Football.

The citizens of Hartland were treated to a somewhat unusual spectacle on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being a game of football between the Hartland village team and junior team of Woodstock composed as follows:—

A. McLean, full back; Don Connell, left half; Willie Dalling, right half; A. Glidden, quarter; Forwards, F. McLean, Louis Milmore, Douglas Stevens, Claude McLean, Gordon Loane and George Mercer.

Play was commenced shortly after three o'clock, neither team being favoured by the wind, the Woodstock centre rush making a magnificent punt to Hartland's fifteen yard line, the ball being then returned ten yards before being downed. The ball was gradually brought near the centre of the field when the Woodstock team by a succession of gallant efforts brought the pig skin within a foot of Hartland's goal line. Here a desperate effort was made by the Hartland team to regain lost ground but all their efforts were unavailing. By superhuman effort the ball was hurled across the line making a touch down for Woodstock, which was easily converted into a goal by F. McLean. On the kick off made by Howe a magnificent stop was made by Milmore, a clear gain of fifteen yards resulting. The ball was carried back and forth by a succession of scrimmages during the remainder of the half. Shortly before the whistle blew, F. McLean was forced to retire from the game owing to an unfortunate injury.

After a rest of ten minutes the teams lined up for the second half, F. McRea being substituted for McLean. Hartland again kicked off, making a drive of twenty-five yards, but Capt. Milmore secured it for a gain of twenty-five yards. A line up for scrimmage followed, the ball after being passed going out of bounds. The ball was passed to Stevens who advanced five yards, a scrimmage now being formed, and in the melee Capt. Milmore received a severe kick on the side of the head but pluckily refused to discontinue the game. A number of scrimmages followed, the play being mostly on Hartland territory, but the referee's whistle blew without either side having scored during the half, leaving the Woodstock boys victorious by the score of 5 to 0.

The play was marked throughout by general roughness, a number of players on each side looking the worse for wear at the conclusion of the game. Although outplayed and outgeneraled by their younger and lighter opponents, the Hartland team possesses some excellent material which will no doubt be developed in the future. Capt. Howe, J. L. Fawcett, A. C. Carr, Frank Aiton and Arthur Curtis were among those who particularly distinguished themselves on the Hartland team. Roy McLaughlan refereed with general satisfaction. The boys returned to town feeling more than satisfied by the manner in which they had observed the birthday of King Edward.

Arrangements have been made between the captains for a return game to be played in Woodstock in the near future. The game will probably be played on Saturday the 23rd or on Thanksgiving day. The teams will line up as follows:—

McKinley-Hubble.

On Wednesday last Albert McKinley one of the employees of Connell Bros. Foundry was married in Houlton to Miss May Hubble. On Thursday at noon the employees met Mr. McKinley and presented him with two handsome rocking chairs and Mr. A. G. Fields on behalf of all present read him the following address:—

WOODSTOCK, November 6th, 1901.

MR. ALBERT MCKINLEY,
DEAR SIR,—We your fellow workmen having learned of a happy event, take occasion to offer you our sincere and hearty congratulations upon this an important milestone in your life and in asking you to accept this token of our good will and fellowship we will also take occasion to add that our hopes for a long and happy life for you and the lady who is your future partner in your joys and sorrows will be amply fulfilled. We trust that your years of married life will be filled with happiness and that your children will rise up to call you blessed. Again assuring you of our best wishes for yourself and Mrs. McKinley we beg to subscribe ourselves,

Town Council.

At the meeting of the town council on Friday evening Coun. Balmain for the fire committee delivered the following report on the investigation of the charge of Coun. Carr against Chief Tattersall for using insulting language to him.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Nov. 8th, 1901.
To the Mayor and Councillors of the town of Woodstock,

GENTLEMEN:—Your committee appointed to investigate the charge made by Coun. Carr against Chief Tattersall of the Fire Department, met in the council room on Wednesday evening, Nov. 6th. The charge was read over as follows:—

That the Chief of the Fire Department accused him (Carr) of having ordered the driver of the hose cart to turn back during the fire at Gallagher Bros.' stable of which he was not guilty, and that the chief addressed him in an ungentlemanly manner.

Coun. Carr on being sworn said: I saw the driver driving rapidly up Main street and all I said to him was that the fire was out. A few minutes after Mr. Tattersall approached me in the manner he did and told me to mind my own business and not to interfere with the driver after the fire bell rang. I did not tell Brown, the driver, to turn the horse back, and did not know that he had done so until after Mr. Tattersall spoke to me.

Your committee do not think the charge a very serious one and beg now to make the following suggestions and recommendations:

1st. That the general public be strongly cautioned against interfering with the chief of the Fire Department, the fireman, or the driver of the hose cart while in the discharge of their duty.

2nd. That we believe Chief Tattersall felt he was doing nothing but his duty in cautioning Coun. Carr not to interfere with the driver.

3rd. That we believe Councillor Carr in being the cause of the driver stopping and turning around on the hill was acting unintentionally.

4th. That in view of the trivial nature of the charge, and considering the loss of time your committee and others will be put to, and the expense to the town if the investigation proceeds (there being some seventeen witnesses to examine) and fully believing that no good purpose can possibly be served by the investigation proceeding further, we recommend that the proceedings be stopped and the matter considered as closed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. E. BALMAIN,
J. A. LINDSAY,
A. E. JONES,
Fire Committee.

