THE HEADLESS HORSEMAN.

An Incident That Happened in the Franco-Prussian War.

It is a peculiar circumstance that hardened and trained troops will go through a long fight surrounded by all the horrors that are inseparable from war without flinching and with the utmost apparent callousness, and the same men will be struck terrified by a single trifling incident.

Every war of any importance, particularly wars between civilized nations, is prolific in incidents of trivial character in themselves, but so unusual and unnatural that they appeal to the natural instinctive horror of men more suddenly and intensely than perhaps the main terrors of days of carnage and surrounding scenes of suffering. Such an incident is the one, for example, which occured at the battle of Worth in the early days of the Franco-Prussian war.

In the heat of the great battle a wing of the Prussian army was charged by the regiments of French cuirassiers in the hope of turning the wing and facilitating the falling back of the French infantry. But the cuirassiers were driven back by the unflinching Russians. Again the cuirassiers charged, and again they were driven back by the withering fire of shot and shell.

For a third time they came down again, and as the enemy waited for them to draw near a horrible, blood freezing terror seized the Prussians, and for a moment it looked as if they would turn and fly or be cut down without defending themselves. But in a moment they had pulled themselves together and beaten back for the third and last time the gallant cuirassiers.

The sight that terrified the Prussians appears nothing very much in black and white.
It was a regiment of cuirassiers led at a dashing rate toward them by a headless officer sitting upright in his saddle and apparently encouraging his men after having been decapitated by a cannon ball.

THE SEASON WHEN
Paine's Celery
Compound,
SHOULD BE USED.

Nothing Like it for Health-Building.

A sudden jump from torrid heat to weather of a changeable character!
The change is a serious one for the ailing, weary, sleepless, despondent, irritable and for those whose nerve energy is almost exhausted. The quickly varying temperatures experienced during this month, add to the sufferings and burdens of men and women whose systems are deranged or broken down.
Long years of triumph and successes have established the fact that Paine's Celery Compound is the infallible cure for the fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impure blood.

Paine's Celery Compound makes nerve fibre and nerve force; it purifies and enriches the blood; it regulates digestion; it promotes sleep and gives to the entire system a fullness of health and strength that makes life a pleasure.

Our best people are users and friends of Paine's Celery Compound and recommend it to their friends; it is prescribed daily by some of our best physicians.

Some vigorous newspaper man in the West is asking the world to believe his story. He says that express companies have lost thousands of dollars by a swindle of this nature: A man appears at an express office with a package which he values at thousands of dollars. It is accepted and forwarded to its destination as addressed. After a time the same man, under the name of the person to whom the parcel was addressed, calls for it.
Search is made. There is no such package.
It has disappeared without leaving a trace behind. In the box or cover which contained it there was little but a corrosive chemical, which completely destroyed itself and the package which contained it. The man who conceived the idea of such a story ought to be looked after, for with his fertile brain he would undoubtedly do evil things if he got the opportunity. But the story itself can only be believed by those who believe that two snakes can swallow each other.

Mania for Operations

Among the Doctors. No Need of the Knife to Cure Piles. A Suror, Cheaper Easier Way, Dr. Chase's Ointment:

Dread of the surgeon's knife causes multitudes of people to suffer on year after year with piles, when they could be cured without risk, expense, or danger of an operation by using Dr.
Chase's Ointment, the only preparation guaranteed to cure any case of itching, bleeding, or protruding piles.

Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist minister, Arkona, Ont., writes:—"For over twenty years I was a great sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations, all without obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair I was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and did so, finding relief at once.
I used three boxes, and am almost entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them as it has me."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only positive and actual cure for every form of piles, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

That Date Engaged.

Some time ago a rich but ignorant woman wrote to the weather bureau in Washington saying that she was to give a lawn party on a certain day, and asking the bureau to see that it was clear on that day. To make her communication more impressive she enclosed a list of the names of several prominent people she intended to invite.

"I entered into the humor of the thing," said the weather chief, "and sent her and answer to the effect that the afternoon she designated had already been bespoken by a poor washerwoman who wanted to obtain some rainwater with which to wash clothes, and that on this account I could not possibly make it clear on that date."

A Bundle of Nerves

Nerve force is the very life of man and every organ of the human body is dependent upon it.
Just as soon as the blood gets thin and watery and fails to supply nourishment to the nerves there comes a train of nervous disorders, nervous prostration, paralysis, epilepsy, insanity and death.
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food rebuilds and revitalizes the nerve cells wasted by disease, overwork and worry. It is beyond doubt the world's greatest restorative. Recommended by your family's physician. All Druggists recommend and sell it.

A Little Girl's Composition on Boys.

Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be young ladies by-and-by.

Men was made before women. When God looked at Adam he said to himself: "Well, I think I can do better if I try again," and then he made Eve.

God liked Eve so much better than Adam that there have been more women than men ever since.

Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything but soap. If I had my way half of the boys in the world would be girls, and the rest would be dolls. My papa is so nice that I think he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy.

Prayed for Lucy Gray.

Dean Hole of Rochester, England, tells of a very innocent and gentle curate who went to a Yorkshire parish where the parishioners breed horses and sometimes raced them. He was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation for Lucy Gray. He did so. They prayed three Sundays for Lucy Gray. On the fourth the clerk told the curate he need not do it any more. "Why," said the curate "is she dead?" "No," said the clerk, "she won the steeplechase." The curate became quite a power in the parish.

tion, takes out pain, and cures cuts, burns, bruises,

Unsettled.

"Can you tell me what sort of weather we may expect next month?" wrote a subscriber to an editor, and, according to the Cumberland Presbyterian, the editor replied as follows:

"It is my belief that the weather next month will be very much like your subscription."

The inquirer wondered what the editor meant till he happened to think of the word
"unsettled."

THE DISPATCH

Job Printing Department.
Queen St., Woodstock, N. B.

If God made the country and man made the town, the devil made the little country town. There is nothing equal to the smallness of a small town.—TENNYSON.

I thoroughly enjoyed seeing a fakir operate on Main street during the evenings of last week. He drove into the square, halted, lighted a huge illuminator, opened up some valises, pushed his silk hat on the back of his head and began to talk in a friendly way with the people who crowded around the carriage. He said some funny things and some things that were so old that it seemed cruel to take them out into the night air. He incidentally mentioned that he had ten sons, eight of them were living and the other two were at McAdam Junction. After getting the people to believe that he was a very generous man he induced them to buy some electric belts. He sold twenty of these at one dollar each. He not only sold the belts but he sold every man who bought one. Of course he needed the money and it was his business to fake it out of people, but it is rather a pity that some people living in Woodstock and the vicinity would not learn that they can't beat a fakir at his own game.
A fellow who did a little faking himself at one time told that he had once sold electric belts himself. They, together with the present he gave to each purchaser, cost him eight cents each. "Oh," he said to me "people are easy. It is the tight-fisted ones a fakir gets; a man who wants something for nothing. It is the man who goes up against the shell and pea man who buys electric belts. You are doing a legitimate business and a fakir gets money out of men that would not spend any with you." I was forced to admit that I saw one man buy a belt who had stopped taking the THE DISPATCH because he could not get it for 75 cents a year.
As long as there are suckers in the river of life the fakir will bait his hook and throw his line.

What he Could Not Sell.

A gentleman was walking with his little boy at the close of the day, and in passing the cottage of a German laborer the boy's attention was attracted to the dog. It was not a King Charles nor a black or tan, but rather a common cur. Still the boy took a fancy to him and wished his father to buy him.

Just then the owner of the dog came home from his labor and was met by the dog with a great fuss of joy. The gentleman said to the owner: "My little boy has taken a fancy to your dog, and I will buy him. What do you want for him?"

"I can't sell dat dog," said the German.
"Look here," said the gentleman, "that is a poor dog, but as my boy wants him I will give you a sovereign for him."

"Yaas," said the German. "I know he is a very poor dog and he is not worth almost nottin, but dere is von leetle ding mit dat dog vat I can't sell—I can't sell de vag of his tail ven I comes home at night."

Hands Cracked With Salt Rheum

Mr. James McIsaac, 25 Elgin St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"I suffered with salt rheum for upwards of ten years, the skin on my hands cracking and breaking so as to make them useless. After trying all sorts of remedies in vain, I became discouraged and thought my sufferings would never end. Last spring I used Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a short time was perfectly cured." Dr. Chase's Ointment is of unparalleled merit as a cure for all itching skin disease, all druggists.

Supplied Another

At a dinner in Rottingdean a Royal academician stated to the company the curious fact that sugar and sumac are the only two words in English where su is pronounced as shu.

There was much interest shown in the discovery, when Rudyard Kipling was heard from the other end of the table. "But are you quite sure?"

Corn Fritters.

Two cups of cooked corn, two eggs, one cup of milk, one spoonful of baking powder, some beef suet simmering in a frying pan, drop in a spoonful of the batter and fry brown. Serve with maple syrup or butter sauce.

Every Kind
of Backache

Yields to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Because They Act Directly on the Liver as Well as the Kidneys.

Pains in the small of the back, over the kidneys, are usually due to dis-arrangements of the kidneys, and disappear when the kidneys are set right.
But there are other kinds of backache, by far the greater proportion, that can never be reached by treating the kidneys. Pains in the shoulders, through the centre of the back, and in the sides are caused by a torpid action of the liver, and can only be driven out when the liver is made healthy and active.

To reach the liver, as well as the kidneys, to set the filtering organs in working order and to cure every kind of backache, there is but one unfailing remedy, and that is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. It is the only treatment that has this direct and combined action on both liver and kidneys, and the only one that positively and permanently cures backache, whether caused by liver or kidneys.

pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.
