

THIEF ARRESTED.

Benjamin Schedule Arrested in New Brunswick for Stealing $96 July 4th.

When Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown of Woodland came to Caribou, July 4th, they locked up their house and naturally concluded that their savings of $96 were safe in a trunk in the building.

On returning home, that day, and before arriving at their house, they saw a man on a bicycle, leave their premises in a hurry. It was so far away that they did not recognize the man, but his actions were suspicious, and they drove up as quickly as possible, to find the door open. Upon investigation it was ascertained that the trunk had been forced open and the money (96) stolen.

Mr. Brown drove rapidly along the road taken by the wheelman and met two different parties, each of which said that Benjamin Schedule was the only man that had passed there and that he was riding a bicycle.

The missing thief was searched for in this village and although he had been here after the robbery, no trace of him could be found.

The next day Constable Jewell secured a warrant for Schedule's arrest but could not find his man, although he did find that Schedule had remained in Fort Fairfield on the night of July 4th, and that he went to New Brunswick the next day.

A description of Schedule was furnished Sheriff Foster of Woodstock, N. B., and that officer found his man near Hartland, Friday. Constable Jewell brought Schedule to Caribou Saturday and when he appeared before Trial Justice Small, he was bound over in the sum of $250 for his appearance at the September term of the supreme judicial court.

Unable to procure bail, Schedule is now a guest of Sheriff Gray at the County jail.—Aroostook Republican.

Growth of a Better Sentiment.

Saturday Evening Post: It is an extraordinary thing in American life that a man with wealth and opportunities should be content to go down into history as a corruptor of the State and the holder of an office which he could obtain only by the use of money. The result of such work is only too evident. It lowers the whole tone of the commonwealth, and stains even society and the Church. Bribery, whatever its form, by letting down the bars of morality, contributes directly, to crime, and its evil influences discourage and dismay people of good consciences, who give up hope and find recourse in that fatal indifference which expresses itself as, "What's the use? Money will win anyhow, and one dollar is as good as another."

Ever more extraordinary is that condition of mind which not only tolerates these men after they have succeeded in their plans and purposes, but in a way makes leaders and heroes of them. The effect is always bad. Public character and private honor both suffer. Good people become pessimistic and bad ambitious grow more bold.

Fortunately, however, there is a new tendency in our affairs, and there is coming a time when a man may not commit sin politically and then expect to keep a good name in private life. The two things cannot be dissociated. They must be judged by the same standards, and there is never a compromise between good and evil. The bought office disgraces not only the office itself, but its purchaser.

The Canadian Hay Trade.

From all parts of this province and eastern Ontario come reports that the hay crop is without doubt the heaviest and best ever remembered by the oldest dealers and farmers, and upon an average about seventy-five per cent. of it has been gathered in splendid condition. Although the great bulk of the crop will be clover and clover mixture, some splendid fields of timothy have been housed. One of our leading hay merchants made the statement that Canada would be able if called upon to export a million tons of hay from the present phenomenally luxuriant crop. The farmers, however, may consider themselves lucky if the export trade takes half that quantity, namely 500,000 tons during the coming year. It will be much more than was ever taken out of Canada in any previous year. The prospects are that the foreign demand for our hay will continue at a price, and provided farmers do not advance it above an export basis we may do a good business. About eight cars of old hay sold yesterday in our market at $10 for No. 2, and one lot of two cars partly No. 1 sold at $10.50 and one car of all No. 1 at $11. There still appears to be plenty of hay offering. Some new baled hay was offered to a party here for delivery at the beginning of next month, but the party did not want it, as it was considered too early to bale it, although it was got up in a perfectly dry condition. Regarding new hay a dealer stated yesterday: "There is such an enormous crop to market that I expect to buy No. 2 new hay at $6 per ton before long."—Montreal Trade Bulletin.

NO JOY IN LIFE

SO SAY THE SUFFERERS FROM CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA.

