A Common Sort of Bore.

"If no better reason can be found, a decent consideration for the comfort of others should prevent one's talking of ailments," says Dr. John K. Mitchell in "Harper's Bazar." "Besides being bad manners, the subject is wholly without interest for any but the speaker; the hearer only listens more or less perfunctorily in hopes presently to seize the chance of telling her own melancholy condition. Besides, to talk of ills, mental or bodily, helps to fix them in the mind, to intensify them—and is all too apt to suggest the exaggeration of them in order to make a good round tale. Moreover, if you talk about them too much or too often, even the long-suffering physician may grow tired of being battered with symptoms whose catalogue he has heard recited a hundred times over, and thus the very means taken to impress them will bring about its own defeat. Still more determined, if you are nervous yourself, should be your stand against letting others talk of their ill to you. Even the healthy cannot stand the continual presentation of disease to them without liability to imaginary infection therefrom."

CURED TOTAL PARALYSIS!

It puzzles the Doctors and astonishes his patients how South American Nerve cures so many who are "given up to die"—it never fails.

"My wife was stricken with nervous prostration, which developed into total paralysis. We had hardly any hope of her recovery, but had heard of the great cures made by South American Nerve in cases of nervous troubles. We decided to try the treatment, and it was astonishing the results that followed the taking of three bottles—it worked wonders indeed. I feel I cannot speak too highly of this great remedy."

A Certain Bull's-Eye.

A sporting gentleman who has the reputation of being a very bad shot, recently invited some of his friends to dine with him. Before dinner he showed them a target painted on the barn door, with a bullet in the bull's eye. This he claimed to have shot at 1,000 yards' distance. As nobody believed him, he offered to bet the price of an oyster supper on it.

On one of his guests accepting the wages, he produced two witnesses whose veracity could not be questioned to prove his assertion. As they both said that he had done what he claimed he won the bet. At dinner the loser of the wager asked how his host had managed to fire such an excellent shot. The host answered:

"I shot the bullet at the door at a distance of 1,000 yards, and then I painted the target round it."

In This Locality.

The medicine dealers in this place say that there is no preparation on the market today that has anything like such an enormous sale as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Would this extraordinary demand for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills continue and gradually increase if people were not being benefited and cured by their use? Certainly not. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

An old man would not believe he could hear his wife talk a distance of five miles by telephone. His better half was in a country shop several miles away where there was a telephone, and the skeptic was also in a place where was a similar instrument, and, on being told how to operate it, he walked boldly up and shouted: "Halloa, Sarah!" At that instant lightning struck the telephone wire and knocked the man down, and as he scrambled to his feet he excitedly cried: "That's Sarah; every inch."

Nervous Depression and Bodily Weakness.

Another Woman Who Has Found Health, Strength and Vigor in the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

To women especially Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is proving to be a very great blessing. So many women are weakened and debilitated by overwork, worries or diseases peculiar to their sex, and need the assistance of just such a restorative as this great food cure.

Mrs. M. A. McCrea, Tory Hill, Ont., writes:—"My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to get rest or sleep at night, and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel altogether different. It has gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

Specify Details.

The tramp was very tired and sorely in need of something to devour. He approached a farm-house and, meeting the farmer's wife, observed:—

"Give me something to satisfy the cravings of the inner man, and I will kill all the rats about the place."

"Agreed," was the answer.

He was given a good plate of meat and bread, which he consumed speedily, and then asked for the heaviest mallet that could be found. Receiving the club he sat down upon the threshold and said to the farmer's wife:—"Now bring out your rats."

First application gave me instant relief, and in an incredibly short while I was absolutely cured."

The Up-to-Date Undertaker.

A Yankee undertaker advertises: "Why live and be miserable, when you can be comfortably buried for twenty dollars?" We shall expect something of the kind over here soon. Don't be surprised when you take up your morning paper if you read this sort of thing. "Billy Morgan looked down the barrel of his daddy's gun to see where the bullet went to when it went off. The funeral was handsomely conducted by Smith & Co., who have always a large staff on hand, and are open to bury the whole neighborhood at twenty-four hours' notice. A pound of tea given away with every coffin. Order early and avoid disappointment."

