GOOD MEN NEEDED.

Last week we published an interview with Mr. F. S. Wilbur, who returned to this country after some time spent in the Transvaal. Readers of this paper will note that Mr. Wilbur referred to the corruption of the Transvaal Volksraad or legislature. He said that capitalists desirous of obtaining concessions approached the representatives from the back districts, and by the power of gold induced them to use their votes in securing the capitalists the desired privilege. It is probable that there would have been no war if the members of the Volksraad been true to their trust; but quite as wise a man as we are among us today has uttered these words: "The love of money is the root of all evil." The members of the Volksraad took gold and sold their votes—their birthright, and the legislature having once become corrupt the fall of the country was certain. There is a warning to us right here.

It is said that undue influences are at work in Ottawa, and even to the little side show at Woodstock. What does "lobbying" mean? "Lobbying" and "lobbying" are not unappealing. They have an ugly sound, and they present ugly actions. It was probably "lobbying" and "lobbying" that has brought the country to its present unhappy state. It is absolutely imperative, whether we legislate or vote, that we should be unimpeachable men. With all the faults of our party system it tends towards corruption of government, if for this reason alone the individual who would like to be a politician, finds it difficult to do so. The moment he breaks from his party, the searchlight is on him. He is like a weak hearted man at the front. The eyes of his comrades keeps him up to the mark.

It is often a surprise that city governments are corrupt. That city governments are corrupt is a fact. The water seems plain, but it may be because there is no party system. There is no regular opposition, no orderly body of critics. So, when we come to our party politics let us be sure that we are not a bright side to it, also.

Girls' Ambitions.

Any girls will have noticed that as our civilization advances our ambitions are apt to become more simple. We learn gradually to be content with smaller duties better fitted to our needs than the greatest happiness, and the possibility for fullest and richest development. Almost every girl, when she first begins to realize that she will probably never fulfill her girlish ambitions because they are beyond her possibilities, has the inclination to "give up," as the saying is. It is apt to be the beginning of really contentment, and it ought to be. A girl once try to fully realize what it is to be the inspiration of some one person, the sunshine in the darkened lives of one or two people and she will then understand how it may fill her life almost to the brim with happiness.

Physicians Prescribe It

It has become quite common for physicians to prescribe the Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for patients who are down by the ravae of chronic disease. It is a restorative of inestimable value in which are found the very elements required to build up the system and form flesh and muscle. Its revitalizing action on the nerves and blood places it beyond the reach of any other absolute cure for diseases of the nerves. 50 cents a box.

Won Him a Bride.

Major J. M. Burke told a good story of his experience in helping a friend to get the girl of his choice.

"He was a good fellow," said he, "but young and without much capital. The girl was a beauty and loved the boy, but the father (the same old irate father) objected and demanded that the boy show that he was capable of supporting a wife. This was in St. Louis about ten years ago, and the boy came to me with his troubles.

"Never mind," said I. "I'll fix it up all right. By the way, how much will you take for your right leg?"

"He looked at me as though I were crazy, but made no answer.

"I'll give you $10,000 for it," I said. "Will you take it?"

"No, I won't," he said. "What do you take me for?"

"Well, I knew the girl's father; he was a merchant, and I called to see him. We finally drifted around to talking about this young fellow, and the old man flared a little, stating that he wanted some one who could support a wife to have his daughter.

"Support a wife!" said I, in surprise.

"Why, he certainly can do all that. Only a few days ago he refused $10,000 for a piece of property."

"His own property?" asked the father.

"Certainly," said I.

"Who offered him the money?" said he.

"I did, and he refused it," I answered.

"He claimed it was worth more."

"Well, this made a bit, and no more questions were asked. The boy is doing well now and has a good family. I haven't spoken to the father since.—Washington Times.

A Clergyman's Influence.

Paine's Celery Compound Recommended by Rev. C. M. Tyler, a Methodist Minister of Nova Scotia.

It Saves the Life of Mr. George W. Parks.

