

Permanent Cure of Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you've suffered with constipation for years, tried all the pills and purgatives you ever heard of read of, without getting any more relief than the one dose of the medicine afforded.

Then you were left worse than before, bowels bound harder than ever, the constipation aggravated instead of cured. All the miseries of constipation—Headache, Sick Stomach, Biliousness, Pimples, Eruptions, Blood Humors, Blisters, Piles, and a thousand and one other ills crowded back on you again with redoubled severity.

Wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be cured of your constipation so that it would stay cured? So that a repetition of all the suffering you have endured would never come again? Burdock Blood Bitters can cure you—cure so that the cure will be permanent.

That's where it differs from all other remedies. It makes a thorough renovation of the whole intestinal tract, tones the bowel wall, acts on the liver and stomach, and causes all the digestive and secretory organs to so work harmoniously and perform their functions properly and perfectly that constipation, with all its attendant sickness, suffering and ill health, become a thing of the past.

Miss Arabella Jolie, living at 99 Carrière Street, Montreal, Que., bears out all we say in regard to the efficacy of Burdock Blood Bitters in curing constipation permanently. This is her statement:

"For over a year I suffered a great deal from persistent constipation and could only get temporary relief from the various remedies I tried until I started using Burdock Blood Bitters. I am thankful to say that this remedy has completely and permanently cured me and I have had no return of the constipation."

Dancing To Cure Disease.

In the earliest ages dancing was advocated as a cure for sickness. Lycurgus brought back from India and Egypt to Lacedaemon notions of medico-religious dances and enacted that the Spartan youth should be brought up gracefully and symmetrically. In Greece Socrates commended dancing, with a view to educating the mind and body, for he looked on it as a health-giving device, says an exchange.

Dancing is not a violent exercise as practised today, yet it brings in play all the muscles. Ancient doctors recommended it as a cure for "spleen vapors and melancholic affections," as well as agues, jaundice and rheumatism. It is a mild form of exercise, which, if indulged in moderately, cannot but do one good as well as make one graceful.

A recent writer on the subject says: "As for dancing, to persons in health I shall just take leave to observe that we by no means ought to make a toil of our diversion by making it one continued scene of action, lest we exhaust the spirit and enervate the body, but to sweeten and relieve the active pleasure by frequent intervals of refreshment, by which not only the bad effects which must of necessity be the consequences of a long, unintermitted succession of motion will be entirely prevented, but the body by such agreeable exercise will gain strength and vigor in its actions, and be more enabled to persevere and keep up its economy."

IN SPRING TIME

Paine's Celery Compound

Is the Giver of Health and New Life to the Sick and Diseased.

Spring, with its bright sunshine, lengthening days, warm rains, and its promise of a new life in nature, is fast approaching and will be hailed with true delight by the old and young who are enjoying full health and bodily activity.

To thousands the coming of spring means a fuller cup of agony and suffering; it is a time when the dark grave claims many victims. When men and women are buried with death-dealing sickness, such as kidney disease, liver complaint, blood troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, and the terrible after effects of grippe, spring has no charms for them. They have allowed themselves to sink into a condition of misery and helplessness during the winter that must quickly terminate life, unless that true health and life giver, Paine's Celery Compound, be made use of without delay.

The nervous system, weak and unstrung, must be fortified; the blood, sluggish, impure and watery, must be made clean and fast flowing, and every organ of digestion must be toned up to true health pitch.

Nature's wonderfully successful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, does this good work as no other remedy can do. It acts as a nerve and brain food, it gives life to stagnant blood, it banishes permanently kidney disease, liver complaint, rheumatism, dyspepsia and other troubles that make life a misery.

The thousands of thankful letters received from Canada's best people are the best and strongest proofs that Paine's Celery Compound cures. When your life is in danger do not be misled by common advertised medicines, as many of them are dangerous and unsafe. Ask for the kind that has cured your friends and neighbors—the kind that "makes people well."

Embarrassed, but Not Silenced.

At a recent Washington reception there was a short but sharp interchange of courtesies between the wealthy wife of an ex-congressman and the wife of a far-from-rich bureau chief. It was a crowded afternoon affair, and the ex-congressman's wife was assisting the hostess in receiving guests, when the wife of the bureau official was presented the hostess said to the woman of the receiving party: "You know Mrs. Blank, don't you?" "Certainly," said the ex-congressman's wife. "I would know her anywhere by that pink dress."