A Wink Not Indictable.

At an old settler's picnic near Goldsmith Saturday, Herman Salter had a wagon-load of mysterious looking half-pint bottles in an adjoining grove. He carried samples among the crowd; saying with a wink that he had a fine article of "tea" The bottles sold like hot cakes, and his load was soon disposed of, some of the thirsty ones buying three and four bottles. When the purchasers went to secluded spots to sample the liquor, they were disgusted by the discovery that it was really tea, and not whiskey, as they supposed. The tricky vender was arrested for obtaining money under false pretences, but was acquitted, the local magistrate holding that the goods were true to name, as represented; that the only deception was in the wink, and that winking was not an indictable offence.—[Kokomo (Ind.) Homemade Mats and Rugs at the Fall Exhibitions and Fairs.

The autumn exhibitions and fairs held in the various towns and cities of Canada this year, demonstrate the important fact that the ladies are deeply interested in the making up of pretty rugs and mats for bedrooms, dining-rooms, parlors and halls. We had the pleasure of examining some beautiful specimens of home work which commanded the attention of all visitors. In every case these pretty floor ornaments were made from rags, yarns and other materials colored by the popular Diamond Dyes.

Thousands of ladies are now engaged in the working of one or more of the artistic designs made by the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes. If your dry goods dealer has not yet put in a stock of Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns for your convenience, send your address to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain Street, Montreal, P. Q., and they will mail you free of cost their sheet of designs.

The Editor as Destiny.

The pecuniary difficulties in which aspirants for literary fame become involved have inspired many an anecdote.

"Here's a poem on the 'Emerald Isle,' sorr," said a frayed-looking individual to the editor of a weekly newspaper in a large town, "an' it's hoping you'll take it, Oi am."

"What is your address?" inquired the editor.

"That depends entoirely on you, sorr."

"Depends on me?" echoed the editor;

"what do you mean?"

"If you take the poem, sorr, me address will sthll be siventhy-wan King Shtrate," replied the sanguine poet; "but if you don't, take it, it's meself that'll be left without any address to me name, fur me landlady kapes her wurrd, sorr!"—London Spare Moments.

The Sufferings of Job.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured tens of thousands of cases and is absolutely guaranteed to cure each and every case of piles. 60 cents at all dealers or by mail from Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mother Was to Blame.

Jock and Annie were to get married, and she had confided to him that her age was twenty. After the ceremony and festivities were over they both went home and retired for the night. Annie's mother resided next door, and, being up early the following morning, thought she would give the happy couple a "rap up."

On the way to their door she suddenly remembered it was Annie's birthday. Knocking loudly at the door, she bawled out:—
Come away, Annie, get up; ye ken ye're thirty the day."

Jock, who was the first to hear the voice, astonished his mother-in-law by shouting:—
"For guidness' sake get up, Annie, for we've sleapit ten years."

Wonders of the Heart.

All the blood in the human body passes through the heart in about three minutes. The heart beats 70 times a second, 4200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day, throwing out 2½ ounces of blood a second, 656 lbs. an hour, 7½ tons a day. It is only when supplied with pure, rich blood that the heart, an organ 6 inches long by 4 inches wide, can accomplish this enormous amount of work and rebuild its own wasted tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective treatment available for heart affections because it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood and gives to it that life-sustaining quality which is necessary to the health of every organ.

Too Bad.—"I didn't see you in church last Sunday." "No. I was going, but at the very last minute I discovered that I didn't have a solitary cent for collection." Is that so?" "Yes; nothing less than a dime, and no place to get it changed."—[Philadelphia Press.

People Who Have Used It

Say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine affords wonderfully prompt relief for coughs and colds. Everybody has confidence in Dr. Chase's Linseed remedies. They have learned by experience that it says to insist on having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine instead of accepting the various unscientific "mix-ups" which some druggists offer as "just as good." Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine contains many of the most valuable and most effective remedial agents for throat and lung troubles that science has discovered. It acts so directly and promptly as to be of incalculable worth in all cases of croup, bronchitis and whooping cough.