A Trouble That Makes the Life of its Victims Almost Unbearable—Causes Headaches, Heart Palpitation, Dizziness, a Feeling of Weariness, and a Distaste for Food.

From "L'Avenir du Nord," St. Jerome, Que.

Sufferers from dyspepsia or bad digestion are numerous in this country. Almost daily one hears some one complaining of the tortures caused them by this malady, and it is no uncommon thing to hear a sufferer say "I wish I was dead." And no wonder, the suffering caused by bad digestion cannot be imagined by anyone who has not suffered from it. The victim is a constant sufferer from headaches, heart burn, heart palpitation, and nausea. He has a bad taste in his mouth, is unable to obtain restful sleep and has always a feeling of unweariness and depression. But there is a sure cure for this trouble and it is found in the greatest of all known medicines—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Among those who have been cured of this distressing malady by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Alfred Chasbot, a well known farmer living near St. Jerome, Que. To a reporter of "L'Avenir du Nord," Mr. Chasbot told the following story of his illness and subsequent cure:—"For three years I was an almost continual sufferer from the tortures of bad digestion. After eating I felt as if some heavy weight was pressing against my chest. I was racked with violent headaches; my temper became irritable; my appetite uncertain; my nerves were a wreck and I was always troubled with a feeling of weariness. I was able to do very little work and sometimes none at all. Although I tried many remedies I was unsuccessful in my search for a cure until a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Any doubts I may have had as to the merits of these pills were soon dispelled, for I had not been taking them long before I noticed an improvement in my condition. I continued the use of the pills some weeks when I considered myself fully cured. Today I am as well as I ever was in my life, and would strongly advise all similar sufferers to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am sure that they will find them as beneficial as I have.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They make new, rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves and thus tone up the whole system. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Blondin Again.

Apparently the Boston police are convinced that the man killed at Benton recently was not Blondin. A despatch from Matane, Que., on Saturday says:—There is much encouragement for the Massachusetts detectives in the authentic report this afternoon that Joseph Wilfred Blondin, accused of murdering his wife at Chelmsford, Mass., was seen within a mile of this village this noon.

Mrs. Angelina Thibault and Miss Marie Louise Martel were passing along a wood road to a blueberry swamp just over the wooded bluff which overlooks the town and the river, when a strangely attired and unkempt man came out of the woods. He began to ask questions about the village and to where the road led, but the women became frightened and ran away without answering.

The women said the man was excited and asked them a number of questions about boats lying off the shore, who owned them, and if there was any sloop scheduled to sail for the north shore of the river. He talked French. They were frightened, they said, by the torn clothing.

A Sunday dispatch from Boston says:—A Quebec special to the journal says that three times today the man suspected of being Joseph Wilfred Blondin was seen in the woods off Matane. The place where the man was seen was within a short distance from the spot where he had been seen at least a dozen times before, but it is a thick forest.

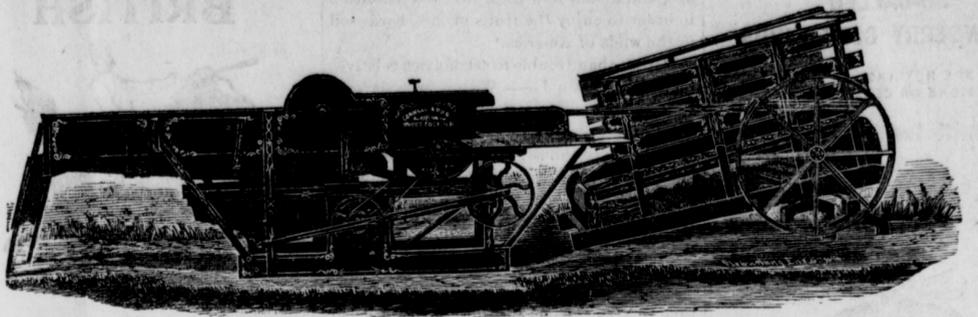

There is an element of success in every man, but he seldom gets it in operation until some smart waggon begins to tread on his heels.—Chicago "News."
