An Eloquent Eulogy on Whiskey.
(By Col. Bob Ingersoll.)

"I send you some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever drove the skeleton from the feast, or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and shadow that chase each other over billowy fields, the breath of June, the carol of the lark, the dew of the night, the wealth of summer and autumn's rich content, all golden with imprisoned light. Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the 'Harvest Home,' mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it and you will feel within your blood the starred dawns, the dreamy, twany dusks of perfect days. For forty years this liquid joy has been within staves of oak longing to touch the lips of men."

An eloquent reply by Dr. J. M. Buckley:
"I send you some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever brought a skeleton into the closet, or painted scenes of lust and bloodshed in the brain of man. It is the ghost of wheat and corn, crazed by the loss of their natural bodies. In it you will find a transient sunshine, chased by a shadow cold as Arctic midnight, in which the breath of June grows icy, and the carol of the lark gives place to the foreboding cry of the raven. Drink it, and you will have woe, sorrow, babbling, and wounds without cause; your eyes shall behold strange women, and your heart shall utter perverse things. Drink it deep and you shall year the voice of demons shrieking, women wailing, and worse than orphaned children mourning the loss of a father who yet lives. Drink it deep and long, and serpents will hiss in your ears, coil themselves about your neck and seize you with their fangs; 'at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.' For forty years this liquid death has been within staves of oak harmless there as purest water. I send it to you that you may put an enemy in your mouth to steal a way your brains. And yet I call myself your friend."

Without Sleep
The vitality of the body is soon exhausted. Sleeplessness is one of the symptoms of starved nerves.
It is a warning of the approach of nervous prostration or paralysis. Don't be tempted to use narcotics or opiates. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will gradually build up and reconstruct the wasted nerve cells and positively cure all nervous diseases it is nature's greatest restorative, recommended by your druggist.

Womanly Qualities Attract.
Some girls often seem to take especial pains to impress upon us their utter ignorance of all domestic matters except such ornamental details as the arrangement of the flowers, or the making of dainty embroideries, etc., for the adornment of the house. By some curious mental process they seem to have arrived at the conclusion that the best way of getting a husband is to show how utterly incapable they are of being good housewives and thus make a man's home happy and comfortable to him.

Showy accomplishments alone may attract some men, but not the best of them, and the girl who wishes to be happily married should remember that a sensible man looks upon his wife as his business partner none the less—and that her part is to make the house as pleasant and as charming as possible with the money he provides for the purposes. There is small encouragement to a husband to work and save, if by her carelessness or ignorance his wife squanders his earnings, so every would-be-wife should try and become skilled in domestic matters, so as to take her right place as the mistress of the house immediately after marriage. If girls were only more practical and domesticated, men would not so often fight shy of the responsibilities of marriage, and connubial quarrels caused by bad and extravagant housekeeping would be much less frequent.

Headache All Gone.
Mrs. Melbourne Parker, Torbrook, N. S., writes after taking one or two felt better at once and was able to get up and go on with my work." Price

Nervous and Debilitated.

Almost a Victim of Nervous Prostration —Was Restored to Health and Strength by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. D. W. Crowsberry, 168 Richmond street west, Toronto, Ont., states:— "My daughter, who sews in a white goods manufactory, got completely run down by the steady confinement and close attention required at her work. Her nerves were so exhausted, and she was so weak and debilitated, that she had to give up work entirely, and was almost a victim of nervous prostration.
"Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, she began to use it, and was benefitted from the very first. It proved an excellent remedy in restoring her to health and strength. After having used four boxes she is now at work again, healthy and happy, and attributes her recovery to the use of Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food."
As a blood builder and nerve restorative, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of inestimable value. It makes the blood red, the nerves strong, and the whole system healthy and vigorous. 50c a box —at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates

That a pole cat isn't nearly so nice to chase as an ordinary house cat.
That a hay cutter will cut fingers off just as quickly as it will cut grass.
That a Tom turkey is no admirer of big turkey-red neckties.
That a barrel hoop, when stepped on, will fly up and crack you just the same as ever.
That a small limb will bear up a large bird's nest more easily than it will a small boy.
That blackberries can't be stripped from the bushes with as much pleasure to the fingers as huckleberries.
That a cow can hook a small boy easier than a bent pin can hook a fish.
That weeding out a turnip patch ain't any fun.
That poking a hornet's nest leaves its sting behind.
That a country boy knows a thing or two.

A Bad Case of Asthma

Mrs. George Budden, Putnamville, Ont., says:—
"I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, as I had the Asthma very bad; could get nothing to do me any good. A friend of mine persuaded me to try this remedy, as he had tried it, and it proved successful. I tried it, and it cured me. I am thankful to-day to say I am a well woman through the use of this remedy.
I kept it in the house all the time, and would not be without it."

Unsatisfied.

SLEEPLESSNESS
MOST COMMON AMONGST
WOMEN.

The Trouble is Easily Controlled.

Paine's Celery Compound PRODUCES
PROMPT AND PERMANENT CURES.

