

Woods For Pulp Making.

With the expansion of the pulp industry, experiments are being made with a view to finding suitable woods other than spruce for pulp making. While we do not anticipate that spruce will be superseded by any other wood, the fact can be overlooked that the steps taken towards finding other suitable woods have met with some degree of success.

Much attention has been paid to cottonwood, which is now used quite extensively for pulp making in Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee and other parts in the United States. It is said that cottonwood is even better adapted for the manufacture of pulp for making the higher grades of paper than is spruce.

Hemlock is steadily coming to the front as pulp wood. The Central Paper Co. are about to establish a pulp mill at Muskegon, Mich., the raw material for which will be hemlock slabs and edgings exclusively. This will be the first exclusive hemlock pulp mill in the United States. The raw material will be gathered up at the hemlock mill in the Muskegon district and brought by rail to that point, where a special patented process will be used for converting the wood into pulp. Other mills in Michigan and Wisconsin use hemlock as part of the raw material, one at Menominee using about 16,000 cords annually.

In connection with yellow pine, some experiments of much interest have taken place. A method is said to have been discovered by which the pitch can be extracted from longleaf yellow pine so that the almost inexhaustible supply of that timber may be turned to the paper makers' use. A practical test of the method has been made, and a mill is being erected at Pensacola, Florida.

Perhaps the most important discovery has been that flax straw may be used for pulp making purposes, the product thus manufactured being superior, it is said, to that made from the best pulp woods. According to report, the Lloyds, of London, Eng., purpose establishing a mill at Niagara Falls, N. Y., with the intention of using flax straw as the raw material.—Canada Lumberman.

TORONTO CASE.

A Common Incident in the routine of the Queen City of the West.

John Blow, of 67 Princess St., Cured of Lumbago and Diabetes—Every Other Remedy was Given a Fair Trial—But it was Dodd's Kidney Pills that Cured him.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—There are so many cures performed by Dodd's Kidney Pills reported in this city from day to day that a story of recovery from Bright's Disease or Diabetes, or some other form of Kidney Disease, has to be almost sensational in its details before it receives any attention in the press. People have, to a great extent, ceased to wonder at their neighbors being cured of Bright's Disease or Diabetes, notwithstanding that both these maladies were, until comparatively recently, utterly incurable. As for Backache, Rheumatism, Heart Trouble, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, Dropsy, Women's Weakness, Blood Disorders, etc., it is looked upon as a matter of course that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them. Here is the case of Mr. John Blow, 67 Princess St., which the Toronto papers published this week:—

"I have been a great sufferer with Diabetes and Lumbago for years. Every remedy I could hear of was given a fair trial in hopes it would help me. But until I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills my hopes were all in vain, and my torture night and day unbearable. No one could imagine the suffering I endured; night and day my pains kept me in misery. It seemed as if there was neither relief nor cure.

"When I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills I experienced relief. Every succeeding dose hastened my complete recovery.

"I have used, in all, five boxes, and am thoroughly cured—a strong, healthy, hearty, vigorous man, whereas before I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I was a constant and miserable sufferer. I cannot find words to express my entire confidence in Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Irishmen Are Indignant.

Montreal Herald. The officers and members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Montreal are intensely indignant over the publication a few days ago of a resolution which has been accepted by some as voicing the opinions of Irish-Canadians regarding the Transvaal war. It is stated today that the officers of the County Board have made enquiries concerning the matter and have found that not more than two or three men are responsible for the affair. Two names only were signed to the resolution which was sent to The Herald.

A meeting has been called for Friday night, and it is said to be the intention to move for expulsion from the society of those who are responsible. It is also reported that the principal officers of the society feel so strongly on the question that they are considering the advisability of withdrawing the charter from the branch which allowed the motion to be passed.

A STRONG PULL.

We have been making a strong pull and a long pace for the cream of the custom tailoring trade our efforts have been SUCCESSFUL. In order to accomplish this we have endeavoured to give Newest Styles, the best Goods, the best Workmanship, without FANCY PRICES. We are not running any philanthropic organization. We find it pays, and we do not propose to abate one jot in our efforts to maintain the position we have won by sheer merit in the trade. Competition of course must be considered in every business, but it is something about which we do not trouble ourselves unduly. All our efforts are focussed in the endeavor to turn out at the lowest possible cost the BEST GARMENTS that skill and ingenuity can devise. So we haven't much time left us to trouble about competition. But we know that talk has no value unless there is something solid to back it up with, and make good the words that have been spoken. We have the goods bought before the rise in wool and shall continue to make them to order at the same prices as heretofore. With these we bid for your trade.