Coun. R. B. Jones called the attention of the board to the fact that while the annual rental of the dwelling over No. 2 engine house was $75, in the last twenty-one months only $29 had been paid in. He thought the arrears of rent should be promptly collected. Another matter he wanted looked into was the fact that since July of last year the sum of $58.25 had been paid for police substitutes. He wanted to know if the council was paying twice for the same work, or if this sum had been deducted from the salaries of the officials whose work the substitutes were doing. These matters will be gone into at the next meeting.

Carleton County Court.

The Carleton County Court opened at the court house, Upper Woodstock, yesterday morning, His Honor, Judge Stevens, presiding. There was no criminal business. The civil docket was made up of seven cases as follows:

Mrs. Lizzie S. R. Lockhart, of Hartford, vs. Benjamin Wilson, for damages for killing a dog. W. P. Jones for plaintiff, and A. B. Connell, K. C., for defendant.

Thomas Kinney, of Jacksonville, vs. Frank Freeman, of Hartford, for breach of warranty of a horse. F. B. Carvell for plaintiff, and J. C. Hartley for defendant.

William Adam, of Clear View, vs. John Lorenzo and Elizabeth Lorenzo, an action on a store account. F. B. Carvell for plaintiff, and D. McLeod Vince for defendant.

John Corcoran, jr., of Holmesville, vs. W. Winslow Grant, an action of trespass for the defendant's cows entering the plaintiff's land. F. B. Carvell for plaintiff, and D. McLeod Vince for defendant.

Thomas Nelson of Jacksonville vs. Alexander Lindsay, of Lindsay, an action to recover money for work and labour. F. B. Carvell for plaintiff and D. McLeod Vince for defendant.

James W. Dalling of Woodstock vs. Robert White and wife, an action on a store account. F. B. Carvell for plaintiff and Wm. M. Connell for defendant.

Samuel R. Boyer of East Florenceville vs. William T. McArthur of the S. Hayward Co., St. John, an action on a breach of warranty of a horse. J. C. Hartley for plaintiff and George W. Fowler, Sussex, for defendant.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores color to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

Industry in Woodstock.

Some people complain that the Town of Woodstock is not making the commercial progress she should, but Woodstock is by no means lacking in the elements of commercial prosperity. It is true she does not do the same large proportion of the retail trade of this county that she did twenty-five years ago, for much of this has been absorbed by the smaller towns and villages that dot the county. The people of Woodstock should not resent the growth of these smaller towns, but should rather rejoice in the general prosperity of the county which they indicate.

As a rule poverty indicates ignorance and often vice, and we should welcome any increase in material wealth for the added comforts it gives and for the opportunities it offers for refinement and culture.

It is extremely gratifying to one who regards his native land with any degree of affection to observe the rise and growth of business centres, small or large, throughout this province. Carleton county is particularly blessed with these, for what other county can show such thriving villages as Hartland, Centreville, the two Florencevilles, Bath, Lakeville, Bristol, Debec, Benton, Victoria Corner and many other smaller places too numerous to mention?

If these places are growing, somewhat at the expense of Woodstock, then Woodstock must adapt itself to the new condition of affairs and direct its energies along lines in which it will not be affected by the competition of its neighbouring towns.

When one makes up the list of industries in Woodstock the thing does not look so sad: 3 foundries and machine shops, 3 carriage factories, 2 wood working factories, a wrapper factory, a woollen mill, a canning factory, a furniture factory, a creamery, a bakery, a saw mill, a tannery, a laundry, three newspapers, beside a large number of blacksmith shops and other smaller industries.

THE IMP.

There is a scrap in Religious Circles in Houlton. The Rev. G. E. MacIlwaine, pastor of the Unitarian flock invited the pastors of some of the other churches there to join in a Thanksgiving service in his church on Thanksgiving day. The invited pastors met, discussed the thing, and declined to join. Mr. MacIlwaine then preached a sermon on Fraternity and that sort of thing which he afterwards had published in the papers. He started out in a truly charming spirit, telling his flock about the high stepping doctrine he was sent to preach; telling them that they should not resent this cruel rebuff, but should turn their other cheek and allow that to get smashed also. He said it was their duty to be even nicer to these people than they had ever been before. This was truly christian, but in the next paragraph he got down and commenced to throw dirt. He reminded me of Mulholland who preached on the cattle boats where he sometimes got handled roughly. Mulholland said, "I turned my cheek to the smiter exactly as Scripture saith; And followin' that I knocked him down and led him up to grace."

Mr. MacIlwaine went on to tell his people that they had been turned down by the clergymen only of these other "sects" and not by the people generally. He said the "sects" were poor and could not pay their bills and could not afford to hire ministers with "the touch of the new century on their minds." So, he said, friends, we must contribute to their church schemes as we have done before and try to help them hire a better class of ministers. This was the substance of what Mr. MacIlwaine said.

It was now up to the other ministers to get into print and they did it promptly in the next issue. They said MacIlwaine was coarse and that he did not tell the truth. Who ever heard of MacIlwaine anyhow and where did he come from with this "touch of the new century on his mind. They said they got conglomerated in a Thanksgiving service with Mac last year and he made such a muss of the whole thing that they had to go and do it all over again without him a few days after. They then divided their objections to joining in with Mac into two blows.

First, Theologically, they did not think much of Unitarianism, and a lot of other good people sided with them.

Second, Fraternally, they did not think much of Mac.

I confidently await a reply from Mac. Since writing the above I have been reading Kipling's "Hymn Before Action" from which I quote

"For those who kneel beside us
At altars not thine own,
Who lack the light that guides us,
Lord! let their faith atone."
