PLYMOUTH.

Accounts of any kind from here seem to be a thing of rare occurrence so perhaps a few would not be out of place at this bright prosperous looking season of the year. The farmers of this place have all completed the annual spring work and the farms all look well advanced for the time of year, especially so since the much needed showers came on Monday of last week.

The majority of the farmers here are sending their milk to the Carleton County Creamery this year for the first time.

The last event of note of a public nature in this vicinity was a picnic and flag raising held on Empire Day when nearly sixty were present to witness the raising aloft of the British flag once again as a mark of loyalty. The flag was procured by means of subscription. It is 10ft. 6in. by 5ft. 3in. When the time arrived for raising the flag the teacher called the pupils to order and they then marched out of the school house carrying flags to the front of the building and sang "Raise the Flag" while the latter floated in the breeze, then followed cheers for the flag by all. After this all assembled in the school house where a short programme was rendered by teacher and pupils, consisting of readings, recitations and singing, nearly all of which had a bearing on either king, flag or country. A short address was given by the only clergyman present, Rev. A. D. Archibald, also one by Chas. Hand one of the trustees. Other gentlemen were called upon but declined on the plea that the picnic part or supper rather would be more appropriate just then. All were glad to see so many present since it was rather a busy time of year. Surely nothing will be lost by devoting at least one day in the year to our vast empire.

(Fredericton Gleaner.)

The rains of the past few days have caused a rise of about four inches in the river here and the water is yet coming up slowly. Lumbermen are very well pleased at the prospect of getting some of the hung up lumber out. Not only are the lumber operators themselves directly affected by having their logs hung up but many allied industries are interested. It means much less work for the boom company and the employment of fewer men to have 30 to 40 millions of logs hung up in the streams that are wanted in the booms; and then the millmen's business suffers for the want of logs. A large mill owner told The Gleaner a few days ago that unless some of the lumber now hung up on the headwaters was brought out that his mill would be compelled to shut down before the sawing season was half over. Therefore it is that the present heavy rains and rise of water have greatly encouraged the lumber industry.

John Kilburn left upon the Canadian Eastern train this afternoon for the head waters of the St. John in Quebec, and expects to get a large part of his lumber out which was hung up. He received a telegram from St. Francis on Saturday night from Mr. Sinclair, who superintend's Kilburn's drive, that there had been a big rise of water and that he intended to put a crew of men on the drive on Monday morning. Mr. Kilburn will take in another crew and will rush the driving to the utmost limit.

To-day's report from up river indicate good driving prospects. They are:

Edmundston—Rained hard all day Saturday and Sunday, and a little on Friday. River has risen about two feet since Saturday morning, and is now rising about an inch an hour.

Connors—It has rained here on Saturday and Sunday. River yet rising and logs running fast and in quantity from up river. Today is cloudy with east wind and looks like rain.

Clair—It rained hard Saturday, moderately Sunday and a little today. Water raised 18 inches—"Hung up" drives have started again. Pond is driving the corporation. Logs running very thick by here since yesterday morning.

Boer Losses for a Month.

Actions speak louder than words. The wasp can't talk, but he has a forcible way of expressing himself that renders words superfluous.—Chicago News.

It is a safe assertion to make that not one-third of the girls and women who wear aigrettes have the faintest conception of what they really are and at what cost they are secured—a cost which appeals with peculiar force and significance to every woman with the first instinct of maternity within her.—June Ladies' Home Journal.
