the day (or night). Miss Lyn Semple gave one to her friends on Thursday evening, and a very enjoyable time was spent.
Chip Hunter returned a few days ago from Sunbury Co., where he has been lumbering during the winter.

One Evening.

I hold her hands. The lamp's soft ray
Lingers in iridescent play
Among her tresses' golden strands,
Unheeded run the hour glass sands.
With which old time seeks to dismay,
I hold her hands,
Her gaze is pensive; far away,
In silence there content to stay,
Like one who waits but for commands,
I hold her hands.
This is the picture that expands
As memory sprites lift up their wands.
If I let go—the truth to say—
On the piano she will play
Those tunes she learned from the brass bands,
I hold her hands.
—Washington Star.

ACETYLENE

The Coming Light!

We are lighting our store with a "Safety" Acetylene Machine and it is "All Right."

We have the agency for Carleton and Victoria counties for this celebrated machine, and we will be pleased to figure with parties desiring a good machine. Give us a plan of the building or rooms you want lighted and we will estimate the cost of machine and plumbing.

The light has to be seen to be appreciated, it is easy on the eyes, no dust, no smoke, no lamps to clean and no chimneys to break. The machine is no experiment, there are 22 of them in successful operation in the Maritime Provinces alone.

The machine is very easy to clean and recharge; in fact everything about the machine is simple and complete, and they are warranted. Try one.

Lord Salisbury's Early Career.

Writing of Lord Salisbury in the March Canadian Magazine, A. H. U. Colquhoun thus speaks of his first years of Parliamentary life: "The years that follow are the developing period of his life. A candid person who met him at this time asserts that among his friends and relatives he was not regarded as of much consequence or promise. His sister alone believed in him fervently. "Give Robert only the chance," she is credited with saying, "and he will climb to the top of the tree." During these years he acquired his journalistic experiences. A peer's younger son, with an income of but £400 a year, who determines to marry the woman of his choice, and who has to bear the expenses imposed by social position and a seat in Parliament, must expect to augment his income either by office under the Crown or by some regular form of work. The former alternative was remote. Lord Robert Cecil had yet to win his spurs in politics, and the prospects of his party, then in Opposition, were poor. He betook himself to writing for the press, a task for which he was exceptionally well equipped, and which must have proved to him, as to many others, the most congenial form of slavery known to civilized man. A college friend, Thomas Hamber, was the editor of the Morning Herald and the Evening Standard, two newspapers which had lately passed into the hands of the same proprietor and to the columns of these journals the young M. P. contributed leading articles chiefly upon foreign politics. In 1855 Mr. A. J. Beresford-Hope, a wealthy relative by marriage, founded the Saturday Review, and Lord Robert Cecil was one of a group of brilliant men, including John Morley, Goldwin Smith and Sir William Harcourt, who wrote regularly for that versatile and aggressive paper. His labours appear not to have been the occasional occupations of the dilettante writer, but the serious tasks of the working journalist. From his modest home in a quiet street off the Strand the future Prime Minister may have often taken a walk down Fleet Street with a supply of printer's copy in his pocket.
