Griggs-Wiley.

Married, on Monday, at the residence of the bride's parents in Tillamook City, Rev. A. R. Griggs and Miss Lottie Wiley. Rev. W. S. Holt, D. D., tied the nuptial knot. The bride is the much respected and estimable daughter of Dr. D. Wiley, who by her lady-like and affable disposition, was very popular with the young people of this city, as well as others with whom she came in contact with. Rev. A. R. Griggs was formerly minister of the Presbyterian church in this city, but is now in charge of the Presbyterian church at Kelso, Wash. Mr. Griggs made quite a number of friends during his stay in this county. The wedding was of a private character, only the contracting parties and members of the bride's family being present. The bride wore a beautifully trimmed white organdie dress. The happy couple left on the stage Tuesday, and it is almost useless to add carrying with them the best wishes of a large number of intimate and staunch friends to their new home. What is Tillamook's loss is Kelso's gain.—Tillamook Headlight.

Dr. David Wiley at one time practised his profession at Florenceville where he and his family had very many friends and where Miss Lottie Wiley visited last year. He has one daughter Mrs. Thomas McCain living in Florenceville now. Mrs. Griggs, friends in this County wish her a long life and a happy one.

DEATH OF FR. GALLAGHER.

Son of Charles Gallagher, of Bath. Funeral Today.

Death of Ex-Mayor Snow, of Bangor, formerly a Carleton County Man.—Celebrated the 20th Anniversary of their Marriage.

A brilliant young priest, born in this county has passed away in the person of Rev. Daniel Gallagher, son of Chas. Gallagher of Bath, one of the most respected residents of the county. The death occurred at Silver Falls, a mission three miles out of St. John, where the young priest was in charge. It is here that there is a large industrial school under charge of the sisters of charity. Father Gallagher had been stationed here for the past few years, and was doing a faithful and energetic work. His career was very successful, and his death at such an early age, is not only a severe blow to his father and other members of his family, but is a severe loss to the church of which he was such a faithful pastor. When quite young, he left Johnville and entered Memramook. He took his B. A. degree while there, and subsequently spent four years at Laval University, Quebec, and two years in Grand Seminary, Montreal. He received his orders from Bishop Sweeney of St. John. He was for some time associated with the Cathedral, and was held in high estimation by the bishop and older priests of the R. C. diocese. He was slightly over thirty years of age. Apparently he had a long and useful career before him, but death cut his earthly pilgrimage, short. The news of his death was a great shock to his many friends and acquaintances in the county. To his father goes out the most heartfelt sympathy. This is the second son whom he has lost within a year. The first died at Johnville within a twelvemonth. Rev. Father Chapman received a telegram Monday morning, announcing the death of Father Gallagher. The remains were brought home for burial.

Death of Mr. J. F. Snow.

It was only this last June that THE DISPATCH was visited by Mr. Joseph F. Snow, a native of this county, and a relative of Mr. W. R. Snow of this town. A despatch announces now the decease of Mr. J. F. Snow, who was an ex-mayor and a prominent citizen of Bangor. He was particularly active in matters connected with the Public Library movement. At the time of Mr. Snow's visit to this county the DISPATCH of that time said:

Although Mr. Snow has retired from active business matters, he is yet prominent in many ways. He is president of the Humane Society of Bangor, a director of the Gas Company, and a member of the Pilgrim Society. Last year he was at a convention in Washington of the Humane Societies of the union, representing Bangor. "I take an interest in the Pilgrim Society," said he "for a maternal ancestor of mine named Rogers came out on the Mayflower in 1620. A paternal ancestor, came out in 1623 on the ship Ann, and he married Miss Rogers. So I have an interest in the Pilgrims.

Mr. Snow married a niece of General Saml. F. Hersey of Bangor, whose name has been mentioned above in connection with the Bangor Public Library. During his stay in Woodstock he was the guest of his cousin, Mr. W. R. Snow. He was much impressed with Woodstock and the county generally. "For twenty years prior to three years ago I did not visit Woodstock. During that time the town has wonderfully developed. There were no houses on the plateau on the south side of the bridge. As for the county, I have travelled almost all over the States, I have visited Louisiana and Missouri, and I have seen no country to equal that which I visited yesterday—the section in the fourth tier of Jeksonstown."

Mr. Snow is a son of the late Joseph Snow who lived a mile or so below Victoria Corner, and some fifty-three years ago moved to Bangor. The subject of this notice was then fifteen years of age. He began business in the dry goods line. For eleven years he worked on Main street as an employee, and for thirty years subsequent was in business for himself, retiring a few years ago with ample means. Mr. Snow is a man who has served faithfully and well his adopted city and country. He was in the city council in the years 1861-52 and on the board of aldermen in 1868-69.

