RELICS OF THE PAST.

Notices The Dispatch has Gleaned Which Will be Read With Interest by our Patrons.

The following were handed to THE DISPATCH by Steve Green, who found them among the papers of his late deceased father, Thos. Green. These will be read by many of our readers with interest.

"The vices of this age demand, A keener weapon and a mightier hand." Those stanzas are Byron's every line. For God's sake, reader, don't you think them mine.

To the Inhabitants of the County of Carleton: FRIENDS AND COUNTRYMEN.—You are again called upon to select from your midst two wise and discreet men to represent you in the Assembly of this Province.

Not such men as say that they buy you and that they have a right to sell you, but such men as will represent you truly and faithfully, regardless of sect or society. Such men as have your interest at heart, and yours alone. It was said, "Humble thyself and thou shalt be exalted." I therefore offer you my services, in case you cannot find better material you can use me. Having heard that drowning men sometimes catch at straws, I am not afraid but that you will catch at me. Indeed, I am a little delicate about offering you my services, having never done you, myself or my country any great good. You never had my head in your mouth or on your letters, or my mortgage on your farm, or my harness on your horse, or my stove in your house. I am not a writer of wills, deacon of a church, a Freemason, a Town Councillor, or County Squire; but a lover of fair play to both rich and poor,—

"The rank is but a guinea stamp,
The man's the gowd for a that."

I have done nothing for you, and I know not what I shall do; but I expect to meet you on the day of nomination, when I shall more fully explain, and give you my opinion of the politicians of the present day. Should you elect me you have nothing to fear; I make no pledges and can break none.

What I have done is yours; what I have to do is yours, being part in all I am yours. Were my abilities greater my duty would be greater. Meantime I am yours in all duty.

R. L. ARMSTRONG.
Woodstock, May 27th, 1861.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

Political partisans and montebanks make canvass, that my card is a hoax, and that I do not intend to offer my services, as I have represented.

I practice what I preach! "Slaves! I have set my life upon a cast, and I will stand the hazard of the die!"

R. L. ARMSTRONG.
Woodstock, June 1st, 1861.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The Anniversary Meeting of the Free Church of England Society will be held in Woodstock, on Saturday the 6th day of July, 1872, at 7 1-2 p. m. All subscriptions will be thankfully received also, all donations. The officers attending the Camp of Instruction are invited to attend. Collection at the close of meeting for the funds of Society. All clergy are required to procure surplices by the 15th August, 1872.

By order,
Right Rev. James Henry Doyle, D. D.,
Free Church of England Bishop of Northampton, New Brunswick.
Filed at Woodstock, June 22, 1872.

To the Free and Independent Electors of Carleton County.

GENTLEMEN,—You are again called upon to exercise your elective franchise to elect one wise and discreet person to represent you in the local Government, and to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Hon. G. W. White; having been solicited by a very large number of influential men from all parts of the County to allow myself to be nominated, I have, after due consideration, consented to allow myself to become a candidate for the vacant seat. As regards my political views—like Messrs. L. R. Harding and Isaac Strong—I am decidedly opposed to free schools, and believe every man ought to educate his own children, and consider I have no more right to pay for educating my neighbors child than I have to pay my neighbors debts. I shall also use, if elected, my best judgment to retrenching the expenses of Legislation. I am also in favor of the new mode of Navigation, of which I am the sole inventor, and shall spare no pains to introduce it into the Dominion of which we form a prominent part. I shall be pleased to meet you at the hustings, where, in company with L. R. Harding and Hon. Isaac Strong, I shall more fully express my views, while I remain truly yours,
JAMES DEBOISE.
Woodstock, October 28, 1873.

Revised His Remarks.

One night the postmaster was reading aloud the names of the killed at Gettysburg, and he ran right on the name of a youth we knew. The boy's father sat there on a nail-keg chewing a straw. The postmaster, for his sake, tried to shuffle over the name and hurry on to the next.

"Hi!" said the father. "Wha—what's that you said?"

There was nothing to do but to face the issue, and the postmaster repeated with a forced calmness:

"Killed—Snyder, Hiram."

The boy's father stood up with a jerk. Then he sat down. Then he stood up again, staggered to the door and fumbled for the latch like a blind man.

"God help him," said the postmaster, wiping his eyes with his red handkerchief; "he's going to tell the old woman."

The minister preached a funeral sermon for the boy, and on the little pyramid that marked the family lot in the burying ground they carved the inscription:

"Killed in honorable battle, Hiram Snyder, aged 19."