When women are afflicted with sleeplessness and the many ills arising therefrom, they should be aware of the fact that they can, by their own efforts, control and banish all troubles.
By the use of Paine's Celery Compound the impure blood that undermines the stomach and the nervous system can be purified and enriched and the number of red corpuscles increased. Sleeplessness that causes much of the nervous prostration among women is a trouble that Paine's Celery Compound never fails to cure.
Paine's Celery Compound by its well known nourishing powers enables the nerves to get back their control over the circulation, so that the blood supply becomes greatest where it is most needed, as in the stomach after eating, and least where its presence can only do harm, as in the brain when sleep is needful.
If wearied, worried, weak and nervous women desire full health and a happy life, we urge them to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial. Paine's Celery Compound has a marvellous record of rapid and permanent cures that embraces every city, town and village in our broad Dominion. No other medicine is so frequently prescribed by our best physicians; no other can so surely meet the ailments of afflicted women.
Mary had a lot of lamb.

For Mary was the teacher, and She lammed the boys, you know.

If God made the country and man made the town, the devil made the little country town. There is nothing equal to the smallness of a small town.—TENNYSON.

I have been reading in some of the late papers a good deal about the anti-British policy of Sir Charles Tupper and in some other papers I learn that Mr. Tarte desires to annex Canada to France. The papers that published these items of news speak in very disrespectful terms of such policy and say that these are very bad men. From reading political papers of both sides of politics I am led to believe that there is not a single public man in Canada today who is not an unmitigated scoundrel. Pilate asked "what is truth." If he were alive today and living in Canada his hair would turn grey if he sought to find such a scarce article in a political newspaper. And if my old friend Diogenes were to read these papers he would give up his search for a man, for he would be forced to believe that such a thing as an honest man did not live in the Dominion.
When I read these political journals I ask myself if it would not be a good move to go to China and cast in my lot with the Boxers, rather than try to live with such bad characters.

The Boer Prisoners in Ceylon.

The 2,000 Boer prisoners destined for Ceylon are to go to Bandarawela, which is the terminus of the Colombo and Kandy line, and 6,200 feet above sea level. The place is among the mountains and in a supremely healthy locality, with trees of rhododendrons growing upon the hillsides, and amid the grassy sward known as 'patenas.' The rhododendrons are not bush-like as in this country, but real trees with most lovely red flowers.
They have somewhat long stems and then a crown of leaves and flowers. There are no tea-gardens so high up as Bandarawela, but cardamoms are grown a little lower down.
There is an excellent hotel near the railway terminus, owned by a company, and very well managed. Officers quartered there will be in clover, and in touch with all the world, thanks to the 'Observer' and the 'Times of Ceylon,' the railway and the post-office. The railway is almost unique as a feat of engineering skill, and only comparable with that running through the St. Gothard Pass. The 'soda water bottle curve' is one of the sights of the island, and a triumph of the art of the railway engineer. Adam's Peak 7,000 feet high, is in full view from the line, and few iron roads in the world pass through more interesting native villages and towns, through more exquisitely luxuriant vegetation, fields of 'paddy,' rivers, lakelets, etc., than the one starting in a Colombo and terminating at Bandarawela.—'St. James Gazette.'

If you can't sleep on account of a raging toothache, Low's Toothache Gum will stop the ache and give you ease. Price 10c., all medicine dealers.

Moral Suasion on a Dog.

A clergyman who went up in the country to preach, and lived there a considerable time, had occasion in his ministrations to drive regularly over a certain road. At a house on that road lived a big bulldog which always came out and attacked him viciously.
The minister stood this for a good while until, finally, as he drove past one winter day in a low sleigh, a means of correcting the dog by moral suasion occurred to him. He stopped his horse in the road before the house. The dog rushed out madly, barking and threatening to jump into the sleigh. The minister sat in his sleigh and paid no attention. The dog retired, returned to the assault, retired again, and a third time rushed out to the attack, but did not touch the man.
Then he returned to the doorstep and lay down, apparently utterly crestfallen and disgusted with such a man; and, as he paid no further attention, the minister drove off.
After this the minister drove many times past the house, but the dog paid no attention to him, and never seemed to see him at all.
He was cured.—'Evening Transcript.'

He Walked
The Floor

In Agony With Pains in the Back—Sleep Impossible—Medicine of no Avail Until He got Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Patrick J. McLaughlan, Beauharnois, Que., states:—"I was troubled with Kidney Disease and Dyspepsia for 20 years and have been so bad that I could not sleep at nights on account of pains in the back, but would walk the floor all night and suffered terrible agony.
"I tried all sorts of medicines but got no relief until I began using Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They made a new man of me, and the old troubles seem to be driven out of my system." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have an enormous sale and owe their popularity to the fact that they can be absolutely relied upon to cure all ailments of the kidneys, liver, and stomach. They are purely vegetable in composition, prompt and effective in action, and cure permanently. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co, Toronto.