The cheeks of the bureau official's wife were suffused with a rosy glow, but she turned on her tormentor and said: "Probably if my husband had been mixed up in as many questionable transactions as yours, madam, it would not be necessary for me to wear my pink reception dress so often as to cause comment."

Every word rang out clear and sharp upon the ears of the astonished guests. Inasmuch as there had been frequent criticism of the ex-congressman for his connection with questionable lobby transaction, the force of the bureau official's wife's retort can readily be imagined.—Providence News.

Berlin's Drug Stores

The German drug store is always a mystery to the American when he first becomes one of its customers. It is not nearly so comprehensive as the American institution of the same kind. The apothecary's department, which is only one feature of the American drug store, is an independent establishment in Germany and is devoted to the filling of prescriptions and the duties of the apothecary. The "droguerie" quite a separate place, provides half the articles customarily found here in the drug store. It is to the droguerie that one must go for soap, tooth brushes, drugs in the pure, and all of the articles not dealt in by the apothecary. The division may be convenient one after, the mysteries have been mastered, but it is confusing at first.

Another peculiarity of the apothecaries is that most of them have names displayed. That custom dates from the earliest days of their history. One of the most famous in Berlin closed its doors the other day, and the incident recalled some most interesting facts. The old names of the shops have survived to some extent, although the purely fantastic names have given place to others better suited to the commercial exigencies of modern times. The city today possesses 164 shops of apothecaries, and many have adopted names taken from the street, square or region in which they are situated. There are fifty-six of these, and nineteen are known only by the names of their proprietors. Nineteen are named after birds, the eagle having ten named in its honor. There are all sorts of eagles among these ten, black, red and white. Other names include wild animals, mythological names such as Minerva and Flora, and royal titles like Friedrich and August Victoria. Most curious are those called after famous historical personages, such as Arminius, Roland and Siegfried. One difference between the early days in Berlin and the present is the practical disappearance of the French apothecaries. In 1780 when the first count was taken three out of twenty-one were French. Twelve of these original places are known to-day by the names they bore then.

War and Intervention.

One of the proposals of the tentative programme of the peace conference drawn up by the Russian Government takes the line of forbidding the use of new inventions and improved mechanical ideas in the wars of the future. At the very moment when this proposal was sent out the French were pluming themselves upon their success in perfecting a really workable type of submarine torpedo boat; the English were celebrating the launching of the hugest and most powerful warships ever built, and were improving the mechanism of war in all possible ways; and the German Emperor was winning the praise of experts for a new style of rifle that he had invented and that was expected to yield particularly deadly results. Whatever the peace conference may accomplish, it will certainly fail to get the nations to use obsolete weapons in future wars, or to undertake to fight with their hands tied behind their backs. The horrors of war are not to be lessened by persuading people to revert to the days of bows and arrows and other primitive weapons. On the contrary, it is more probable that the fearful advance of invention in the field of destructive apparatus for war will make war less and less feasible for civilized peoples, and will hasten the advent of perpetual peace.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for March.

Women Need Not Suffer

From those terrible side aches, back aches, headaches and the thousand and one other ills which make life full of misery.

Most of these troubles are due to impure, imperfectly filtered blood—the kidneys are not acting right and in consequence the system is being poisoned with impurities.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

are daily proving themselves woman's greatest friend and benefactor.

Here is an instance: Mrs. Harry Fleming, St. Mary's, N.B., says: "The use of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to complete health. The first symptoms I noticed in my case were severe pains in the small of my back and around the loins, together with general weakness and loss of appetite. I gradually became worse, until, hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from our druggist. I am pleased to testify to their effectiveness in correcting the troubles from which I suffered."

'Twas Only George.

* Sybil—"It's no use denying it, Maud. It was too dark for me to see who it was, but I distinctly saw some young man kiss you in the garden. I'm ashamed of you."

Maud—"I don't see why you should be. I've often seen George kiss you."

Sybil (engaged to George)—, Yes. But I allow nobody but George to kiss me."

Maud—"Well, it was nobody but George who kissed me."
