WOODSTOCK, SEPT. 18, 1901.

THE LATE PRESIDENT.

The whole civilized world was shocked at the news that the President McKinley had passed away, until within a few hours of his death every hope was entertained of his recovery.

In his death there departed a high minded gentleman, an exemplary citizen and a wise and able statesman.

Throughout Canada flags are flying at half mast and sincere tributes of respect were paid to his memory from every pulpit in Canada on Sunday.

Baptist Sunday School Convention.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Baptist Sunday school convention opened in the Baptist church at Hartland on Thursday the 12th inst., and the following officers elected:

President, R. Barry Smith.
Vice Presidents, C. N. Barton and M. Addison.

Secretary, R. M. Bynon.
Treasurer, L. H. Thorne.

The afternoon session was taken up with general business and in the evening Messrs. Smith, Martin, Hughes and Bynon gave addresses.

At the Friday morning session it was decided to meet next year in July at a place to be chosen by the secretary.

The normal study committee reported as follows:

1. That a normal board consisting of five be appointed by the convention.

2. That the text book on normal lessons prepared by R. M. Bynon be adopted.

3. That the board be empowered to give diplomas to pupils passing a successful examination in this course.

4. That the normal board prepare a second year's course of study to be submitted at the next annual meeting of the convention.

At the 11 o'clock service on Friday the regular convention of the churches was opened with devotional exercises. Mrs. J. K. Barney, the prison evangelist gave an address.

J. H. Hughes, T. H. Hall and C. N. Barton were appointed a nominating committee. The report of the committee on arrangements was next read.

Rev. R. M. Bynon read the report on education, which after considerable discussion was laid on the table until the afternoon session.

In the session of Friday afternoon Mr. Bynon gave notice to amend Article IV. of the constitution so as to enable the convention to change the date of meeting after next year.

The treasurer's report was, after reading, discussed and adopted.

The following resolution was unanimously passed:

Whereas, it has come to be expedient for the best interests of the churches connected with this, the New Brunswick Baptist Convention, that it should control all funds contributed to our benevolent enterprises;

And whereas, our churches desire a closer bond of union in methods of work and the development of their benevolence;

Therefore Resolved, that in future all moneys received for the various purposes, from whatever source, by collections, donations, bequests, etc., be paid over to the treasurer of this convention and disbursed by him as designated by the donors to the respective objects.

The committee of arrangements reported further, outlining appointments for the Sabbath.

In the evening an evangelistic service was conducted by Mr. Barton, in which over one hundred testified of a Christian experience. At the conclusion the quartette sang The Wayside Cross with good effect.

Throughout the convention the air has been delightful, enough rain having fallen to lay the dust and drive out all impurities.

Delegates continue to arrive on each incoming train, and a large number of ministers and Sunday school workers are now in attendance at the convention. Prof. W. F. Watson, with his wife and children, are here from South Carolina. The professor holds the chair of chemistry and biology in Furman University in that state. He is an author of considerable repute, having already published two works. He has now completed a text-book on Inorganic Chemistry, which is being published by A. S. Barnes & Co. of New York.

Evangelist Martin is also among those in attendance, and his Bible readings have been much appreciated. Mrs. Martin accompanies her husband and greatly assists in his work. Mrs. Barney, the prison evangelist, gave a fine address before the convention. Her home is in Providence, R. I., and she has of late returned from a trip to Cuba, where, she has done a great work among the prisoners.

At the Saturday forenoon session the discussion of the educational report was resumed and after amendment adopted. The committee on the publication of the Annual presented a report, which was adopted.

The papers of the Summer School of Theology were then taken up and opened for review by the convention. The secretary read a paper entitled The Bible and the State, in which a distinction was drawn between the earthly and the heavenly citizenship. Rev. J. H. Hughes followed with a treatment of the Two Covenants. An interesting discussion accompanied both these addresses, during which a number of able reviews were given.

In the afternoon the secretary presented the report on obituaries, which made reference to the deaths of Elders Young Kierstead Springer and Todd, who has passed away during the year.

GROWING GIRLS.

OCCASIONALLY REQUIRE A TONIC MEDICINE.

It Will Keep the Blood Rich, Red and Pure Strengthen the Nerves and Prevent Decline.

Mrs. Hiram Rinkler, the wife of a respected farmer in South Pelham township, Welland county, Ontario, says:—"It is with great pleasure that I give this tribute to the health restoring virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When my daughter, Lena, (now thirteen years of age) began the use of your medicine, a little over a year ago, she was in a most wretched condition. In fact we were seriously alarmed lest she might not recover. The first symptoms were a feeling of languor and weakness, gradually growing worse. She became pale, lost flesh, had little or no appetite and was apparently going into a decline. Finally the trouble became complicated with a persistent sore throat, which gave her great difficulty in swallowing. I gave her several advertised medicines, but they did not benefit her. Then she was placed under the care of a doctor, who said her blood was poor and watery, and her whole system badly run down. The doctor's treatment did not help her any, and then acting on the advice of a neighbor, I began to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The confidence with which this medicine was urged upon us was not misplaced, as I soon noticed a distinct improvement in my daughter's condition. The use of the pills for a few weeks longer seemed to completely restore her, and from that time she has been a cheerful, light-hearted girl, the very picture of health. I will always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other sufferers, feeling sure they will prove quite as efficacious as they did in my daughter's case.

