PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

The Obedient Preacher. The court room was crowded. An interesting trial was in progress and everybody seemed to be greatly concerned in it. The defendant was accused of poisoning his wife. There was another woman in the case, and about all the evidence that could be procured was that the defendant had winked at this woman over his wife's coffin. Twoministers were present at the funeral, and one of these was a witness for the prosecution.

"You say," asked the lawyer for the defence of this minister, "that you saw the defendant wink at this woman over his wife's coffin ?"

"I did." "And now, you will please state to the jury how it was possible that you could see this action of the defendant."

"You see," said the minister turning to the jury, "my brother minister was praying, and I made it my business to take a peep at the defendant, for all along I noticed that his actions were very strange."

"Good !" retorted the lawyer for the defence. "You did what was proper. The Bible says to watch and pray. You watched while he prayed. Call the next witness.

The spectators roared.

DISCOVERED NERVOUS A NEW TREATMENT DISEASES FOR

In his study of diseases of the nerves, Dr. A. W. Chase found that in nearly every case the cause of trouble was improper nourishment. About one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless this blood is rich and pure the nerves cannot obtain proper nourishment, and become worn out and exhausted.

Nervous depression, nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, loss of sleep and vital force, lack of energy, are symptoms of weak, watery blood and exhausted nerves.

It was as a food for blood and nerves that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food was prepared. Its remarkable success in curing all diseases arising from thin blood and impoverished nerves is proof that Dr. Chase's theory of feeding the nerves and blood is the proper one; stimulants only urge on the tired and worn out nervous system until there comes a complete collapse.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates new brain and nerve cells, and makes the blood pure and rich. It restores to the exhausted nerves the vigor of perfect health. 50c. a large box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE UP TO-DATE MINISTER.

Must Combine the Gifts of an Impresario a Commercial Traveller and an Auctioneer.

Ian Maclaren writes of the Candy Pull System in the Church in the October Ladies' Home Journal, and after describing the tendancy of the up-to-date church designates the qualifications of a pastor for "this kind of an institution." "The chief requisite demanded," he contends, "is a sharp little man with the gifts of an impresario, a commercial traveler and an auctioneer combined with the slightest flavor of a peripatetic evangelist. Instead of a study lined with books of grave dignity and classical literature, let him have an office with pigeonholes for his programs and endless correspondence; cupboards for huge books, with cuttings from newspapers and reports of other organizations; a telephone ever tingling, and a set of handbooks; How to Make a Sermon in Thirty Minutes, or One Thousand Racy Anecdotes from the Mission Field.

"Here sits an alert, vivacious, inventive manager, with his female stenographer at a a side table, turning over the huge book to discover what is next in order of time for juries, to weigh the accusations, and some- There will be sold at Public Auction in front of the visitation, and an other for details of families or hastily examining filed speeches of men or some subject to be taken on Sunday. From morning to night he toils, telephoning, telegraphing, dictating, complying, hurrying around, conducting socials, bright evenings giving talks, holding receptions; an unwearied, adroit, persevering man. No one can help admiring his versatility and honesty of intention, but if he is to be the type of the minister of the fnture then he will supersede and exclude a better man."

"It's the devil for any one to tell me a secret, for it is sure to come out inprint."-HAZLITT.

We don't hear so much about the weather now that the exhibition is over and done with, yet with one or two days exception delightful weather has prevailed since the middle of September. When could you get a finer day in October than last Wednesday. It was absolutely summer like, and was only a fair sample of the kind of weather we produce here in October generally. The climate in New Brunswick is all right if we only think so. To be sure it is apt to be cold for musquitos and spiders during the first of the year, but we can get along without these gentry, and we can dispense for part of the year with the company of the every day house fly. He is much in evidence just now, and there is a good deal of sticktoitveness to him in these warm October days. But he must take his departure soon. His day of triumph is short. I had a good deal of amusement watching a big spider this summer. He pre-empted a corner in the shed, and there he lay wait for the flies. He got lots of flies and he got very fat. Many times I was tempted to avenge the flies and put an end to this big spider's career. But I let him live on. Now, he is becoming an interesting study. He has evidently suspended operations till next spring, and he is weaving around himself a web resembling a little ball of cotton wool. When he gets it completed he will just stay there till he hears the ice man coming around next summer. When that time comes I must in terview him. * *

WRONG IDEA

Throws all the Blame on the Stomach-The Real Seat of Trouble is the Intestines-The Permanent Cure is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is an old idea long since exploded that digestion is confined to the stomach. No modern scientist denies that by far the greater part of digestion and the more difficult part takes place in the intestines. This explains why dyspepsia is never really cured by pre-parations which merely aid stomach digestion parations which merely aid stomach digestion and act only on the stomach.

