HOLMESVILLE.

There is much written about the local affairs of a village, whilst many interesting and important features of the natural scenery are left out. For instance, we have one of the highest mountains in instance, we have one of the highest mountains in the county, and I think one of the oldest, for I have investigated its geological formation and counted the wrinklas on its horns, and find it must have been here when Adam and Eve played in the Garden of Eden. It has been bald headed for years, and lots of good looking men who live near its base have as little hair as this sombre old mountain, but summer tourists both from Canada and the United States climb, its rugged sides to mountain, but summer tourists both from Canada and the United States climb its rugged sides to admire the beautiful view of the surrounding country. At its base nestles the charming Inson lake. In the distance Long lake and Square lake add their charms to the landscape and invite the eager stranger to tickle the palate of the speckled beauties and entice them from the crystal waters. Then we have the Holmes brook abounding with fish a little further on the more important Mun. fish, a little further on the more important Munnsh, a little further on the more important Mun-quart stream where there are lots of chances to spend a pleasant day in fishing. Looking over to the left the beautiful Ruff valley with its fine farms meets the eye. Next Oaktown where some of the boys go on Sunday to see their best girls, Pleasant Ridge with its fine farms and fields of outs and where is worth a visit of the lovers of Pleasant Ridge with its fine farms and fields of oats and wheat is worth a visit of the lovers of good farming. To the right we catch a glimpse of the magnificent St. John moving peacefully on to its ocean home. We must not forget the fine Johnville settlement with its pretty chapel, fine buildings, and large acreage of cultivated lands and varying scenery. Then Bath looms up in the distance, a beautiful village on the banks of the St. John river, full of bustle, energy and enter-prise and the shipping centre of all the produce of this rich and fertile country. People from a dis-tance wanting oats, hay, or any farm produce would do well to consult T. Bohan & Co., C. E. Gallagher, or E. D. R. Phillips, the leading ship-pers at Bath, Carleton Co. I must come down from the mountain for I see so much to write about I shall weary your patience. We have one of the finest school houses in the county—a credit to any village—and a hustler of

RIVER DE CHUTE.

This busy little place is certainly one of the lov-liest spots on the St. John river. Here are situat-ed Donald Fraser's celebrated mills and residence, the latter occupied by Mr. Fraser's foreman, S. J. Brown.

Brown. Fraser's pond is famed for its trout. Formerly, the pond was open to all, but the privilege was so abused, that for the past two or three years Messrs. Fraser have protected the fishing. How-ever, many avail themselves of the kindness of the owners and enjoy a day's sport. Archie Fraser came down from Temiscouata Tuesday, and returned Wednesday. While here Mr. Fraser expressed to his brother in Fredericton a trout caught in "Two Lakes" Temiscouata, which weighed thirteen pounds. Mrs. Donald Fraser, Fredericton, came up Wed-nesday, to spend some weeks with Mrs. Brown. Street Mill-r wears an unusually smiling face, and a very fatherly look. The reason?
