

RAILROAD.... KIDNEY

A Disease Peculiar to Railroad Men, which is readily Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Has it ever occurred to you that most railroad men are afflicted with kidney disease?

Such is the fact, however, and the disease is known among railroaders as "railroad kidney."

The first and most marked symptom is a weak, lame and aching back. You may think at first that you are only tired; but as this trouble increases day by day, kidney disease, with all its errors, is fast claiming you as a victim.

Mr. Geo. Cummings, for over 20 years engineer on the Grand Trunk running between Toronto and Allandale, says: "The constant duty with my work gave me excessive pains in my back, racking my kidneys. I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my friend, Mr. Dave Conley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. I recommend them to all my friends."

"It's the devil for any one to tell me a secret, for it is sure to come out in print."—HAZLITT.

Strike while the iron's hot, is a very good motto. There is a time to speak and a time to keep silent. Midwinter is no time to talk of sidewalks, and neat boulevards, but midsummer is just the time to do such talking, and I must therefore crave indulgence if I harp on the subject a bit. It is noticeable that the spirit of neatness is gaining possession amongst us, slowly but surely. By all means, let this be encouraged. A very little effort on the part of each householder who has a few feet of green front will convert Woodstock into a very pretty little town. Remember, this is the age of the tourist, and the tourist has some money to spend. He is bound to find out Woodstock, on account of the charming scenery on all sides. A stranger, who was here the other day, was loud in his praises of the natural beauty around this town. He will tell people he meets about it. Once more I say, let us spruce up in these gay summer days.

The Puritans when they condemned the theatre, in toto, made a mistake, as they did in many other things. Their representatives of today are making the same mistake. "The theatre is godless, an abomination of desolation and what not, just as cards are the devil's implements, while dominoes are all right." It is strange that sensible men can be so deceived. In most cases the deception is effective by lack of education. No doubt there are many plays at the theatre which have a pernicious influence, but I am equally sure that there are plays which have a highly moral influence and do people good. I attended a play in the Opera House last week when that excellent troupe, the Butler Company, were playing to disgracefully small houses. The play was a simple, pretty Irish piece, in which the usual villains figured. But, the point is that the influence of the play was moral. One felt better for having seen it and heard it, and the same may be said of hundreds of plays that fill the theatres. In many instances the theatre may have as good a moral effect as the prayer-meeting. I wish to congratulate the Butler Co. for the admirable shows they gave last week. It was too bad that they did not have better houses, but our people have been fooled by poor companies, and unfortunately "press notices" are almost always complimentary. The Butler Co. is one of the best that ever visited Woodstock. It had to win its reputation not by "puffs," but by real good work and that it has succeeded in doing.

The school holidays are about to begin or indeed have begun. This must be a joy of joys for the youngsters, if they feel as I used to feel, seventy or eighty years ago, when I was a boy. They who won prizes at the schools need no encouragement, but I have a word for those who did not win any prizes. It is a good thing to win, if you win quite honestly, otherwise you have no reason to be satisfied. Whoever wins a prize by "copying" must feel cheap, and whoever begins life by copying at school, will copy through the rest of life. Now, you who begin by winning prizes, honestly keep it up. It is not much satisfaction to a fellow in after life to remember that he won a medal or a book when he was in his teens. And, as for you who get no prizes, you may yet have the better education. Not many leaders today in statesmanship, science, or anything else were noted as brilliant school children. You can never tell about the fruit, till it is ripe.

COOK'S NEW BLOOD PILLS.

The up River Steamer Service.

Every spring there is a grumble about the unsatisfactory condition of the up river steamer service and every year the service seems to get worse. It is natural that it should get worse, for the Aberdeen is grow-older and being a wooden vessel tends to draw more and more water every year. As it is the service is very inadequate and owing to the difficulty of forecasting whether the steamer will run on a certain day or not it is of very little use to the residents in the up river parishes, and consequently of very little use to the business community of this city. During the summer months the residents in the river parishes have often great difficulty procuring the necessaries of life which must be purchased, and the merchants of this city are deprived of a large trade which should by rights be theirs. If it were not that we have in the present system the possibility of better things we might almost be induced to undertake the withdrawal of the subsidy. But there is no reason why the service should not be accurate. Steel steamers drawing not more than six or eight inches of water can be obtained, and there could easily be provided for them a channel during the whole period in which the river is open. The trouble is that the improvements of the navigable channel have not been systematic enough. Yet for an expenditure of twenty thirty thousand dollars a good channel could be provided from here to Woodstock, and we should have the use of what is one of the finest natural waterways in the world.—Fredericton Gleaner.

