WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Pole Hill not a name to Conjure with but the Place is a Delight to the Eye.—Rich Farm land and comfortable homes.

On an ear that has been taught to distinguish the sweet from the harsh, in sounds, the name of "Pole Hill" must fall with a discordant crash that would remind one of the awful noise in the press room of a country newspaper office. The man with the most cultivated ear must admit that "Pole Hill," even when pronounced in the most dulcet tones, is enough to drive a man to cigarettes or to mild punch.

In a country abounding with such musical Indian names as Meductic, Becaguimic, Nash-waak, and such English names as Coldstream and Silverdale, why should any bit of God's footstool be sentenced to bear that nightmare of all names, "Pole Hill?" Farther up the St. John river the wretched name of "Bum-frau," has given place to the, at least appropriate, "Beechwood," and yet the awful curse of "Pole Hill," clings to a delightful spot in the Parish of Brighton. "Highgate" is now being used by some people to designate this unfortunately christened spot, and while not beautiful it is at least not positively ugly.

To reach "Pole Hill," alias "Highgate," one leaves the river road at the saw mill, about a mile below Hartland, and the drive of six miles is through a charming piece of territory, not thickly settled, but with here and there a fine farm, well cultivated. The wooded land is birch, beech and maple with an occasional tree of hemlock, pine, tamarack or fir. When at last you reach the top of the hill from which the place has received its name you look beyond to where the road runs into the so called Foundry Land, and ends. Here, in front of you, you see a few farms that for fertility can't be excelled in New Brunswick. The farmers are progressive and prosperous, their buildings are good, and one farm house in particular must be called one of the most modern, comfortable and convenient farm cottages in Carleton County. To one who has heard of this place as just the jumping off place, it is a pleasant shock to visit it. Though the first settlement was made here over sixty years ago the size of the settlement is yet small. There are only six families in the vicinity today. They have no post office and no government grant for their school. However, they bravely drive to Hartland for their mail and go down into their own pockets for their teacher's salary.

Pole Hill, No! let us call it Highgate, by all means, has been promised a post office, and the local government is greatly improving their road to Hartland this year. Next year the government will give them a new road to Woodstock and will at the same time open up a road through the settlement, letting the population of Coldstream through to Woodstock by a much shorter way than they now travel.

The Foundry Land, which lies to the south of Highgate, is a fertile stretch of country of about 800 acres. It would be an excellent move for the government to recover this land, open it up with good roads and place it on the market in one hundred or two hundred acre farms.

Instead of smiling when the name of "Pole Hill" is mentioned it would be well for every one of us to indignantly repudiate the name, call the place Highgate, and take a drive at once to the much maligned valley and learn its beauties.

Death of Mrs. Warren Bull.

One of the oldest and best known residents of this County passed away at Grafton, on Wednesday last, in the person of Mrs. Caroline Bull after a long illness. Mrs. Bull, whose maiden name was Perley, was the relict of the late Warren C. Bull, one of the pioneers of this County; and was born in Mauderville just 88 years and six months ago. She was of a large family, several of whom were well known in Woodstock, namely: Mrs. Burns and the Hon. Chas. Perley. Mrs. Bull lived the greater part of her life on the farm in Northampton now owned by Mr. Gill, but for the last 18 years has resided in Grafton. Mrs. Bull had four children, two of whom have been dead a great many years, namely: Lieut. James L. Bull, and Caroline, the wife of Joseph Griffith. Two sons, G. Allen, and Charles P. Bull survive, with eleven grand children and four great grand children to mourn her loss. Mrs. Bull's remains were interred in Christ's Church cemetery beside her husband, son and daughter, on Friday last. Rev. Mr. Teed, of Richmond, in the absence of Archdeacon Neales, officiated at the obsequies. A number of beautiful wreaths adorned the casket.

The importance of plain talk can't be over-estimated. Any thought, however abstruse, can be put in speech that a boy or negro can grasp.—The Crisis.

