PEOPLE RECOVERING

From Pneumonia, Typhoid or Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, La Grippe or any Serious Sickness

Require the Merve Toning, Blood Enriching, Heart Sustaining Action of Milburn's Heart and Nervo Pills.

It is well known that after any serious illness the heart and nerves are extremely weak and the blood greatly impoverished. For these conditions there is no remedy equals Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. It restores all the vital forces of the body which disease has impaired and weakened.

Mr. T. Barnicott, Aylmer, Ont., says :-"About a year ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe which left my system in an exhausted condition. I could not regain strength and was very nervous and sleepless at night, and got up in the morning as tired as when I went to bed. "I had no energy and was in a miserable state of health. " Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Richard's Drug Storehere, changed me from a condition of misery to good health. They built up my system, strengthened my nerves, restored brisk circulation of my blood, and made a new man of me.

"I heartily recommend them to any one suffering from the after effects of Grippe, or any other severe illness.'

Criminal Misgovernment.

The New York Outlook is not partial to Tammany Hall, the great Democratic Club of New York City. In an article entitled "Criminal Misgovernment" it says of Tammany:-It is Democratic in name, but it has no more care for Democratic principles than for Republican principles. Its power as an organization is made possible by the peculiar conditions in this city. It is not, as at present constituted, American, either in spirit, method, or membership; it is supported by the votes of foreign-born citizens who have not been in this country long enough to be intelligent about American conditions, and who are led by a dextrous appeal to their comfort, their loyalty, and their class feeling. If for one hour the real character of Tammany Hall were understood on the East Side it would never again put a single official into office. The rank and file of the men who sustain it do not know what it is; they do not understand that they are really bought by its so-called charities, and that they are as sheep in the shambles so far as any real care for their interests is concerned. The leaders, so far as they have any intelligence, are men who either know the corruption which sustains the organization, or, if they do not know, are so willfully blind that they are morally responsible for it.

Tammany Hall draws a large part of its revenue today from gambling, prostitution, and all manner of lawbreaking. These are very serious charges to make; they are not only based on ample evidence, but that they are true has been practically confessed again and again. Perhaps never before in the history of a great city has there existed this partnership between its governing body and its criminal classes; never before, certainly, has that partership been so thoroughly systematized, has vice been taxed with such businesslike exactness, and every available source of vicious income drawn upon with such skill. Tammany Hall has inverted the order of government. Instead of suppressing it is encouraging vice; instead of enforcing the law it is receiving revenue from encouraging the evasion of the law. The men who represent it in office are not only taxed to support the organization whose creatures they are, but they are bound hand and foot; instead of being the servants of the public, they are the slaves of the lawbreaking element in the city; for the city is ruled today largely by its vicious classes.

Soldiers in Camp

Ex-Sergeant William Johnston of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, writes;—"It is impossible for me to speak to highly of Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles or any itching skin disease It is simply invaluable many of our men used it while in camp and received excellent results." Members of the Canadian contingents took 1000 boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment with them to South Africa to relieve the suffering of campaigning life.

Chinese Counterfeits of American Wares

The wooden nutmeg Yankee and the fellow who sharpened shoe pegs at both ends and sold 'em for oats were raw amateurs compared to the heathen Chinese," remarked the travelling representative of a big house that deals in table delicacies. "Our foreign agent C. L. Barton, who, by the way, is a native of New Orleans, was in Shanghai at the time the Boxers broke loose and has remained there ever since. A few weeks ago the firm received a package from him, enclosing a lot of Chinese counterfeits of American goods, which he had picked up at different times as curios. Some of the fakes were very ingenious and some very laughable in their coldblooded rascality. Among the lot, for instance, was a packet of what looked exactly like ordinary American lead perfect facsimiles, and would, no doubt, have answered just as well as the genuine if they had con tained any lead; but that teature was ommitted. They were simply round sticks, stained black. Of course, such brazen frauds are not sold in the established shops. They are handled by native peddlers, who work them off in large quantities on foreigners who are purchasing supplies. Mr. Bartow writes that an English engineering officer of his acquaintance invested in 100 dozen.

"Another gem in the collection is a box of toilet soap, made out of a sort of clay, mixed with a little grease and stained pink. The stuff looks like soap, and smells like soap, and as long as one keeps it away from water it is all right. But if it gets wet it becomes mud. What was, perhaps the boldest in the lot, a dummy can of beef. It was simply a cylinder of wood, covered at both ends with lead-colored matallic paint, and wrapped around with what appeared to be a genuine American label. In making the weight exactly the same as that of a bona fide tin of meat, the Chinese counterfeiter had displayed a good deal of cunning. The wood was a little too heavy, and to reduce it to the proper point, he had bored a hole in the side and plunged it with light, porous earth. The label is so perfect that we are in no doubt whether it is a lithographed copy on the real thing, stripped from some old can. The dummy is one of a big consignment which is said to have been unloaded on an army con. tractor. He was told that the stuff had been stolen from an American warehouse, and when the lot was exhibited to him in a partially darkned backroom a few dozen real cans were scattered around on top. They were

note as a word to the second s

the meat, and he was fool enough to buy the entire supply at about half price. The Chinese declare the victim was a Jap, but that statement may be taken with a little saltsay a hogshead full."-[New Orleans Times Democrat.

