

The Responsibility of Mothers.

The mother of a successful man said to me, recently: I taught my children only two things, and those two things were to speak the truth and to respect their parents. In teaching the latter, I made a point of meriting the respect I demanded. I regarded the action back of the fifth commandment as more important than the commandment itself. While meriting their respect and their love, I have reiterated to them that I do not consider that they owe me anything. I brought them into this world without consulting them, and, therefore, the obligation is mine as long as I live. You will say the teaching is heresy; but, knowing how well-grounded is the principle back of it, I can afford to teach it. I feel absolutely sure of the result. Every child I have vies with the others to do me homage. The responsibility of a mother is only fulfilled when she has passed it on to her children, and it is revealed in a reciprocal measure that is referred to so illogically in the fifth commandment. There is an unexplored science back of the fifth commandment. The mothers of successful men have intuitive knowledge of that science.—Haryot Holt Cahoon, in July Success.

Time Well Spent.

Do not live a single hour of your life without doing exactly what is to be done in it, and going straight through it from beginning to end. Work, play, study, rest, whatever it is, take hold of it at once, and finish it up evenly, then to the next thing, without letting any moment drop between.

It is wonderful to see how many hours prompt people contrive to make of a day; it is as if they picked up the moments that the dawdlers lost. And, if you find yourself where you have so many things pressing upon you that you hardly know how to begin, take hold of the very first one that comes on hand, and you will find the rest all fall in line and follow after, like a company of well-drilled soldiers; and though work may be hard to meet when it charges in a squad, it is easily vanquished if you can bring it into line.

A man was asked how he accomplished so much in life. My father taught me, was the reply, when I had anything to do, to go and do it. Leisure Hours.

Digestion Without a Stomach

The fact that people live and digest food after the stomach has been removed proves that the important part of digestion takes place in the intestines. Hence it comes that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so wonderfully successful in curing chronic indigestion and dyspepsia. They act directly on the kidneys, liver and intestines, making them healthy active, and vigorous, and so insure perfect digestion and prompt removal of poisonous waste matter.

The Franco-Turkish Dispute.

Constantinople, Sept. 2.—The report that the Sultan has appealed to Germany to use her good offices to settle the dispute with France is confirmed. Germany, it is understood, will advise the Porte to settle with France as soon as possible. M. Bapst, Councillor of the French and the other member of the Embassy staff, took the guardship Vautsur on an excursion upon the sea of Marmora in order to avoid dressing the vessel as the other warships in the harbor were dressed, in recognition of the anniversary of the Sultan's accession to the throne, which was celebrated yesterday. The members of the Embassy did not participate in the congratulations of the Diplomatic corps, nor was the Embassy illuminated.

Turkish officials received only forty to sixty per cent of their salaries on the anniversary of the Sultan's accession.

Paris, Sept. 2.—Munici Bey, Turkish Ambassador to France has returned to Switzerland where he will remain until the controversy between the two countries shall have been settled.

Mr. Cleveland on Fishing.

Mr. Cleveland's next contribution to The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, will be an extremely readable paper, in which he sings the praises of his favorite sport. The Reflections of a Fisherman shows very pleasantly the genial "unofficial" side of the former President.

Nansen's Important Article.

In an early issue of The Saturday Evening Post, Doctor Nansen, the eminent Arctic Explorer, will describe the various pole seeking expeditions of the year. The importance of this paper lies in the author's comments, and his predictions as to the success of the different parties.

Several acres of his well cultivated farm which is nicely situated on the highland overlooking the village of Bristol, are occupied by fruit trees, principally apples, and different varieties of plums. The apple crop however, is very light this season, but the plum trees are well loaded, and he will market this year 500 boxes, besides supplying the local demand he also finds a ready market at different points from Edmundston to St. John.

WHY BABES CRY.

Some Useful Hints to Mothers on the Care of Little Ones.

Babies cry because they are sick or in pain, and in almost every case the sickness or pain is caused by some disorder of the stomach or bowels. Fermentation and decomposition of the food produce a host of infantile troubles, such as griping, colic, constipation, diarrhoea, simple fever, indigestion, etc. Proper digestion of the food is necessary to the maintenance of life, and evacuation of used up products and refuse of digestion is necessary to health. The lesson to mothers is, therefore, that the stomach and bowels should be carefully watched, and if baby cries, or is fretful or cross, some simple vegetable remedy should be given. Mothers should never resort to the so-called "soothing" preparations to quiet baby, as they invariably contain stupefying opiates. Baby's Own Tablets will be found an ideal medicine. They gently move the bowels, and digestion, and promote sound, healthy sleep, thus bringing happiness to both mother and child. They are guaranteed to contain no poisonous "soothing" stuff, and may be given with absolute safety (dissolved in water if necessary) to children of all ages from earliest infancy, with an assurance that they will promptly cure all their minor ailments.

For the benefit of other mothers, Mrs. Alex. Lafave, Copper Cliff, Ont., says:—"I would advise all mothers to keep Baby's Own Tablets, in the house at all times. When I began giving them to my baby he was badly constipated, and always cross. He is now four months old, has not been troubled with constipation since I gave him the Tablets, and he is now always happy and good natured. Mothers with cross children will easily appreciate such a change. I enclose 50 cents for two more boxes of Tablets, and will never be without them in the house while I have children."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. T., Brookville, Ont.

Apple Trifle.—The ingredients are 10 good-sized juicy apples, the rind of half a lemon, six ounces of fine granulated sugar, one-half pint of milk, one-half pint of cream two eggs and some whipped cream. Peel and core the apples, cut them into slices, and put them into a saucepan with two table-spoonfuls of water, and the minced lemon rind. Boil together until quite tender, then rub through a sieve; if it should not be quite sweet enough add more sugar, and put at the bottom of a dish. Make a boiled custard of the eggs, cream and milk, and when it has cooled a little pour it over the apples. Whip one half cupful of cream, having sweetened and flavoured it with lemon, heap it over the custard, and the dish is ready for the table. Sponge, angel or cup cake is very nice to serve with it.
