THE PRICE OF HAY.

The price of hay has been higher this spring than for some years. The cause has been the unusual demand for shipment to the British Army in South Africa. There has not been so little old hay left in this province at this season for years, and with practically no old stuff on the market when the new crop is cut the price should keep up fairly well. One who follows the course of events in South Africa can't but be convinced that no matter what success crowns the British arms there, the county must be garrisoned for some years with a large force, and that force must be a mounted one. The only conclusion is, that with a smaller supply than usual in the market and a demand equal to that of last year, the price of hay cannot fall.

THE LATE CHARLES WILLIAM RAYMOND.

Col. Charles William Raymond one of the oldest and most respected residents of Carleton County died at his residence two miles below Woodstock at 12 o'clock on Monday night in his 81st year. Mr. Raymond appeared in his usual good health on Sunday. He attended service at the Parish church in the morning and in the evening at St. Luke's. On Monday morning he dressed himself but lay down on his bed and when his son entered his room he found him lying, stricken with paralysis. He never recovered consciousness. Colonel Raymond, a son of the late Charles Raymond was born and always lived at Woodstock and he was one of the best known figures in this vicinity. About fifty one years ago he married Miss Carman of St. Marys, a sister of the late Odeber Carman of the Parish of Woodstock. His wife died on December 28th 1893. He leaves three sons, Rev. W. O. Raymond, Rector of St. Mary's church, St. John, C. L. S. Raymond, who lives on the homestead and Arthur J. Raymond, Lay Reader of St. Luke's church, Woodstock and one daughter, Miss Bessie Raymond and six grand children, including a son and daughter of the late Mrs. Charles H. Perkins.

Like his father, Col. Raymond was always actively interested in the militia, having been commanding officer of the 67th Batt, of which his son, Capt. A. J. Raymond, is now adjutant. Though he followed agricultural pursuits he became interested in architecture and building and attained great skill in these. He designed and superintended the erection of the Parish Church at Woodstock and the church at Stauley, and furnished the plans of other churches including the one at Richmond. He at one time did a comparatively large business in the manufacture of church fittings, seats, desks and pulpits and he did the finer work on the inside of many churches within one hundred miles of Woodstock. He was a liberal in politics and a member of the Anglican church. He always took a very active interest in church affairs. In his early life he was actively interested in temperance work. He was a charter member of the first division of the Sons of Temperance ever established in this county. He was fond of music and when a young man was one of the members of the first band organized in Woodstock. For many years he sang in the choir of St. Luke's church. Col. Raymond was always a man of sterling worth, a kindly neighbour and an honourable gentleman and his memory will live in the hearts of the friends who knew and respected him.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 at the Parish Church.

Mr. McLeod Inducted.

BILLINGS'S BRIDGE, Ont., May 31.—The Rev. D. M. McLeod, B. A., who for the past year has been doing missionary work in New Brunswick, was last night inducted into the pastorate of Billings's Bridge Presbyterian church. Previous to the induction the ladies of the congregation served refreshments. It had been intended to have this part of the programme on the church lawn, but owing to the weather conditions this was not practicable.

The induction took place at 7.30. A very eloquent sermon was preached by the Rev. A. E. Mitchell, B. A., of Erskine Church, Ottawa, who took his text from John xx., 21: 'As my father has sent me, even so send I you.' The Rev. R. Eadie, of Bethany Church, Hintonburg, addressed the newly inducted pastor, and the Rev. Norman McLeod, B. A., B. D., of McKay Church, addressed the congregation. A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome leather-covered chair to the Rev. J. W. H. Milne, B. A., of the Glebe Presbyterian Church, who acted as moderator of the congregation during the time in which the pulpit has been vacant. The Rev. George Crombie, the venerable Chinese missionary, who has occupied the pulpit for the past five months, was also remembered by the congregation. He was made the recipient of a beautiful cane, suitably engraved. The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion and presented a bright and attractive appearance.—Montreal Witness.

[Rev. Mr. McLeod was pastor of the church at Greenfield Carleton County, last year, where he made very many friends.]

The New Priest of Debec and Benton Churches.

Rev. Father Murphy, curate at St. Dunstan's church, has been appointed parish priest at Debec, Carleton Co., to the charge left vacant by Rev. Fr. Carney when he was called to be pastor of St. Dunstan's. Rev. Fr. Murphy leaves at once to assume his new duties.