A Gain in Flesh of Thirty-two Pounds in Three Weeks.

Amongst professional men who are active and ardent advocates of Paine's Celery Compound, clergymen are found who never weary in recommending the wonderful medicine to members of their churches who are ailing, sick and diseased.

The true and honest clergyman who has himself experienced the life-giving powers of Paine's Celery Compound—who has been raised from weakness of body to full health and vigor, feels it a duty to speak to others of the only true health and strength builder that the world has ever seen.

Mr. G. W. Parks, once near the dark grave, but rescued and saved by Paine's Celery Compound after failures of his doctors, sends the following letter:

"While at sea I was taken sick, which compelled me to abandon my work and seek home and rest. I consulted the doctors who pronounced it typhoid or slow fever. I suffered severely from night-sweats, and cold chills during the day. Added to this I was extremely nervous, which weakened me and reduced my flesh until I was a mere skeleton. This continued until last winter, when my wife and friends began to despair of my recovery, as the medicines I took produced no good, and I was gradually growing worse. "Through the influence of the Rev. C. M. Tyler, I was induced to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial, and I can truly say it worked wonders. The first bottle gave me great relief, and five bottles completely cured me. I gained thirty-two pounds in three weeks, and am now strong and healthy. I would urge the suffering everywhere to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial.

Modern Woman Must Eat.

A woman of 30 of today does not pretend to be a girl, whereas the spinster of the last generation often made herself ridiculous at 45 by aping the reticences, the blushes and the childish appetites of 16.

One wonders, indeed, what our comic writers would have done without her. For about 100 years she has flourished in English literature, a mixture of uneducated fool and narrow minded prude.

This curious creature, of course, was not supposed to eat. When she went out to dinner, she let the dishes pass, toyed with an ice and was held to be a pattern of all the domestic virtues.

Mr. George Meredith's ideal heroine is a lady who can play a good knife and fork, and no doubt it will be for the ultimate benefit of the race, as well as the immediate benefit of the current menu, if this species of woman is encouraged.—New York World.

SCIATICA 2 YEARS.

Mr. Fred Platt, 12 Frankish Ave., Toronto, says that he suffered over two years with Sciatica. Three boxes of Milbarn's Rheumatic Pills removed every trace of the pain and made him as limber as a boy.

A LITTLE COLD LET RUN.

A little tickling in the throat—now and then a dry, hacking cough—"not bad enough to bother about you say."

But every hack makes a breach in the system, strains the lungs and prepares the way for more serious trouble.

'Twould be wise for you to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup now, before the lungs become permanently affected.

It is the most certain and satisfactory remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness, Sore Throat and Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Geo. F. Foster, Lansdowne, N.B., has this to say: "I was taken suddenly with a cold which settled on my lungs. I had a terrible cough and it gave me great alarm. All the remedies I tried seemed of no use.

I then started taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which cured me so promptly that it was a pleasant surprise. I shall always keep it in the house during the winter season."

The Onion Cure.

Onions are a kind of all round good medicine. A whole onion eaten at bedtime will by the next morning break the severest cold. Onions make a good plaster to remove inflammation and hoarseness. If an onion is mashed so as to secure all the juice in it it will make a most remarkable smelling substance that will quiet the most nervous person. The strength of it inhaled for a few moments will dull the sense of smell and weaken the nerves until sleep is produced from sheer exhaustion. It all comes from one property possessed by the onion, and that is a form of opium.

Pain in the bowels, Diarrhoea and Dysentery are cured more quickly and effectually by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry than any other remedy. Beware of substitutes.

In estimating the amount of chicken salad to be served to a company the proportion of five large chickens to 30 persons would be a safe one.

AT NIGHT

Before retiring take a Laxa-Liver Pill. It will work while you sleep without a gripe or pain, curing Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache, and make you feel better in the morning.

Hull, P. Q.

I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and I have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since I commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tabules will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, 'Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?'