CANADA TEMPERANCE ACT.

Eight Cases Against Dr. Wyman—A Perjury Case Going Forward in Consequence of Some Previous Convictions.

Last week eight informations were laid against Dr. Wyman of Beechwood, for violation of the Canada Temperance Act.

On the first hearing William Gee of Beechwood swore that one day recently he went into Dr. Wyman's barn, where the doctor was standing, and threw a dollar into a box in sight of the doctor, saying as he did so that he wanted some medicine. The doctor told him to go down to the railroad track which is a few rods from the barn. He went down to the track and stayed two or three minutes and then went back to the house. As he reached the house the doctor came out and started toward the railway track and he (Gee) followed a rod or two behind. When the doctor reached the fence at the track Gee saw him stoop down. Gee approached and just where the doctor had stooped down, found two bottles of whiskey, which he picked up. As he did so the doctor said to him, "If a man finds anything lying on the railroad track, whose business is it?" On the witness being asked how he came to place money in the box and ask for medicine he replied that he had heard that was the way to get liquor from the doctor, and he said he tried it and found he had the combination all right. At the request of the doctor this case is adjourned till next Saturday.

In the next case Freeman DeMerchant of Beechwood was the witness. He swore that on a recent day he walked into the doctor's office and informed the gentleman that he wanted some medicine. The doctor said "all right." Mr. DeMerchant then laid sixty cents on a shelf and picked up a bottle and took it away. After he went away he took a drink of the liquid and found it to be gin. In answer to a question as to why he had asked for medicine, paid his money and took his choice, the witness said he had heard that that was a way to get liquor from the doctor. This case stands adjourned till next Saturday.

In the third case Wilson Dyer somewhat reluctantly gave evidence. He was asked if he had during the month of August got any intoxicating liquor from Dr. Wyman. Mr. Dyer refused to answer. He persisted in his refusal for about half an hour when the police magistrate decided to commit him to jail eight days for contempt. He made out a warrant and sent for a constable. When the constable drove up to the door Mr. Dyer thought better of the business and answered that about the middle of August he bought some liquor from the doctor and paid him for it. This case also adjourned.

Eben Smith, who was the witness in the cases against Albert DeMerchant for violation of the Canada Temperance Act, has been arrested for perjury in those cases. The Examination was held before Police Magistrate Farley, at Bristol, last Thursday. J. R. Murphy appeared for the prosecution and W. P. Jones for the defendant. The hearing was adjourned until to-day. The point in the case is this: DeMerchant says that Smith swore that he (Smith) bought liquor from DeMerchant on July 4th, and DeMerchant is able to prove that he was not there on that day. Smith says that he swore that he made the purchase on or about July 4th.

Death of Thomas Vail.

Thomas Vail, a respected resident of Jack-sonville, died suddenly at his home of heart failure on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, aged 56 years and 8 months. Mr. Vail had been in apparent good health and had all arrangements made for an outing on the next day. Shortly before four o'clock he went to the barn. Samuel Jones called at the house to see him and after waiting for a short time went to the barn to look him up and found him lying on the floor, dead. Dr. Kierstead was summoned but nothing could be done. Mr. Vail was unmarried. He leaves one brother, Brock Vail, and three sisters, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Abraham Store and Miss Vail who lived with deceased. The funeral took place at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. The service was performed by the Rev. E. W. Simonson.

September Wedding.

At high noon on Wednesday, Sept. 11, at the home of the bride's father, Four Falls, the marriage took place of Miss Mabel F. Barker and Charles M. Rideout of Hartland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Daggett. Only the immediate relatives were present. The bride was dressed in white organdy with veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and snailax. She was attended by two little flower girls. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Beveridge of Andover. After luncheon was over Mr. and Mrs. Rideout drove to the station where they took the express for St. Andrews and other points, to return to Hartland on the 20th inst., when a reception will be given in their home at the Commercial hotel where they will reside.—Hartland Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK IS THREATENED

With a Big Time—The Big Fair and the Carleton County Militia here at the Same Time.

