M. Murphy drove to Andover Sunday afternoon. The village has been full of Commercial men the last week.

MAPLE VIEW

Well! here we come again, but it is nearly snowed up we are this time. March winds are making themselves known up here as elsewhere.

Snow is reported to be about six feet deep at the upper end of Wapkehegan tote road. The "jolly old sun" will have to take his innings soon if the snow leaves us before July.

Early in the New Year Geo. Morey took unto himself a life partner. We are pleased to note that they have settled among us. We extend congratulations and many good wishes for the future.

Miss Nellie Sadler has returned home from a pleasant visit to Andover.

Miss Kelly, of Benton, still remains with us and efficiently teaches the young idea.

Craig Williams made a flying visit to his home recently.

Mrs. Norman Wright of "The Corner" has been quite ill of pneumonia. We are glad to know she is convalescent at present.

Wesley H. Crone, of Centreville, still stays in vicinity, making weekly visits to and from camp on Three Brooks.

THE BITER BITTEN.

A Trick That Didn't Work Out Just as Expected.

There were three of them, and as they entered the German saloon on the corner the tall young man, who wore razzle dazzle clothes and posed as "fast," remarked in an undertone to his companions that he would "show them something good."

They lined up at the bar, and the tall young man ordered three 5 cent drinks. When these were disposed of, he laid down 10 cents on the bar, at which the German proprietor remarked, "Nein: fifteen." The tall young man repocketed the coin and thus addressed the German:

"I just gave you 10 cents, didn't I?"

"Yah," responded the German.

"Well, here's 10 cents. That makes 20, so you own me 5," added the young man again depositing the dime on the bar.

The German looked bewildered, but placed the dime in the money drawer and handed the tall young man a half dollar, with the request that he deduct therefrom the amount due him. The tall young man had just the correct change, 45 cents left in his pocket. This he promptly handed to the German and received the half dollar. Then the three companions repaired to the street and indulged in a mighty laugh, while the tall young man swelled up like a prize turkey on parade. Everything went lovely until they parted company and the tall young man took a car for his home in the suburbs. Imagine his feelings when the conductor handed him back the 50 cents which he tendered in response to the request for fares with the information that the piece was "bad." It was all the money he had, and he could not persuade the conductor to trust him, so he was ejected at the next corner and he had to walk the remaining five miles to his home.—Chicago Journal.
