His "A 1" brand in lead packets, for 25 cts., surprises every body, while his "Regal" for 30 cts. is one of the modern wonders. Compare his 20 ct. tea with any 40 ct tea in the county and be convinced.

There were about two hundred young people in attendance. The first part of the meeting was a song service for half an hour, after which addresses were made by the following ladies and gentlemen: Miss Lulu Johnston, Miss Sandra Comben, Andrew Myles, and Rev. H. D. Marr. A post card was read from Rev. Mr. Fiske who was unable to be present.

E. R. MACHUM, Maritime Manager of The Temperance and General Life Assurance Co., asks the DISPATCH to contradict the report that the Temperance and General is to be amalgamated with certain other companies. Mr. Machum goes on to say, "I understand that such a report is being circulated and I am in a position to assert positively that no amalgamation of The Temperance and General with any other company will take place. The company has had a most successful year in every way; is in a splendid condition financially and will continue to do business at the old stand and on the old lines."

THE Methodist church at Watson Settlement had a narrow escape from going up in smoke on Sunday. The Sunday school was to have been at 2 o'clock. A fire was made in the stove about 11 o'clock and after dinner Alexander Bell went to the church and found it chock full of smoke. He fired snow in around the stove and put out the fire. When the smoke had cleared out he found that two seats near the stove had been burned and a large hole was burned in the floor. The fire had caught, of course, from the stove. The whole interior of the building is badly disfigured with the smoke. Temporary repairs will be commenced at once and permanent repairs will be made in the spring.

THE Presbyterian Tennyson Club met in the vestry on Thursday evening last. Miss Annie Rankin read a valuable and interesting paper on the sources of the material used by Tennyson for his Idylls of the King. She compared the Arthurian legends with the Carolingian legends and gave the sources from which Malory got the material of his Morte Darthur. Rev. G. D. Ireland took up the second Idyll, Gareth and Lynette. He made a synoptic statement of the story on the blackboard and then interpreted the story explaining the allegories and reading extracts here and there. The attendance at the club is getting larger and the interest is increasing. On Thursday evening next, papers will be read by Miss Henderson, Miss Walker and Miss Bessie Sanderson.

A LETTER TO THE DISPATCH from Perth Centre, complains in slanderous terms that some one in that village is selling liquor, contrary to the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided. The writer, who wishes his name kept out of print, wants to know how much longer the people of Victoria County are going to endure the thing. We can't publish the text of the letter, as we are not hankering for a libel suit. It is greatly to be regretted that so many people want to get behind an anonymous letter to issue libelous statements, and leave the poor editors to pay the reckoning.

Town Council.

When the Town Council met on Monday evening the Mayor and all the councillors were in their places except only Coun. Watts, who is sick. After some bills had been passed the most entertaining part of the evening's work came up.

Coun. Graham moved, seconded by Coun. Henderson, that Donald Munro be retained for the year as Superintendent of Water Works, superintendent of sewers and caretaker of the steam fire engine at the regular salary $480, for the year.

Coun. Carr demurred. He thought a saving in this salary should be made; $50 seemed a little strong to pay for keeping the engine in shape.

Coun. Gallagher wanted the superintendent's duties defined. There was a great deal of dissatisfaction among the rate payers concerning this office and many people complained that the council employed Mr. Munro to do certain work and paid him for it and that Mr. Munro sub let his work and seduced the council into paying the sub-contractor as well; the council thus paying for the work twice. Mr. Gallagher also thought $50 was too much to pay for taking care of the fire engine.

Coun. Henderson knew that this thing had been thoroughly canvassed at the municipal election and he was glad it was now brought up. He wanted Mr. Munro to be heard as to what his duties were toward the town.

Mayor Murphy thought that the town was to say what Mr. Munro's duties were and asked the clerk to read those duties from the by laws.

Mr. Munro was heard; and most emphatically denied the charges. Any part of his work had never been done by any one but himself except the reading of a few water meters during his recent illness, which had been done by Bobbie White and for which he had paid Bobbie out of his own pocket. Mr. Munro did not think it his duty as Superintendent to do any digging and he wouldn't dig. He had conducted the sewer extensions last year and had given the workmen the levels for them. This work had previously cost the town $4.00 per day but he had done it as one of his duties at a salary of $30 a year. He had in this single instance saved the town a large item. Coun. Jones asked Mr. Munro some questions about delegated duties.

Each member of the board expressed himself as satisfied with Mr. Munro's explanation and Coun. Gallagher who had called the matter to the attention of the board, thought that he did not get a large enough salary. On motion of Coun. Carr the re-appointment of Mr. Munro was laid over till next meeting. Following is a correct statement of the Committees:

Mr. Harris had been troubled for several months with cancer in the stomach and had recently been to New York for treatment. He was born at Cornwallis N. S. For four or five years he was a clerk in Hugh Hay & Son's dry goods store in Woodstock, where he had a great many friends. He left here about seven years ago for Boston where he held a responsible position in Hovey's dry goods store. His wife was Miss Allingham, sister of Richard Allingham of Woodstock.