There is every indication that Woodstock will be a busy place next week.

It is now a settled thing that the three militia corps of Carleton County, the 10th Field Battery, the Brighton Engineers and the 67th Regiment of Light Infantry will go into fall camp here on the 24th, and the big fair will open on the following day.

The Battery is allowed 104 officers and men, the Engineers the same number and the 67th Regiment is allowed 364, so that if all the corps are up to full strength there will be 572 officers and men encamped here.

The Woodstock Cornet Band will be in camp as the 67th regimental band.

In the Battery.—Major Good is Commanding officer with Capt. F. E. Carvell and Lieutenants Gray, Fields and Good. Dr. Hand is surgeon.

In the Engineers—Major Tompkins is Commanding officer with Lieutenants Milville and Carr.

In the 67th Regiment.—Col. Boyer is commanding officer, with Col. Hartley and Major Baker and Adjutant Raymond. The officers of companies in the 67th are as follows:—

- No. 1. Capt. Bull and Lieutenants Wetmore and McLean.
- No. 3. Brevet Major J. R. Kirkpatrick, Lieutenants Kirkpatrick and Johnston.
- No. 4. Capt. W. W. Ross and Lieut. Ross.
- No. 5. Capt. Taylor and Lieut. White.
- No. 6. Capt. Kupkey and Lieut. Stevenson.
- No. 7. Capt. Lawson.
- No. 8. Capt. G. D. Perkins and Lieuts. Adams and Herb Ross.
- No. 9. Capt. Margison and Lieut. McClarey.

Dr. Curtis is surgeon, Capt. Harry Carvell quarter master, Major Harding, pay master.

The presence of the Militia here during the exhibition should be a material addition to the attractions and should make the next week here a series of gala days.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The sixth annual convention of the N. B. Women's Christian Temperance Union held its annual session at Hartland, beginning Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 10th, and closing Thursday evening.

Mrs. J. K. Barney, of Rhode Island, a member of the world union, and prison evangelist, was present and added greatly to the interest of the meetings. Mrs. Barney is a very pleasant speaker winning her hearers by her unassuming manner and the inexhaustible fund of information acquired by many years of experience in the work to which she has consecrated her life.

Thirty-three unions reported, having a membership of 560 members with honorary membership of forty-seven, 180 public meetings have been held during the year, and about $300.00 have been received. The number of unions in each county are as follows: Albert 3; Carleton 3; Charlotte 6; Gloucester 1; King 3; Northumberland 5; Kent 2; Sunbury 1; St. John 3; Westmorland 5; York 1.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Atkinson, Moncton, re-elected president; Mrs. McLeod Newcastle, re-elected vice-president Mrs. Lindow, St. Stephen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Phillips, Fredericton, treasurer; Miss Weldon, Sackville, recording secretary; Mrs. Gilman, Fredericton, auditor.

Thursday evening a public meeting was held in the interest of Sunday school work. The singing throughout all the sessions was of an excellent order and was by purely local talent.

Anderson-Brewer.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on the evening of the 11th at the residence of Mrs. Clara Brewer, Perth, Victoria County, when her youngest daughter, Laura Lionne, was united in marriage to Mr. James Alec Anderson, by Rev. R. W. Demmings. The bride looked charming in a gown of white cashmere and satin and wore a veil, she carried a bouquet of white asters, and was attended by Miss Dora Davis, of Bristol, who was dressed in white muslin and carried pink flowers. Miss Bessie Lurie played the wedding march. DuVernet Brewer supported the groom, and her eldest brother, Burton, gave the bride away. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served and a very pleasant evening spent. A serenade by the Perth band was much appreciated. Only immediate relatives and friends were present. The Baptist church and choir gave a handsome sideboard, and the many other valuable and useful presents received show the high esteem in which the young couple are held in the vicinity. They will reside in Perth.