War Indemnities.

New York Post: The report from St. Petersburg that Russia will demand $500 .-000,000 as her share of the indemnity to be paid by China to the allied powers seems at first glance too large a sum to be credible. When the fact is taken into account, however, that at the termination of every war of importance in the passing century, the vanquished nation has been invariably forced to submit to a large cession of territory often in addition to a heavy financial penalty, the Russian claim may not appear so excessive.

Of nations engaged in wars of the first magnitude. France has been both a gainer and a loser in the matter of indemnities. Having, by the treaty of Presburg in 1805, mulcted Austria of $8,000,000 and 28,000 square miles of territory, she was in 1814 compelled to satisfy the allied powers by a momentary compensation of $140,000,000, and to suffer the partition of the greater part of her colonial possessions, as well as the severe contraction of her European boundaries. Again, in 1870, after her war with Germany, she was enabled to display her marvellous financial resources by the speedy payment of the huge sum of $1,250,000,000 in addition to the loss of 5,668 square miles of territory in which were included several strategic points on her own frontier.

As a result of a similar trial of strength with Prussia, Austria, in 1866, was compelled to pay $30,000,000, less half that amount for the involuntary cession of several important duchies, that were to be incorporated into a new German confederation, in which Austria was to hold no position or influence. As the price of defeat in her war with Russia, in 1878, Turkey agreed to pay $200,000,000 in instalments, to recede the province of Bessarabia, of which Russia has been de prived at the termination of the Crimean war, and to hand over to the conqueror a large territory in the Caucasus. In addition she was also compelled to recognize the independence or semi-independence of several Balkan States, and incidentally, by way of commission for their good offices at the Congress of Berlin, to present England with Cyprus and Austria with Bosnia and Herzego vian. In 1897, however, Turkey forced Greece to pay a war indemnity of $17,600,-000, and to submit to a readjustment of the frontier in the victor's favor.

The penalties that South American countries have exacted from one another in the lowship of their "Yes" to each other's recentury are too numerous to mention separately; but chief among them was the case of Chili and Peru in 1883, by which the latter country lost the valuable province of Tarapaca, was practically looted from end to end, and would probably have been irretrievably ruined but for the protecting arm of the United States.

The recent war between China and Japan, which first proved the valor and discipline of the Mikado's forces, terminated in a bitter disappointment for the victor, through the action of the powers in refusing her a foothold on the continent of Asia. Still, as the revistd treaty of Shimonoseki yielded to Japan $16,000,000, and 15,000 square miles of new possessions in the island of Formosa and the Pescadores, it will be seen that she was not robbed entirely of the truits of vic-

Coming to the war indemnities obtained by the United States, she not only relinquished a financial penalty, but paid over to vanquished nations sums of money as compensation for entorced cessions of territory that remained in dispute or unconquered. These territorial indemnities, however, were heavy, in that of Mexico amounting in all to over 1,24-0,000 square miles, certainly the largest territorial indemnity of recent times; and in the case of Spain 143,000 square miles, representing Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines.

The Boxer Orator.

The Figaro of Paris sent a special correspondent to England during the recent election campaign, and the following is from one of the series of articles dealing with the canvass:-"It is not without interest," gravely begins the Fagaro man, "to inform ourselves even in little things, about the manners and customs of other nations. From the point of view the electoral campaign which is being pursued at this moment in England is full of instruction. Do you know what is the popular characteristic of the elequence of M. Joe Chamberlian? His habit of punctuating his sentences with blows of his fist made from the shoulder has caused him to be named the 'Boxer orator.' The comparison pleases the English infinitely. Consequently when, a few days ago, M. Chamberlain appeared on the platform at Birmingham his partisans in the meeting hall welcomed him with these cries; 'Give them some, Joe! Hit them !' And the whole speech was interspersed with these exclamations: 'Go on! Cave in their ribs!' You would have really thought you were at a boxing match, so much so that one of those present said enthusiastically, 'Joe is to-day in splendid form.' Everything is sport in England, even politics."

Our spiritual power is not measured so much by the sternness and persistence of our "No" to all that would draw him away from the woman whom he has chosen of the whole world to be his heart's friend and love. A brave, loyal "No" is essential; but the happiness of their united life depends upon the cheer and good fel-