Rev. Father Murphy's home is at St. John and he came to Fredericton about two years ago as assistant to Rev. Father (now Bishop) Casey. During his residence and work in this city and parish he has made many friends both in his own congregation and among other denominations by faithful attention to the duties of his office, by his courtesy and many amiable qualities and by his Christian teaching and life. The people of Debec are to be congratulated upon having so worthy and accomplished a priest to minister unto them.—F'ton Gleaner.

The Anthem Again.

(Harper's Magazine)

The "Messiah" was sung recently in Philadelphia, and one of the anthems rendered by the chorus had as its theme, "We have turned everyone to his own way." As anthems go this sounded somewhat as follows: "Yes, we have turned, turned, turned—we have turned, yes, we have—we have turned, every one—to his, to his own way, own way—every one to his own way." The anthem involved several pages of music, and every time the chorus sang "we have turned, turned, turned," they proceeded to turn over to the next page, and then burst out again with "we have turned, turned, turned." A certain plain citizen, rather elderly, who sat well in the rear, not appreciating the delicate sentiment, was heard to mutter disgustedly, "Well, when you get through turnin' turnin' them golden pages, suppose you shet up about it."

Words of the Wise.

Seeing much, suffering much and studying much are the three pillars of learning.—Disraeli.

Life is a quarry out of which we are to mold and chisel and complete a character.—Goethe.

Do little things now; so shall big things come to thee by and by asking to be done.—Persian proverb.

That is true philanthropy that buries not its gold in ostentatious charity, but builds its hospital in the human heart.—Harley.

Good will, like a good name, is got by many actions, and lost by one.—Jeffrey.

I once asked my dainty, plainly dressed maid, why working-girls wore such unfit clothes on the street. "Well, you see, ma'am," she said, half in pity, half in defense, "the poor things have no other place to wear them." Do you suppose that that is why so many of their mistresses habitually do the same thing?—Helen Watterson Moody, in The Ladies' Home Journal for June.

Is the race to become extinct while our women hunt for a work higher than that which God gave them? It is infinitely lower work. What Woman's Club or Woman's Column can match the home which the wife and mother makes beautiful and sacred for her husband and sons? What are a thousand canvasses to a live child with its dimpled body and living soul?—June Ladies' Home Journal.

WEAK FROM INFANCY.

THE UNFORTUNATE CONDITION OF MISS ERNESTINE CLOUTIER.

As She Grew Older Her Troubles Became More Pronounced—Doctors Said Her Case Was One of General Debility, and Held Out Small Hope of Recovery—She is Now Well and Strong—A Lesson for Parents.

From the Telegraph, Quebec.

No discovery in medicine in modern times has done so much to bring back the rich glow of health and the natural activity of healthy young womanhood to weak and ailing girls as has Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Girls delicate from childhood have used these pills with remarkably beneficial effects, and the cherished daughter of many a household has been transformed from a pale and sickly girl into a happy and robust condition by their use.

Among the many who have regained health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Miss Ernestine Cloutier, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. G. A. Cloutier, residing at No. 8 Lallemand street, Quebec city. Mr. Cloutier in an interview with a representative of the Telegraph gave the following account of his daughter's illness and recovery: "Almost from infancy my daughter had not enjoyed good health, her constitution being of a frail character. We did not pay much attention to her weakness as we thought that she would outgrow it. Unfortunately this was not the case, and as she grew older she became so weak that I got alarmed at her condition. For days at a time she was unable to take out of doors exercise; she became listless, her appetite failed her, and as time went on she could not stand without supporting herself against something and at times she would fall in a faint. I called in a doctor, but his medicine did not help her and she was growing weaker than ever. Another physician was then consulted who pronounced her case one of the general debility, and gave me very little hope for her recovery. Some months ago while reading one of the daily papers I came across the case of a young woman cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I determined to give them a trial. After she had used about three boxes the color began to come back to her cheeks and she began to grow stronger. Greatly encouraged by this, she continued to use the pills for several months and now she is as well as any girl of her age. Her appetite is good and she has gained thirty-five pounds in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have built up her system and have made her healthy and active after doctors failed to benefit. I believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest known medicine for growing girls and I would advise their use in all cases similar to that of my daughter's. Miss Cloutier's story should bring hope to many thousands of other young girls who suffer as she did. Those who are pale, lack appetite, suffer from headaches and palpitation of the heart, dizziness, or a feeling of constant weariness, will find renewed health and strength in the use of a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Avoid eccentricities in note paper. Plain white unruled paper, of medium size, or delicate gray or very pale blue paper, may be used by a lady, but anything startling or bizarre violates good form.—June Ladies' Home Journal.
