SUMMERFIELD.

Seeing items from most all the other places we thought it a shame that the events of our stirring little settlement should not have a place among them. We are glad to hear our young friend Sampson Gunn is recovering under the skillful treatment of Dr. Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Green are rejoicing over the advent of a daughter who put in an appearance last week. John Gee has lost by fire his barns containing a large quantity of hay. The many friends and neighbors of Mr. Gee are doing much towards helping him to build another barn. The farmers have been harvesting the grain crop which promises good. James Brown is building a fine residence. He has a fine stone wall. Our new teacher Harry Miller has opened the school of this place and has a large attendance of scholars. We are much pleased with him. Our young friend Frank Rillcollins who went to the far west this spring has sent his mother a present of $140. In driving from Clear View to Centreville via Knoxford or Greenfield the curiosity of the stranger is aroused by the number of telephone poles placed here and there along the road and on reaching the village the question is asked "Where are the wires, and the answer comes, of course, sir, it is only a matter of conjecture but we have every reason to believe that the company is considering quite seriously of adopting the wireless telephone system.

Mrs. Daily, a widow woman owned a fine farm and very nice buildings and her son-in-law John McKinnon was working the place on the shares. But unfortunately, and without any apparent cause, just as the last load of oats was being hauled to the barn a fire started which swept the buildings in a short time, from the face of the earth. The barns were full of hay and oats and none of the buildings were insured. John Bohan has just completed a new warehouse—an indication of a prosperous winter business in hay and oats. What Is It?

That makes a man appear as tailor made at the first glance? He can be told a block away—his clothes fit him perfectly—there is the right cut to his coat—and trousers. The collar and lapels fine and smooth. There isn't too much looseness here and too much tightness there—everything is neatly done. Buttons, button holes, seams—all are firm and true.

Is your tailor perfectly satisfactory? If so, stick to him. If not, try us. Prices are as low as possible for high class tailoring.

W. B. NICHOLSON,
Merchant Tailor,
King St. Woodstock.

Look at your NECK!

If you find that it's appearance is not quite what it should be, think of this:

No feature of a man's dress plays so important a part in his general appearance as does his neck-wear. A well-made, well-fitting shirt, with a collar of the correct size and a becoming shape, and a tie whose harmonious colors and fashionable style will complete the effect—all these go a long way toward making a well dressed man. With our large stock, (just opened), of

English, Canadian and American Shirts, Collars, Cuffs and Ties, we can suit the most fastidious.
