COOK'S NEW BLOOD PILLS.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Coun. Tompkins thought in postponing this matter, the council would not be using the committee fairly.

Coun. Henderson contended that something must be done to the gaol. It must be repaired or give away to a new building.
The committee can do nothing at present so there need be no fear on that score.

Coun. Cronkhite—Coun. Henderson does not care where the gaol is built, he says, but he wants the matter left till June, and yet is against letting it wait till it can come before the people in October. If you want it moved why not put it at Hartland, where Coun.
Connolly says it should be.

Coun. Connolly—I did not say that.
Coun. Cronkhite—Well! I will take that back. He would like to see the matter submitted to the people next fall. This was the custom in that great province of Ontario, which was so often quoted. He did not believe in building any specially good building for the criminals who were incarcerated there.
In order for the council to be justified in erecting a new gaol it should be by a unanimous or almost unanimous vote. If this building was good enough for the gaoler was it not good enough for the prisoners? No lowery place was necessary for them.

Coun. Phillips said this question was sprung on the board last June. The question was voted down by one. In August those favoring the gaol got a vote of 14 to 11. The people are dead against this new gaol. This was his experience after a house to house talk, and he did not believe one in fifty would vote for a new gaol in Woodstock. It will not be less an expense than $75,000 for court house and gaol. Let this matter be made the issue for the people in October next. Our motto is "no surrender."

Coun. Kearney was opposed to the motion to put the question over till the June session.
95% of the people in his parish was against this new move. The name of humanity was invoked for the new gaol, but true humanity lay in keeping down the taxes, rather than building a palace for men who would cut your throat or burn down your house.

Coun. Gillmour—That gaol is not fit for a human being. A petition was sent into his parish by Mr. Connolly. Neither William Hemphill, Messrs. Staten, Simpson or J. R.
Ronalds, the best men in the parish would sign that petition. Every man in Aberdeen was in favor of building a new gaol in the town of Woodstock. He knew so far as a miller he saw them all.

Coun. Connolly said that Wm. Hemphill signed the petition referred to in his presence. Councillors from Woodstock want this matter laid over till June, because unfortunately and providentially two councillors are absent. I am willing to vote for an amendment to an amendment to lay this matter over till next January. On a previous occasion the people voted against a similar motion. The people have been aroused and they have raised money that an injunction might be put on this work. Times are hard and the people have a hard time paying their taxes. It is these men that deserve consideration, not those who by their bad deeds went to gaol. He did not think a person in Hartland had asked that the gaol be removed there. One man had said why not move it to Hartland. I said this would be unreasonable, as there was no bridge over the river.
If there was a bridge over the river, it might have been different. He believed there was underhanded work in getting the special meeting to endorse the building of the new gaol. If those in favor of the gaol had treated the county fairly there would not be the turmoil there is in the county today.

Coun. Gillmour said that to put a debtor in this gaol was an awful punishment. It was better treatment they accorded in Russia where they used the knout.

Coun. Caldwell said that if the amendment were carried and the injunction were dissolved the committee could go right on and build the gaol. The motion to go over to June did not go far enough.

Coun. Saunders said the councillors were equally guilty with the committee in anything they had done. Coun. Connolly had accused the committee of saying that this would cost $75,000. This was an unfair charge. The committee are honest in this, and when they say the gaol will cost $10,000 they mean it. Dr. Curtis has entered into bonds to pay the damages, and he knows that the injunction will be dissolved and he will be left in for this. Therefore he wants this motion rescinded. We as a committee did this by your instruction, and you are responsible.

Coun. Cronkhite said he had not gone for the gaol in any shape or form.
Coun. Saunders said there were no nays against the instructions to the committee.
The committee did not exceed their powers.
All that was asked was that the matter be postponed.

Coun. Phillips read a petition from 1520 rate payers against the erection of said gaol.
Coun. Saunders amended his motion by adding a clause that it is understood the committee do no further work until after the June session.

Coun. Henderson read the provisions of the contract that the gaol should not exceed in price $10,000. Among those 1500 names which Coun. Phillips shows he would hardly swear that they all are rate payers.

Coun. Mooers favored waiting for a decision before the bench of judges. He favored Coun. Saunders amendment. He was not afraid to go back to Simonds and run an election on this gaol issue and be elected. He believed in having a gaol to the credit of the county. The present building is one hundred years behind the time. The hollowness and shallowness of the arguments advanced against the gaol, made him firmer than ever in his convictions that the opposition in the county was purely imaginary. He believed that the town of Woodstock would give the $1000 they promised, when they saw the gaol advancing. Every argument of any force was with those in favor of the gaol. He might never be here again, but if this question was placed to the front, he would not be afraid of facing the people, and more than that he would do so and had no fear of the people. These bug-a-boos of petitions did not scare him a bit. A new gaol must be built sooner or later, and the present was an opportune time to deal with it.