COOK'S SURE COUGH CURE

An Evasive Answer.

"John," said a clergyman to his factotum, "I shall be very busy this afternoon, and if any one calls I do not wish to be disturbed."

"All right, sir. Will I tell them you're not in?"

"No, John. That would be a lie."

"An' what'll I say, yer reverence?"

"Oh, just put them off with an evasive answer."

At supper time John was asked if any one had called.

"Yes, there did," he said.

"And what did you tell him?" asked the clergyman.

"I gave him an evasive answer."

"How was that?" queried his reverence.

"He asked me was yer reverence in, an' I sez to him, sez I, 'Was your grandmother a hoot owl?'"—London Answers.

Lockjaw And Perspiration.

Lockjaw when caused by a wound has been considered incurable and it is only of late years that a few instances of successful treatment have been recorded, the most striking being those affected by the Indian whoolalia poison and enormous doses of alcohol. Two cases are reported in which all the alarming symptoms were removed by violent perspiration. The first that was of a young man of twenty-two, who had the misfortune of having his hand caught in the gearing of a threshing machine; part of the skin was carried off, but in the course of a fortnight everything seemed progressing towards a speedy cure, when one morning the patient awoke with a strange rigidity in his jaws, violent pain all over the sternum, intermittent difficulty of breathing and convulsive starts in the lower limbs. A doctor being called in, he immediately proceeded to throw his patient into violent perspiration. For this purpose he had hoops put under the bedclothes in order to prevent their contact with the body, and then got four deep pots filled with quicklime, which he slightly moistened with water.

To prevent the skin from being scorched each pot is wrapped in linen and then placed on each side of the patient, orders being given to the family to moisten the quicklime from time to time and to change it when exhausted. The heat engendered was so intense that on the first day the bedclothes caught fire, which however, was speedily extinguished. As for the perspiration, it was so immoderate as to pass all belief. On the fifth day all tetanic symptoms had disappeared, except a little stiffness in the jaws; the patient was in a state of complete prostration, which was, however, removed by good nourishment, and a few days after all traces of dangerous affection had disappeared.

The second case was that of a day labourer, who, when the doctor came, appeared in a dying state. He at first denied having had any wound, but upon examination an injury caused by a hobnail was discovered on one of his great toes—a circumstance the patient had forgotten. The treatment was the same and attended with the same results.—London Globe.

THE DANGER SEASON.

An Appeal to the Suffering and Diseased.

Paine's Celery Compound
The Great Deliverer and Rescuer Cures Even at the Eleventh Hour.

At this time we desire earnestly to appeal to men and women who are ailing and in a low condition of health.

There are thousands of sick people—disappointed and now almost hopeless—who have ceased to think of their danger, imagining they are incurable because their doctors have failed and the vast varieties of medicines they have used have produced no good results.

Courage once more, suffering brothers and sisters!

Rekindle the almost dead embers of hope, you sadly deceived and disappointed ones!

Freedom from disease and suffering and a new and happy life will be your portion if you have faith enough to make trial of that life giver and disease banisher, Paine's Celery Compound, that has in the past rescued so many from the grave.

If Providence and our advice should inspire you that there is life in Paine's Celery Compound, your efforts must be prompt and honest. During the present heated term of summer, it is perilous to neglect your aches, pains and sufferings. Inaction and willful neglect for one day may result in death.

If you suffer from nervous prostration, liver disease, kidney complaint, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, impure blood and digestive troubles, you should derive instant inspiration from the army of men and women of the best families of Canada who have given their written testimony in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, and be further encouraged by the recommendations of the most eminent medical men who prescribe Paine's Celery Compound regularly.