Not long afterwards strange yellow-bearded men in faded blue, began to arrive. Great welcomes were given them, and many a big gathering was held in their honor. At one such gathering a ghost appeared, a lank saffron ghost, ragged as a scarecrow, wearing the cap of a cavalryman's overcoat, with no coat beneath.

The apparition was a youth of about 20, with a downy beard all over his face, and a countenance well mellowed with coal soot, as if he had ridden several days on the top of a freight car near the engine. The ghost was Hiram Snyder.

We forgave him the shock of surprise he had caused us, all except the minister, who had preached his funeral sermon. Years afterward I heard the minister remark, in a solemn and aggrieved tone:

"Hiram Snyder is a man who cannot be relied on."—Youth's Companion.

Often people catch a worse cold in the summer than in the winter. Don't neglect it. Check it at once by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup the best remedy for all kinds of throat and lung affections.

The Greater Fool.

In olden times, you know, every king had a jester whose business it was to keep his majesty merry by pranks and witticisms. A great deal of familiarity was allowed to these men, and princes sometimes were very fond of their jesters.

A story is told of a king who in a playful moment handed a wand to his favorite, saying: "There, keep that until you find a greater fool than yourself." One day the king became very ill, and seeing the jester among the attendants in his sick room, he summoned him to his bedside and said:

"I am going to leave you."
"Indeed, your majesty, how is that?"
"I am going on a journey."
"A short one, probably."
"No, I am going a long way off."
"But your majesty will return?"
"I shall never return."

"Then you have made all preparations, no doubt, and everything will be in readiness for you when you reach that distant land?"
"I have made no preparations; I am not ready."

"What! going on a journey from which there is no return, and nothing sent before you, nothing ready! Allow me to give back to you the wand I had from your majesty's hand; I have found a greater fool than myself."

Startling Confessions.

Show that 25 per cent of men and women suffer the tortures of itching piles. Investigation proves that Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment has never yet failed to cure itching piles, and all of these men and women could end their sufferings at once by using it. Scores of thousands have been cured by this treatment. Everybody can be cured in the same way.

In Gay New York.

It is to be assumed that the optimist walks with his head in the air and that the pessimist keeps his eyes fast upon the sidewalk. At all events he must do so in New York. This city, to which the adjective "gay" is so often applied, is in many ways solemn enough, but he who has an eye for the signs and placards of the East side need not perish of melancholia. They have a "Quo Vadis Restaurant" there, though, perhaps, in that locality, a "Wo gehen Sie?" would be better understood. There is a "Hobson Barber Shop" in which the "tonorial artists" are very properly women. The Rough Rider has supplanted the Indian before cigar stores. One photographer by the name of Badd hangs out his "professional card" thus: "Badd, portraits." A haberdasher calls his establishment the main office of the "Society for the Encouragement of Clean Shirts." But perhaps none of these things are to be wondered at in a district where the grocers advertise "Limburger Cheese. Only Slightly Damaged, at a Reduced Price."

B. B. B. CURES SHINGLES.

Mr. John W. Lamb, Diligent River, U. S. writes: "I recently had a severe attack of Shingles but am glad to say that two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured me completely. It is a wonderful remedy for blood disorders."

WEAK AND.... PUNY CHILDREN

Become Strong and Healthy by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food.

Children are frequently left weak and sickly as an after result of measles, scarlet fever, etc., and in this state are easy prey to nervous disorders, rickets, spinal disease, or consumption, diseases which do not affect robust, healthy children.

The blood is weak and watery and the nerves improperly nourished. Feed the blood and nerves with Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, and the pale, pinched faces will soon become rosy and plump, and tiredness and weakness will give way to strength and animation.

Mr. E. W. Day, 62 Close Avenue, Toronto, writes: "My eldest daughter, aged eight, became very much run down. Her fretful, nervous, sleepless condition greatly alarmed her parents. She was taken from school, and in spite of the best nursing, the thin, weakened, bloodless face grew painfully worse. Fortunately we used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. An improvement became apparent in a few days, it continued, and in a few weeks she returned to school built up anew, and greatly to our joy fully restored to health."

The E. B. EDDY CO. Limited.
Hull, P. Q.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and I have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since I commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tabules will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, "Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?"

WANTED.—A case of bad health that R-I-P-A-N-S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R-I-P-A-N-S on the package and accept no substitute.