Coun. Shaw thought Coun. Mooers was shaky as to his belief in the town's intention to build the gaol.

Coun. Mooers said that his remark was made in view of the resolution proposed.
He had no doubts regarding the town's intention.

Coun. Shaw thought the town had never given any guarantee as to the payment of the $1000.

Couns. Saunders and Henderson pointed out that the town was bound by resolution of the council to donate this money.

Coun. Shaw did not think the gaol could be kept within the $10,000, when plans of Houlton gaol were taken as a model.

Mr. Drysdale, the architect was heard and said the Woodstock gaol building would be only one half the size of the Houlton gaol, and would not cost beyond $12,000 and would be a credit to the county.

Coun. Shaw said it looked very strange to him that the committee did not expend the $300 on the old gaol as instructed by the council last June in view particularly of the condition of the gaol. He believed in submitting the matter to the people, and moved as an amendment to the amendment that the matter lie over till the next January session.
It was now six o'clock and on motion of Coun. Gibson the council adjourned.

The council resumed its session on Thursday morning.

Coun. Connolly rose to a point of order and offered an apology for a remark he made the previous evening reflecting on the impartiality of the warden.

The warden accepted the explanation of the councillor.

The bill of James Baker and others for $7.00 re coroners request was ordered paid.
Ordered refunded Michael Gallagher dog tax $1.00.

$550 was ordered assessed for poor purposes on Wakefield.

It was resolved that collecting justice of Wakefield do not collect $1.00 non-resident road tax from Stanley Wilson.

Norman Clark was added to the list of constables for Wakefield.

Collecting Justice Lindsay, Wakefield, was instructed not to collect $1.00 poll tax from Alex. Bell, non resident.

S. L. Dickinson's paid dog tax $1.00 was ordered to be re-imbursed.

On motion of Coun. Caldwell the old board of valuers was re-appointed. They are John R. Ronald, Theodore H. Estey and John McLaughlan, Mr. Estey, chairman.

The collecting justice of Wakefield was ordered not to collect the property tax for 1898 from Thos. Strong.

Coun. Phillips presented the petition of 1528 ratepayers asking that a gaol be not erected in the town of Woodstock. The petition reads:— Whereas, at a special meeting of the County Council, which was held at the Court House, in the County of Carleton, in the month of August last, a Resolution was passed by said Council to build a Gaol in the Town of Woodstock, which Gaol, we believe, is not necessary at the present time, and which Resolution, if carried out, will place a heavy burden on us, the Ratepayers of said County.

Therefore, we, the ratepayers of said County, petition your Honorable Body to rescind the order passed at the said special Meeting to build a Gaol in said Town, and also that you do not proceed any further with the erection of said Gaol until consent is given by a majority vote of the Ratepayers of said County. He moved that the prayer of the petition be granted.

Coun. Cheney seconded the motion.

Coun. Saunders moved in amendment.
Whereas C. E. Gallagher, Esq., a member of this council and also a member of the gaol committee, met with an accident that nearly took his life, and prevented his attendance at this board, and whereas, Hon. Geo. W. White, chairman of the gaol committee, and also a member of this council, was called to the death bed of his son, and had to leave this council meeting, this council regrets the absence of these gentlemen from the board, and out of respect to them, and in fairness to the ratepayers they represent, resolves that the consideration of the gaol question be postponed till the June session, when there will be a full board present.

Coun. Mooers seconded the amendment.

Coun. Forrest objected to the end of the resolution unless Coun. Saunders could guarantee a full board in June, also that there was no such person as Hon. Geo. W. White.

Coun. Saunders changed his resolution omitting the words "when a full board will be present," and changed the wording so as to read "Couns." White and Gallagher.

Coun. Forrest thought if this was a small matter, raising these points, Coun. Saunders had been equally guilty by his sharp practice the previous day.

Coun. Saunders objected to such an insultation.

Finally by the mediation of the warden peace was made between these two councillors.

Coun. Cronkhite thought we all had respect for the two absent councillors, but the parishes they represented were represented by their colleagues. Out of consideration to the feelings of the people of the county who had forwarded this large petition, he did not think this matter should be postponed. We are only the servants of the people, and should give them a chance to vote on this vote.