A Bangor paper just to hand says Joseph Franklin Snow was born on March 4, 1833, in Wakefield, New Brunswick, but had resided in Bangor since early childhood, except for two years spent in Kansas City, Mo.

which was then (1857-9) a small frontier town. Mr. Snow was educated in the public schools of Bangor and was also instructed at home. In 1848 he entered the dry goods store of H. Silver & Son, in Main street, as clerk and remained with that firm until his departure, in 1857 for the west. He returned to Bangor in 1856, on account of the illness of his father and for the succeeding three years was in the employ of Manson & Williams, dry goods merchants. In 1864 Mr. Snow went to Cuba for the benefit of his health, and upon his return to Bangor, in the following year, he purchased the dry goods business of Silas S. Draw, and continued prosperously in that trade until 1895, when he retired from business. He was a member of Rising Virtue League Lodge, F. and A. M., of the Bangor Humane Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He was married in 1869 to Miss Harriet L. Hersey, who survives him. While honored and respected in politics and in the business world, it is for his long and devoted labors for humanity that Mr. Snow will longest be held in loving memory. He was for many years the president and leading spirit of the Bangor Humane Society, and in that capacity he performed a work which, relieving untold suffering, softening many a heart, entitles him justly to be blessed among the merciful.

"Jewett" the oldest and best Jewett cor. Main and Queen Sts.

Celebrated their 20th Wedding Day.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Estey was the scene of the anniversary celebration of their 20th wedding day on Friday evening. There were about one hundred guests present, who all tried to make each other happy. The rooms were decorated in green and pink producing a fine effect. Refreshments were served in a very elaborate way and everything done to contribute to the comfort of those present that was possible.

A DISPATCH from Bristol under date Oct. 27th says, Coroner Welch held an inquest yesterday on the body of Alex. McKenzie who was found dead in the woods near Glassville. He had tied the gun to a tree and fastened a string to the trigger which he pulled, the shot going through the heart, the jury returned a verdict of suicide. About $60 in cash was found on his person and a bank book showed that he had $500 in the bank. He had been a British soldier and had served under Wolsey.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

And Refuses to Appoint a Returning Officer.

Two Elections Carried on in Town.—Question of Law Involved.—The Case Will get into the Courts.

The town council met on Monday evening, His Worship in the chair, and a full board. Coun. Jones moved that John Gray be appointed constable. Carried.

Coun. Carr—I have heard it complained that some constables do not pay over all they receive. There should be some way to make them do so.

Conn. Graham thought the chief of police should report to the council any such cases.

Coun. Carr asked what was the object of this meeting. It is not a regular meeting and is called for the purpose of appointing a returning officer for tomorrow.

Coun. Carr then moved seconded by Coun. Graham that J. C. Hartley be returning officer for the election to be held tomorrow.

Coun. Graham and Carr voted for the motion which was declared lost.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the town clerk decided that as the council, in his opinion was obliged to appoint a clerk and to hold an election, he felt it his duty to act.

On motion John Price was elected assistant, and at time of going to press, matters were going merrily on.

Another poll was opened on Connell street, with T. E. Millmore as returning officer.

A summary of the legal situation from two points of view regarding the time for holding the election, and the circumstances under which it may be held are given in the following condensation.

Since 1889 in accordance with an act passed in that year, elections for Councillors to represent Town at the County Council have been held on the second Tuesday in October. In 1898 a General Municipalities Act was passed fixing the date for holding parish elections for County Councillors on the last Tuesday in October, unless otherwise fixed by the Municipalities themselves. It is contended by some men interested that inasmuch as the Act of 1898 did not repeal the part of the act of 1889, fixing the time for holding election in Town of Woodstock, the election of County Councillors from the town ought to be held on the second Tuesday in October, while on the other hand it is contended that the Municipalities Act of 1898 fixes the time of town election on the same day as that for parish elections. The two parties are fighting the thing out and the question will no doubt bring up in the court before it is settled.

If your eye is sore you can get Jewett and talk it over. He will give you valuable advice FREE.

Off to the Klondike.

PLASTER ROCK, Oct. 22nd 1899.

Dear Sir,—Seeing that England has gone to war with the Boers I have raised a Company of sharp shooters here on the Tobique. The company is made up of some of the best shots in this section and the war Office has called me to move at once or pay rent so we have decided to move. We have chartered the tow boat Tobique Lass and we will go abroad tomorrow night providing there is enough moose meat comes in to camp today to take us down as far as Jack Campbell's. The only favor we ask of the people of Woodstock is not to give us any Dewey celebration when we pass the town, we are doing this for love of country alone. Davey Chapman is overhauling the engines of the Tobique Lass today and Bob Hughes is cooking a years grub ahead. What we can't eat we will give to Boers. We leave here at night, Asa Bragdon at the wheel and Billy Morey on deck. We hope to run by Geeville before daylight as they are very Boerish, but they don't cut no ice with us. Our boat can be easily picked from the rest of the fleet as we use a moose head for a clothes line, the chances are Bill Giberson or Jim Lockart will be the watch on deck when we pass the town and I would ask the people not to shoot them as they are good men. Frank Hamilton the human Gramophone will sing the wild colonial boy, as we pass and Currie Nason will give a life like imitation of a deserter between the town and Eel river. Hoping we will see you again when this cruel war is over.

I remain yours etc.,

HARRY D. BAIRD.