Mothers with growing daughters will make no mistake if they insist upon the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; they will help them to develop property; will make their blood rich and pure, and thus ward off disease and decline. The genuine pills are sold only in boxes bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. None other is genuine, no matter what some self-interested dealer may say. If in doubt send direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Special Business

When I arrived at Black Rock, I inquired at a village tavern for a man of the name of Wharton, who had some land to sell.

"Do you mean old Bill Wharton?"

"Yes."

"Got land down on Bass river?"

"Yes."

Well, he lives about three miles out of town."

"Yes, but it won't do you any good."

"Is he ill?"

"Not that I know of, but he wouldn't see the president of United States before next Wednesday. If you can wait seven or eight days, you can get to talk about that land with him."

"Then he has some special business on hand?"

"Special business? Well, I should say so and no mistake. Today him and old Pete Davis sat down to a game of checkers for the championship of the county."—Philadelphia Times.

Styles for the Winter.

The easiest and simplest way we can suggest for our readers to get a good idea of the styles that will be popular this winter is to buy a copy of THE OCTOBER DELINEATOR, just on sale at every news stand. THE DELINEATOR for October foreshadows, by means of its New York, Paris and London connections, those tendencies of fashion that will certainly prevail.

In addition to the fashion features and practical dressmaking advice that has made THE DELINEATOR famous, the October number is full of good general reading, most tastefully illustrated under the immediate direction of the well-known artist, William Martin Johnson. Mr. Johnson's work is known to lovers of the beautiful, by reason of the Garfield edition of Ben Hur, as well as some other books of large sale. Mr. Johnson believes in illustrations that illustrate, rather than in pictures that only ornament a page. The whole October number of THE DELINEATOR is full of interest to men as well as to women.

Mr. Phillips Explains.

The following letter from Mr. Phillips whose honesty has never before been questioned, is self explanatory. It is hardly necessary to say that such an unjust accusation could never have been made against Mr. Phillips by any one who knew him.

BATH, N. B., Sept. 12, 1901.

To the Editor of the Globe:

Sir,—I wish to explain through your paper to the public an article which appeared some few weeks ago stating that I made off with the money collected from the harvesters towards the donation to Fireman Corwin, of the wrecked harvesters' train, at Ingolf. After the train was wrecked and upon learning that the fireman had his leg cut off, I volunteered to contribute $10 towards a donation to the fireman, and I picked out five men to act as a committee to collect money towards the donation. As soon as the money was collected and counted, which amounted to one hundred and two dollars and one cent, it was passed over to me to keep till we reached Winnipeg. After a delay of fourteen hours on a siding below Ingolf, our train proceeded on to Winnipeg. After our arrival at Winnipeg the different members of the committee separated, most of them going on towards Moose Jaw. I was standing in front of a hotel, when two men whose acquaintance I had made on the train approached me, asking me if the money had been donated, and I said that it had not. They stated that they were going up to the hospital to see one of the injured men and also Fireman Corwin and said they would take the amount to him. Previously I asked them if they knew where the men of the committee were, and they said that they had gone on towards Moose Jaw, and I wishing to take the next train and not thinking twice about it gave the envelope containing $102.01 to them and they went their way, and I went two hours later on to Indian Head. Two days after my arrival there I noticed a piece in a Winnipeg paper the harvesters would like to know what had become of the money that I had collected towards Fireman Corwin. My suspicion was immediately aroused and I immediately sent a like amount, the same as collected through the harvesters, through the agent at Indian Head direct to Fireman Corwin, and my next step was to write to the Winnipeg Press to let them know that I was wrongfully accused on account of my supposed friends' dishonesty in not contributing the money which I gave them at Winnipeg. And now, after learning that an article, inserted by Mr. McKelhaney, one of the harvesters, in your paper, informing the public that I had made off with the money collected from the harvesters towards Fireman Corwin, I wish to inform the public that I have been most wrongfully treated, and I trust that the explanation is sufficient to stop the abuse of my name. Thanking you for space in your paper.

I remain,
J. A. PHILLIPS.

Give Everybody a Chance.

Emerson's dictum that we should treat every one as if he were all he ought to be is an excellent rule to practice in daily life. It is human nature to rise to the level that is expected of it. It is not necessary to waste time upon un congenial people unless you are bound to them by strong family ties, but it is important that all with whom you come in contact be studied, with the desire on your part to give credit for all that is good in them and that nothing in their outward circumstances or appearance be allowed to prejudice you against them.—Ada C. "There's Just This About It."

Said one of our old customers yesterday, who had been prospecting for a Fall and Winter Suit. "I don't often look around, but a dollar looks pretty big to me now, and I did look in two or three places before I came here. I am satisfied I can do better here than at any other store. These $8.00 Suits beat anything I ever saw.

Now, We've One Thing to Say to You:

We can't compel you to buy, or even to look; we can only place the facts before you—but if you will look, if you will compare, you'll find our prices below those of other houses, then you'll be glad you came to us for your Fall Clothing.
