EAST FLORENCEVILLE.

Monday was a fine day.

Friday was a glorious day for the 12th. It was warm and the roads were in fine condition. There was a large crowd in East Flo-renceville and everybody had a good time.
The base ball game was quite interesting.
It was between Centreville and East Floreneville teams, the latter winning, score 10 to 13.

In the evening there was a dance in the hall which was the last event of the glorious 12th here.

ampton met here to celebrate the twelfth. The day was all that could be desired at 10.30 the orangemen met at the hall and forming in a procession walked to the R. B. church where Rev. Joseph Blakney spoke to them on Orangeism. The True Blues, and Prentice Boys of Woodstock formed part of the procession.

In the afternoon an Aerolite swing was on the ground which with sports and speeches from Mr. Hipwell and Mr. Blakney the afternoon slipped away and in the evening a concert was held in the hall. The Woodstock band was in attendance.

Rebuked at a Funeral.

The Rev. George Edward Walk, pastor of Harrison Street Christian Church, raised a commotion in a funeral sermon here yesterday that was followed by a dramatic incident at a grave. A four-year-old son of William and Mrs. Hancock was being buried. The Hancocks had separated and divorced, and Mr. Hancock recently remarried. The child since the separation, had been at the home of its grandfather. The Rev. Mr. Walk, who was presumably acquainted with the domestic relations of the family, announced for his text the following Biblical quotation:

"When my father and mother forsake me my Lord will take me up." He followed his text with a scathing arraignment of modern-day divorcees. The divorced parents, who sat at the head of the little casket, made no demonstration of disapproval, but Otho Jackson, a brother of Mrs. Hancock, walked up to the minister as services were beginning at the open grave and demanded a public retraction of the sermon at the house. Mr.
Walk disclaimed a personal application of the sermon, saying his reference to divorce was of a general character, and not intended to be offensive. The angry brother was not satisfied with this private explanation, and pressed his demands for a public renunciation, either at the concluding funeral service or in public print, emphasizing the mandate by threats of a personal encounter. The minister finished the service without referring to the incident at the house and trouble is expected later.—[Kokomo (Ind.) Correspondence, June 16, Indianapolis Journal.

GOOD-BYE.

We say it for an hour, perhaps for years;
We say it smiling, say it choked with tears;
We say it coldly, say it with a kiss,
And yet we have no other word than this—
Good-bye.

We have no dearer word for our heart's friend,
For him who journeys to the world's far end,
And scars our soul with going; this we say,
As unto him who steps but o'er the way—
Good-bye.

Alike to those we love and those we hate, We say no more in parting. At life's gate, To him who passes out beyond earth's sight, We cry as to the wanderer for a night—
Good-bye.
