ALWAYS JUST RIGHT—You never grumble and growl and say bad things about your tail or when we make the clothes. The kind of clothes we make wear longer too—just the way with everything that is made just right. J. F. SMITH has in his possession quite a relic in the shape of an ancient document from L. S. Doran, the Secretary at War, London, Eng. to Mr. Smith's father, and is addressed to Jacob Smith, Esquire, Lieut., New Brunswick Fencibles, Woodstock, N.B. The document was sent in 1842, before the use of postage stamps. One peculiarity of the message is that it was written May 2, postmarked May 4, postage was paid May 26, and the document delivered June 21.—Star Herald Presque Isle.

HERE'S a marriage notice that appeared in an exchange. "Married at Fenstone, by Rev. Windstone, Mr. Mehemiah Whitestone and Miss Wilhemina Sandstone, both of Limestone." This is getting "mighty rocky" and there's bound to be a "blasting" of these "stony" hearts before many "pebbles" appears on the connubial beach. The grindstone of domestic infelicity will sharpen the axe of jealous and discord, and sooner or later one or the other of this pair will rest beneath a tombstone. Then look out for brimstone.

THE Fire Department was called out, Monday, by a blaze in the workshop of Buzzell & Crockett's furniture store. It was caused by fire getting into some turpentine which caused an explosion, scattering flame among the dry material of the shop. W. F. Buzzell, in trying to get the can of burning turpentine out of the shop was badly burned about the face and hands. The skin of the left hand was so severely burned that it peeled off completely. The right hand was badly blistered and burned. The face and neck were also scorched. Dr. Mitchell dressed the burns and reports Mr. Buzzell as doing nicely. The stock was damaged by smoke and water to the extent of $700. County Attorney Shaw received word, Saturday, that the body of a man was found floating in Aroostook river. He ordered Coroner Boone of Presque Isle to hold an investigation. It was thought that the body had been in the water about four weeks. The neck was broken as were the bones of both arms. The top of the head was gone. There was no marks by which the body could be identified.—Houlton Times.

IT LOOKS as if there would be a pulp mill at the Tobique Narrows in the near future. BIG GAME ON TOBIQUE.—Mr. Adam Moore, the well-known guide, hunter and trapper of Scotch Lake, is at present visiting the hunting regions of the Tobique fixing up the camps and looking over the ground preparatory to the summer and fall sport. He writes to friends here that one evening recently while standing in the doorway of his camp on Nepisiquit Lake he saw eight moose in a herd and one deer was in sight. The day before that while at another camp in the same region he saw four moose and two caribou at one time. This would seem to indicate that there will be an abundance of big game on the Tobique next fall.—Gleaner.

A Midnight Row.

Quite an excitement was caused around town on Friday morning when it became known that there had been a big row, in which one broken head, anyway, figured, at Mrs. Lint's house near the park. The police in order to get at the truth of the affair arrested Mrs. Lint, Mandy Worth, Elias Worth, James Nugent and Jas. Hanlon. Owen Colton was in the row, and his head was so badly cut that he had to be taken home, where his wounds were dressed by the doctor.

At the Police Court the first party examined was Mrs. Emma Lint. She said my husband's first name is Gilbert. I live by the park in one of Mr. Millmore's houses. I know James Hanlon by sight. He was there about 11 o'clock. In the house were two boarders: Elias Worth and Mandy Worth. Hanlon came about 11. With him was Owen Colton. They came and rapped at the door two or three times. I asked what they wanted. They said they wanted to come in. I said this is after hours. They said they wanted Elias Worth. I said he is not here, it is after hours. Hanlon said we will kick the door in if we don't see Worth. I said I would have them arrested. Hanlon said I don't care. He said I will kick the door down if you don't let us in. He shouted out a lot of bad language. They went away and came again and said they would knock the door in. Then, when asked who was there, one of them said, we are Ad. McFarlane and Tom McCarron, and you must open the door, or we will kick it in. They split the panels out of the door. It would take $5.00 or so to put the door in good repair. Elias Worth struck Owen Colton with the bed slat. Worth was trying to keep them back. He was boarding with me and had been boarding with me between three and four weeks.

James Hanlon next gave his account of the affair. He said that Colton insisted on going to Mrs. Lint's house, and that he, Hanlon, tried to keep him back. Colton knocked pretty hard at the door and perhaps broke the panel. Worth and Nugent came out with clubs and attacked Colton. I thought they would kill him and I ran to get McCarron. I did not strike the door but tried to keep Colton from going there.

James Nugent said that he was at Mrs. Lint's about 11 o'clock and was about to go home but the women said they were afraid of Hanlon. Colton kept pounding the door with rocks while Hanlon encouraged him on. They said "we are Ad. McFarlane and Tom McCarron, and are going to clean out this place." The door came in. They broke both panels and knocked a chunk off the door. It was not me but somebody else who hit Colton. Elias Worth was in the house.

Elias Worth—said Hanlon and Colton came about 11 o'clock and wanted to get in. They threatened to murder me. They went away but came back, and Colton stove the door in. He tried to stop them from getting in, and in defending himself struck Colton with a bed slat. Had been boarding there for a month past. His sister boarded there.

The hearing of the case was resumed on Monday afternoon, but did not go very far, as Colton was unable to be present. The information charges Hanlon and Colton with having broken into the house of Mrs. Lint and damaged the door, to an extent not beyond $10 damages. The further hearing of the case was postponed until Friday at ten o'clock in the forenoon.