This fact also explains why Dr. Chase's Kid-ney-Liver Pills have been so remarkably suc-cessful as a cure for the worst forms of dyspepsia and indigestion.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and give new tone and vigor to the intestines, and make them able to perform their work of digesting the substances on which the stomach has no effect.

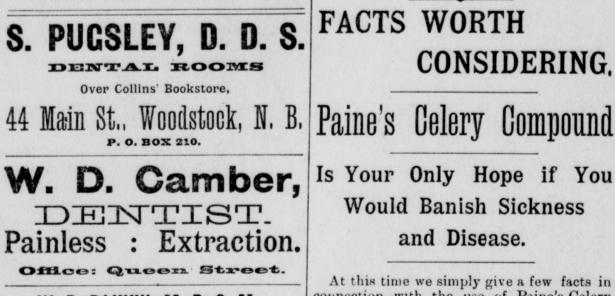

Stomach treatment may do well enough for slight indigestion, but if you have chronic indigestion or dyspepsia of a serious nature you can profit by the experience of scores of thoustands who have been permanently cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. . Nature of an Oath. "What is your name?" asked Lawyer

Thomas P. Dinnean of a witness who had appeared before a referee to testify in a divorce case.

"My name," replied the witness, who was employed as a clerk in a German grocery store, "my name is August Friederish Wilhelm Holzmachermeister."

"What is that ?" said Mr. Dinnean, almost falling off his chair. "But never mind. You need not repeat it. I take it for granted."

"Do you know what an oath is?" asked Mr. Dinnean.

"An oat?" repeated the grocer's clerk. "I do, yes; we already have them in our store got."

"Oh, no," said Mr. Dinnean. "I mean an oath, a-a-a, don't you know when you swear?"

"Oh, yes," replied the clerk with the long name, "I know all about it. It is like 'darned' and dem other long names when you calls people that give you black eyes." The witness was excused.

Indigestion and Stomach Troubles Removed by South American Nervine- Four Bottles Brought Back Health and Vigor.

Mr. James Sherwood, of Windsor, Ont., writes: "For twelve months I was a great sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble. After trying other remedies without any benefit whatever, I was attracted to South American Nervine through great cures I read of its making, and 1 decided to try it. After a few doses I felt great relief and benefit. I have taken four bottles, and although I am seventy years old I give this thankful testimony for melief from the great suffering I had. I consider it a great medicine." For sale by Garden Bros.

times to dispose of the time of their fellow subjects, by serving upon juries. They have frequently a right to decide and that upon their oaths, questions of great importance, in the solution of which some legal skill is requisite, especially when the law and the fact, as it often happens, are intimately blended together. And the general incapacity often of our best juries to do this with any tolerable propriety has greatly decreased their authority, and has inevitably thrown more power into the hands of the judges, to direct, control and often reverse their verdicts, than perhaps the constitution intended."

It is a fact that a great many people are continually grumbling. It becomes as second nature to them, and the poet who writes to the Chicago Herald, hits this propensity off very neatly, when he writes:-

The pessimist looks in the sky, And if a cloud be there

- He straightway heaves a doleful sigh Because it isn't fair.

Or if, perchance, no cloud appear, He gravely shakes his head, And groans: "Unless it rains I fear The crops will soon be dead."

"I want some kind of a door spring-one that won't get out of order," said a customer to a hardware man.

"A door spring?"

"Yes; and one that won't require the strength of a elephant to open."

"Hem!"

"And it must be strong enough to bring the door all the way to and not leave it swinging to a couple of inches." "I see."

"And when the door closes I don't want it to shut like a catapult, with a jar that shakes the house from its foundation."

"Yes. You want one that will bring the dcor to, and yet do it gently?"

"That's the idea. But I don't want any complicated arrangement that requires a skilled mechanic to attend to."

"No-of course not. You want something simple, yet strong and effective?"

"Just so! Something that can be put on or taken off easily-something that will do its work quietly yet thoroughly, and won't be eternally getting out of order."

"I see. I know exactly what you want, sir, just exactly."

"Well, show me one."