With such testimony and the indorsement of medical men, is it wise or prudent to neglect the use of earth's best medicine? He or she who refuses life and health is surely worse than a skeptic. Bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound cures even at the eleventh hour.

"What's that piece they are playing?" said the man with a very long neck. The lady with him pointed to the programme. "Fantasie in A minor," she said, with a confident and critical air. "Well, it does beat everything what queer products Asia Minor turns out, doesn't it? But they ought to put a period after that A."—Washington Star.

How to Get Plump and Rosy.

Nature Meant every woman to be plump, rosy and well developed, and if she has become pale, weak and nervous, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will restore and revitalize the wasted nerve cells, make the blood rich and pure and give new vigor and elasticity to the whole body. For ill peculiar to women there is no remedy so successful as this great food cure of Dr. A. W. Chase. At all dealers.

On the first indication of Diarrhoea or Dysentery a few doses of Dr. Fowler's Ext. OF WILD STRAWBERRY will promptly check the advance of these dangerous diseases.

It has been over 40 years a use and has no equal for the cure of bowel complaints of young or old. There are many dangerous imitations on the market, so it would be wise to see that the full name, Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry, is on every bottle you buy.

REED WILKES 9457,

Was sired by the great Red Wilkes 1749—Record 2.40.

SIRE OF

Ralph Wilkes, 2.06½; Blanche Louise, p. 2.10; Red Bell, p. 2.11½; Abbott Wilkes, 2.12½; Wabash, 2.13½; Island Wilkes, 2.13½; Prince Wilkes, 2.14½; Red Line, 2.15; Allie Wilkes, 2.15; Wayne Wilkes, p. 2.16; Phil Thompson, 2.16½; Red Lady, p. 2.16½; 100 others in 2.30; and dams of Coleridge, 2.09½; Evangeline, (4 yrs) 2.11½; and 40 others in 2.30.

NELLIE CROW, dam of REED WILKES (4 yrs) 2.25½; Albany Boy 2.23.

REED WILKES was bred by T. L. Crow, Nicholasville, Ky. Is a dark bay horse with a few white hairs in forehead, and coronet white; 15½ hands high; weighs 1,150 lbs. In point of individuality, speed or breeding he ranks well among the produce of his famous sire, with an ideal conformation, best quality of legs and feet, coat that would grace a thoroughbred, disposition perfect, gait that could in no way be improved, and a horse of superb style, that transmits his qualities. He is certain to become a sire whose blood will be in demand at an early date.

His sire, Red Wilkes, sire of Ralph Wilkes, 2.06½, and grandsire of John R. Gentry 2.03½, the fastest stallion in the world, is by the records by far the greatest son of George Wilkes, as he has more 2.30 and more 2.20 performers than any other son, and he is also sire of more 2.30 and more 2.20 performers than any other living horse of his age.

NELLIE CROW, his dam, is a grandly bred mare, combining the three great brood mare strains—Mambrino Chief, Pilot Jr. and Clay, supported by the stout thoroughbred blood of Gray Eagle, Webster and Imp. Envoy. She produced four foals—REED WILKES (4 yrs) 2.25½, and Albany Boy 2.23; the other two were fillies and never trained, but kept for breeding. Nellie Crow trotted in 2.40 nearly twenty years ago, as a two-year-old, over a country half mile track, and her owner says if she could have been put in the hands of some of the trainers of today her record would have been 2.10 or better.

REED WILKES' record, which was obtained at four years of age, is far from a limit of his speed, as he has trotted a trial in 2.16½. Geo. H. Bailey, State Veterinarian, said that he saw him when he made his four-year-old record at Lexington, Ky., in a stake-race against the best four-year-olds in the country, and that the last heat he could have made below 2.20 had been driven for it.

REED WILKES for the season of 1899, will stand at Briggs' Stables, Briggs' Mills, Oakville, Carleton Co. On Saturdays he will be at Gilman's Stable, Woodstock.

Service fee $8 to insure, $1 cash down. $6 by the season. Single service $4, cash down. Mares at owners' risk. All mares held for service fee of horse. All mares dispensed of will be consid red in foal.