Coun. Phillips said that there was only one out of the five members from the town and parish of Woodstock, who regard the voice of the people. He thought the prayer should be granted.
Coun. Gillmour—The people of Aberdeen favor my move, and for this reason I support the amendment. It was a question between building a new gaol here or at Hartland. I would hold up both hands for Hartland. Woodstock is the proper place.

Coun. Connolly claimed that it was only fair that this matter should lie over until the January session, when the people would have had an opportunity to express their opinion.

Coun. Cheney went with a petition and only met with three men who were in favor of the new gaol. It is well for this council to be generous, but with those large petitions, he thought we should rescind this business and pay off our indebtedness. The voice of the people in his parish was against going in for a new gaol.

Coun. Saunders said there were about 6000 ratepayers in the county, and the petition was from 1528. By voting for this resolution the case before the court is not stopped. It does not end the matter. Nothing is lost by postponing this matter till June, but you show respect to these absent councillors by postponing the matter till June.

Coun. Tompkins said that those persons who said that this building would cost $70-000 or $100,000 spoil the force of their argument.

Coun. Cronkhite—Were the people so talking referring to the gaol or the two buildings combined?

Coun. Tompkins—I supposed they referred to the question at issue which is the gaol.
He had all confidence in the gaol committee, and no arguments had been presented to make him change his mind. He was sure he was on the side of right and economy.

Coun. Flemming said in August he did not know a man in his parish against the new gaol. In looking over the petition he saw many names of persons who were not rate payers. We could not leave every matter of expenditure to the people. It was known that expenditure was unpopular. He claimed that he had never changed his views, but he did think the offer of Woodstock to give $1000, was an important factor in the question.
Supposing the local legislature went to the people on every item of considerable expenditure? The same view should hold with this county council.

Coun. Forrest thought it was absurd to say as some councillors did that $10,000 could be added to the burdens of the people and yet the people not know of it.

Coun. Purinton said the petition largely misrepresented matters. He had never seen the petition till today. A man came to his mill and said he was in favor of the petition, as it was proposed to spend from $70,000 to $100,000 for a court house and gaol in Woodstock. After he explained the true state of affairs this man said he was in favor of the gaol. He was sure the people in his parish were for a gaol suitable to the standing of the county.

Coun. Forrest claimed this matter was before the courts because the council had done an illegal act.

Coun. Gillmour—No.

Coun. Forrest—One judge, Judge Vanwart has said so, anyway, and he is as good an authority as the councillor from Aberdeen.
Coun. Saunders is very much averse to 23 men doing the work of the council, but he is not averse to the work being done by 14 men, when these 14 decide for a new gaol. He claimed that the town of Woodstock had no authority to donate $1000 to the county.

Coun. Henderson—They are going to secure legislation.
Coun. Forrest—They have not done so yet.
Coun. Saunders had made the remark, and he (Forrest) could prove it that the $10,000 would just commence the gaol.

Coun. Saunders—I did not say any such thing.

Coun. Forrest—I can prove this in this court house, if you deny it.

Coun. Saunders—I said $10,000 would start the gaol and build it.

At this stage the adjournment was had for dinner.

After dinner the council again met.

Coun. Saunders said that a proposition had been made to him that his amendment would be accepted if he and his friends would add a clause, providing that no work be done on the gaol till after the June session.

Coun. Forrest—If you will guarantee that there will be no further expense till the June meeting, I am with you.

Coun. Saunders proposed this addition to his motion "it being understood and agreed by this council that no further work is to be done by the committee till after the June meeting."

Coun. Connolly—Does Mr. Saunders mean that the council will not press this matter in the court?

Coun. Saunders—We are doing nothing in the courts. The question of dropping it rests with you.

The amendment moved by Coun. Saunders was then carried without a dissenting voice.

Coun. Mooers moved this resolution—Resolved that in the opinion of this council it would be in the interests of economical government for the province that the legislative assembly be reduced so that one member only be elected from each county, allowing two members from the city of St. John.

Coun. Saunders seconded the motion which was lost.

On motion of Coun. Connolly his motion made at the June session regarding the support of the poor was laid over till the next June session.

Coun. Cronkhite moved that a bill presented by Sidney Lloyd amounting in all to $40, expense incurred in arresting Chalkers and Melvin Crabbe, in connection with the burning of Lloyd's buildings be paid.

Coun. Saunders seconded the motion.
It was decided that the bill be paid, when duly sworn to.

The council then adjourned sine die.
