THE DISPATCH wishes to apologize to Mr. Doherty, of Holmesville, for a vulgar and unbecomingly paragraph which it received from some clever person in Holmesville and innocently inserted in its columns on June 20th. THE DISPATCH wishes to reassert that men who write these vulgar clever things to newspapers in the guise of news should be summarily dealt with. In cases of this kind we are only too glad to give the name of the correspondent to the insulted man, and if the latter would sometimes take the law of libel in his own hands THE DISPATCH would be very glad.
